

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

TWO OF AN UNKIND. One year ago we parted, One little year ago; She seemed quite brokenhearted, And I was somewhat so.

Tears lay upon the lashes Of her uplifted eyes, And there were frequent dashes Of tears in her replies.

She never would forget me, She promised me, and then To prove it true she let me Kiss her just once again.

Some letters sped between us While still the fever raged, But Cupid didn't mean us To love and be engaged.

For in her latest letter You'll find this gentle clause: "The reason that we'd better Stop writing is—because!"

Think, only just last summer Our parting made her cry, And here's a billet from her, She's married—so am I.

REVERSIBLE SWEATERS. The rage for reversible effects has reached the sweater. In the shops one sees charming long-coated knitted garments in two colors, made to be worn reversed, with collar and cuffs of the shade of the inside turned in. A very pretty example was a sweater of yellow and white. With the white side out, the trimming lay in the yellow collar and cuffs and satin-finished silver buttons. With the yellow side worn outward, the trimming consists of white collar and cuffs and brass buttons.

HE DIDN'T TOUCH THE HOME PLATE

Empire Saw It, But Athletics Did Not Make Nick New York, Oct. 26.—The run credited to Captain "Larry" Doyle in the tenth inning of today's game, which gave the New York Giants their second victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in the world's series, was not legally scored, according to a statement made after the game by Umpire William J. Klem, of the National league, who was officiating behind the plate as the umpire-in-chief. Doyle did not touch the plate, according to Klem, and if the Athletic club had made an appeal, the umpire said he would have declared Doyle out and the inning would have ended in a tie score. As it was getting dark the game could not have gone much further. In telling of the incident, Klem said: "When Murphy caught the ball in right field I set myself to see the plate on Murphy's throw. Doyle came in like a streak and made a long, wide slide into the plate. He went across with one leg back of the plate and the other over it about eight inches or a foot. He never got any nearer than that. I saw it plainly and waited. Usually I run to the dressing room when a game is over, but this time I stood at the plate for several seconds waiting to see if the Athletic players would appeal. Lipp evidently did not see that Doyle missed the plate, as he was busy taking Murphy's throw and probably took it for granted that Doyle had really touched the plate. None of the Athletics made the appeal and as I was about to move away McGraw, in passing from the third base coach's box to the players' bench, said to me: "Did you see it, Bill?" "I certainly did," I said. "What would you have done about it if they had appealed?" McGraw asked, and I replied that if the claim had been made that Doyle did not touch the plate I would have given my decision as I saw it, but you see what a mess I would have gotten myself into. "Well, I would have protected you," McGraw remarked as he walked away. "I would have declared Doyle out if the appeal had been made, but none was made." In his reference to a "mess" Klem meant that if he had entertained the appeal the New York players and their partisans would have made a tremendous protest against the decision.

Are You Nervous?

What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women. Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.
