

NEW TRIAL IS GRANTED CASS COUNTY MAN

William Rud, Convicted of Embezzlement, Wins Appeal to High Court

William Rud, convicted in the Cass county district court of embezzlement in connection with the affairs of the Great Northern Fuel and Material company, will be given another trial. This order was issued by the supreme court today in a decision in which it held that Rud's conviction was not justified by the evidence presented in the case.

"On another trial," it may be possible for the state to supply the deficiencies in proofs necessary to make its case," the decision averred. The point on which the state failed to offer sufficient evidence, the court held, was its charge that the net earnings of the company, of which Rud was president, treasurer and manager, were not as represented by Rud in reports to the board of directors.

TESTIMONY IN TRIAL WILL BE BROADCAST

Case Against Four Men in Connection With Tijuana Scandal Starts July 20

San Diego, Calif., July 14—(AP)—Although a Mexican law will exclude the public from the trial of four men at Tijuana July 20 on charges growing out of the "shame suicide" of one of the four members of the Thomas Petet family here last winter, arrangements are being made to broadcast the testimony from the border town.

The four accused men included Zandio Llanos, former chief of police of Tijuana.

A tug of war between this artificial lumber and ordinary wooden lumber was shown in the course of the picture.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the show will be repeated at the St. Hilare Lumber company's yards, and the public is again invited to attend. The show is free to all.

ADAMS AGAIN IS LEADER IN SENATE RACE

Recheck of Emmons County Vote Gives Independent 4-Vote Majority

Steele, N. D., July 14—John Adams, Independent, is again the nominee for the state senate on the Republican ticket in Emmons and Kidder counties.

According to advices received here today, a re-check of the vote in Emmons county, coupled with the official canvass of the result in Kidder county, gave Adams a net majority of four votes over C. A. Ward, Nonpartisan.

Returned the winner by two votes in the entire district on the face of the unofficial count, Adams was hailed as the victor until last Friday.

Then a check of the vote in Emmons county seemed to give Ward a margin in that county, and Adams accepted defeat.

Now comes the new check, and Adams wins the nomination by a majority of four.

As a result of the new shift in this district, the Independents stand again to win control of the state senate.
