FARM MANAGER TOUR SPENDING DAY AT MANDAN

Great Plains Station Inspected—Program Will Be Given Tonight

The caravan of 30 or more cars, carrying upwards of 100 farmers on the seventh annual tour of the Northwest Farm Managers' association, started on its sightseeing tour around Mandan this morning after dragging over heavy roads from Jamestown and arriving around mid-night.

Results of 11 years of study of pasture grazing trials were inspected at the United States Great Plains Field Station pasture section with Professor J. H. Sheppard, head of the farm management department of the agricultural college, United States Agronomist J. T. Sarvis, Superintendent John M. Stephens of the United States station and R. C. Newcomer, Morton county agent, in charge of the demonstration. The effect of different systems of intensities in grazing upon native vegetation were explained. Much of the western plains country has been damaged by over-grazing in the past and the 11 years experiment had demonstrated the safe and economic carrying capacity.

Visit Dairy Farm
The tourists visited the Sylvester and Daily dairy farm and inspected a mammoth trench silo. They also inspected the work being done towards institution of the Mandan U. S. Dairy Experiment Station. Congress created the station by passing an enabling act with $25,000 initial appropriation and a further $100,000 will be included in the agricultural department budget this year for the purchase of exceptional sires for service of the Slope farmers. The party inspected the great groves of trees developed at the government station without artificial watering and spent most of the day at the station. Tonight a program will be held in Mandan and early tomorrow morning the party leaves for New Salem to inspect the Holstein circuit farms.

Pioneer Citizen of Grant County Dies

Tim P. Daily, 69, pioneer farmer of Grant county, and organizer of the first creamery company launched in that section, died in a Bismarck hospital early this morning after a five weeks' illness with hardening of the arteries. His widow and eight children survive. Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning from St. Joseph's Catholic church in Mandan, interment taking place here.

Flashes of Life

(By The Associated Press)
Newark, N. J.—Twenty years ago Edward F. Reilly, then a porter, got a job as a janitor in a bank and proceeded to attend night school. Now, at 45, he is assistant secretary and treasurer of the Fidelity Union Trust company.

New York—As a reward for his heroism in voluntarily contracting yellow fever, John R. Kissinger has a nice home in Huntington, Indiana. It has been deeded to him by the American Association for Medical Progress. Serving in the army in Cuba, he let Dr. Walter Reed experiment with him and prove that the mosquito spread the disease. The ordeal left him a cripple.

New York—Only about 1,000 think they are beautiful enough to be chorus girls for Flo Ziegfeld and George White. About that number answered advertisements. The jobs total about one-fifth of the applicants.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Abe, Ike and Jake Waggoner are 71-year-old triplets who have come out of the mountains for a visit. They do not smoke, chew or drink and never have had a doctor. They are prosperous farmers near Maynardsville.

Rapid City—A noisy birthday will be Mr. Coolidge's. A cowboy band is to serenade him. Among other numbers will be "Yankee Doodle Boy, Born on the Fourth of July."

New York—And now the flying cigar store. A big plane, well stocked with smokes, is to tour the country advertising and selling a chain store's products. Sales will be made when the plane stops. The advertising will be continuous.

MAN GETS ALIMONY
San Francisco, Cal.—Years ago, Judge Thomas Graham announced that $50 a blow would be the assessment for wife beating. Now he has decided the rule works both ways. When J. M. Mulready received a divorce from his wife Judge Graham awarded him alimony of $450 and $750 for beatings she gave him.

HORSE TAKES A RIDE
San Mateo, Cal.—Becoming frightened in his stable, a horse owned by a dairy ran away up the state highway into the path of an oncoming sedan. The animal leaped into the air and crashed through the roof of the car, injuring all five occupants. The horse was shot to death.
