

Atmospheric Vacuum Engine.—The Louisville Advertiser notices a new invention by Mr. Lanning for this city, which would be invaluable, if the principle could be successfully applied to a propelling or heavy machinery. It is an engine which is put into operation by atmospheric air, dispensing with boilers, water, and steam, and putting all danger of explosion out of the question. It is thus described:

"In its construction it is exceedingly simple. Two tubes, or chimneys, capable of bearing a pressure of fifteen pounds to the inch, are placed perpendicularly over a stove or furnace, from which a blue lead is each. The tubes have valves at each end. A fire is lighted in the furnace, the blaze of which ascends into one of the chimneys, (the other being closed by the valves.) This rarifies the air, which rushes through a pipe into a common cylinder, and moves the piston. The action of the engine shuts the first fire, in which a vacuum is created, while the heat and propelling force are changed to the other, producing the reverse motion. Thus heated air is applied to the common engine in the same manner as steam. With a slight fire we saw the engine put in motion, and, though but a rough model and upon a small scale, it afforded sufficient power to drive a common fanning mill, or wheat cleaner, with considerable rapidity. It will require less fuel than is necessary in working a steam-engine, no water, nor boilers. We understand that the inventor has received liberal proposals already, from men of capital, who have confidence in its complete success."

An Elephant Mistaken for the Devil.—When Van Amburgh moves about from place to place, the large elephant is made to travel on four legs, in the night, under the guidance of four East Indians, men of negro complexion in white dresses, three of whom ride on the animal's back, and one on his trunk. One night last week, as they were passing over Workshop Forest, the party came to a toll bar which was closed, whereupon one of them called "Gate!" when out came the toll keeper in his night cap to attend to the call; but, in observing the strange and unusual spectacle which presented itself to his dozy eyes, instead of opening the gate, was so terrified that he ran back into the house, exclaiming, "Devil's come at last!" and fainted away. So terrified was the poor man, that for several days he was ill as to be confined to his bed.

IT MAY SEEM RIGHT.
It may seem right to a man, to attempt to obtain a livelihood without industry and economy, but the end thereof is—hunger and rage.

It may seem right to a man, to live beyond his income, but the end thereof is—wretchedness and poverty.

It may seem right to a man, to be always trumpeting his own fame, but the end thereof is—his fame don't extend very far.

It may seem right to a man, to be constantly slandering his neighbors, but the end thereof is—nobody believes any thing he says.

It may seem right to a man, to attempt pleasing every body, but the end thereof is—he pleases nobody.

It may seem right to a man, to take no newspapers, but the end thereof is—that man and his family are totally ignorant of the ordinary occurrences of the day.

It may seem right to a man, to obtain his news by borrowing or stealing of his neighbors, but the end thereof is—annoyance to his neighbors, and fraud upon the printer.

Mercantile Probity.—"Well," said an old gentleman, the other day, "I have been forty-seven years in business, and can say that very few can show such experience; in all that time, my friend, I never de-appointed but one single creditor."

"Does me, what an example for our young mercantile community!" rejoined the person addressed; "what a pity that one time occurred! how was it?"

"Why," replied the old gentleman, "I paid the debt when it became due, and I never in all my life, saw a man so astonished as the creditor was."

Persons of the Inquisition.—Mis-Sedgwick says that the Prisons of the Inquisition, at Venice, are not more than six feet square, with windows, and a grating a few inches in length, which opens into a gallery, into which the only ray of light that ever came, was from the torch of the Turkish, when, one day, he brought the Prisoner his food. The French, when they came to Venice, found a man in one of these cells, who had been there for fourteen years. They set him free, and carried him in procession through the grand Piazza. The poor wretch was a Turk blind from the excess of light, and died in two or three days.

A Striking Fact.—(From an East Indian correspondent.) "In March last, as I was repairing to the native village of Bostom, to survey a bridge which was thrown across the road, on my route from the station of Jellison, on crossing the Sabourie river, my attention was attracted to a number of human skeletons, which lay scattered in various directions upon the white sands adjacent to the course of the stream. Upon inquiry, I learned that these unfortunate relics were the remains of pilgrims, who were on their road to the great pagoda at Juggernoo, and had been drowned two evenings before by means of a heavy rain striking with them during a violent north-wester. On my approaching several of these sad signs of mortality, I perceived that the flesh had been completely devoured from the bones by Parish dogs, vultures, and other obscene animals. The only portion of the several corpses I noticed that remained entire and untouched, were the bottoms of the feet and the insides of the hands, and this extraordinary circumstance immediately brought to my mind that remarkable passage recorded in the 23 book of Kings, relating to the death and ultimate fate of Jeroboam, who was, as to her body, eaten of dogs, and nothing remained of her but the "palm of her hands and the soles of her feet." The former narrative may afford a corroborative proof of the rooted antipathy that the dog has to prey upon the human hands and feet. Why such should be the case remains a mystery."

A Sheep-killing Dog cured.—Judge Peeters says he had a young dog, that singled a sheep so badly as to cause its death, and he had the dog muzzled and laid to the dead sheep for a day and night, giving him at the same time a severe whipping. It gave the dog such a distaste for mutton that he would never afterwards approach a sheep.

Nut for two Cowhiding.—A couple of gentlemen had a pretty big talk the other day in a store in N. York, which was concluded by one of them observing, "If you will step out into the street with me, I'll give you a cowhiding." "Oh, no," replied the other, laughing, "I wouldn't do it if you would give me two of them!"

Dr. Sherman's Medicated Lozenges.
SHERMAN'S COUGH LOZENGES, are the safest, most sure and efficient remedy for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Whooping Coughs, Asthma, Tightness of the Lungs or Chest, &c. The proprietor has never known an instance where they did not give perfect satisfaction.

Good News for Children.
SHERMAN'S WORM LOZENGES, are the greatest discovery ever made, for dispelling the various kinds of worms, that so frequently and distressingly annoy both children and adults. They are an infallible remedy, and so pleasant to the taste, that children will take them as readily as a common peppermint Lozenge. Many diseases arise from worms, without its being suspected. Sometimes a very troublesome cough, pains in the joints or limbs, head-ache at the nose, &c., are occasioned by worms, and will be easily cured by using this celebrated medicine. The following symptoms indicate the presence of worms: viz. head-ache, vertigo, torpor, disturbed dreams, sleep broken off by fright and screaming, convulsions, feverishness, thirst, pallid hue, bad taste in the mouth, a spasmodic breath cough, difficult breathing, sticking at the nose, pains in the stomach, nausea, squeaking, voracity, leanness, tenesmus, itching at the anus towards night, and at length dejections of film and mucus. One is a dose for a child two years old—two for one four years, three for eight years—and five for an adult, and should be repeated every morning or every other morning until relieved.

SHERMAN'S CAMPHOR LOZENGES.
These are a very pleasant, agreeable and efficacious article; an unfaultering remedy for low nervous spirits, nervous or sick headache, inflammation of the urinary tract, as well as all other complaints where the camphor is recommended.

The above medicines are for sale by Moffat's Vegetable Life Medicines.

THESE Medicines are indebted to their name to their medicinal and creditable action in purifying the system and channels of life, and causing them with renewed vigor and energy. In many kindred or blood cases which have been made a power, and in almost every species of disease to which the human frame is liable, the happy effects of MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS, and PHENIX BITTERS have been gratefully and purely acknowledged by the persons benefited, and who were previously unacquainted with the beautifully philosophical principles upon which they are compounded, and upon which they consequently act.

The LIFE MEDICINES recommend themselves in diseases of every form and description. Their first operation is to loosen from the coats of the stomach and bowels, the various impurities and crudities constantly settling around them, and to remove the hardened masses which collect in the revolutions of the small intestines. Other medicines only partially cleanse these, and leave such collected masses behind as to produce habitual constipation, with all its train of evil, or sudden diarrhoea, with its imminent dangers. The fact is well known to all regular anatomists, who can examine the human bowels after death, and hence the prejudice of these well informed turn against quick medicines, or medicines prepared and heralded to the public by ignorant persons.

The second effect of the Life Medicines is to cleanse the kidneys and the bladder, and by this means the liver and the lungs, the healthy action of which entirely depends upon the regularity of the urinary organs. The blood, which takes its red color from the agency of the liver and the lungs before it passes into the heart, being thus purified by them, and nourished by food coming from a clean stomach, courses freely through the veins, renews every part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the banner of health in the blooming cheek.

Moffat's Vegetable Life Medicines have been thoroughly tested, and pronounced a sovereign remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, Heartburn and Headache, Restlessness, Ill temper, Anxiety, Languor and Melancholy, Costiveness, Diarrhoea, Cholera, Fevers of all kinds, Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsies of all kinds, Gravel, Worms, Asthma and Consumption, Scarcy, Ulcers, inveterate Sores, Scorbatic Eruptions, and Red Complexions, Eruptive complaints, Sallow, Cloudy and other disagreeable Complexions, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Common Colds and Influenza, and various other complaints which afflict the human frame. In Fever and Ague, particularly, the Life Medicines have been most eminently successful; so much so that in the Fever and Ague districts Physicians almost universally prescribe them.

As that Mr. Moffat's queries of his patients as to the particular in taking the Life Medicines strictly as ordered by the directions. It is not by a newspaper notice, or by anything that he himself may say in their favor, that he hopes to gain credit. It is alone by the results of a fair trial.

Moffat's Medical Manual; designed as a Domestic Guide to Health—This little pamphlet, edited by Wm. B. Moffat, 375 Broadway, New York, has been published for the purpose of explaining more fully Mr. Moffat's theory of disease, and will be found highly interesting to persons seeking relief. It treats upon prevalent diseases, and the causes thereof. Price 25 cents. For sale by Moffat's agents generally.

These valuable Medicines are for sale at the Office of the Hillsborough Recorder.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.
A VEGETABLE and Universal Remedy, proved by the experience of its use to be, when properly prepared, a most certain cure in every form of the BILIOUS AFFECTION, all having the same origin, and especially in the UNIVERSAL BLOT of all diseases, namely IMPURE or IMPERFECT circulation of the BLOOD.

In a period of little more than three years in the U. S. they have restored to a state of health and enjoyment over ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND persons, who were given over as incurable by physicians of the first rank and standing, and in many cases when every other remedy had been resorted to in vain.

In all cases of Pain or Suffering, whether chronic or acute, whether it be distention of the bowels, or from some immediate cause, whether it be from internal or external injury, it will be cured by persevering in the use of these Pills.

This principle of purging with Brandreth's Pills, removes nothing but the excess of accumulated humors from the body—the morbid and corrupt portions of the blood, those humors which cause disease—they impede the functions of the liver when they settle upon that organ, and oblige, when they settle upon the muscles, produce rheumatism; or upon the lungs, produce consumption; or upon the kidneys, produce gravel; or upon the lining of the bladder, produce gonorrhoea and all the various disorders as mentioned to the sufferer and all who behold them.

Yes, purging these humors from the body is the true cure for all these complaints, and every other form of disease. This is no mere assertion—it is a demonstrable truth, at each day it is extending itself; for our wide and increasing knowledge, and more and more appreciated.

The cure by purging may more depend upon the laws which produce the disease, or upon the cause than by any other means. It is a true cure for all these complaints, and every other form of disease. This is no mere assertion—it is a demonstrable truth, at each day it is extending itself; for our wide and increasing knowledge, and more and more appreciated.
