> RUSSIAN SUBMARINE SINKS. Twenty-one Persons Are Drowned

Through Terrible Accident. St. Petersburg, Russia.-The submarine boat Delfin sank at her moorings in the Neva with the loss of Lieutenant Cherkasoff and twenty men. The officers and the men detailed for submarine boat instruction had assembled and three officers decided to go down in the Delfin, although her captain was not present, relying on the experience of her skilled crew. A score of novices were anxious to go. The Delfin's nominal capacity is ten men, instead of which thirty-two entered the boat, bringing her manhole in dangerous proximity to the river

Just then a tug passed, sending a heavy wash against the boat. As soon as the water splashed into the submarine boat's interior it created a panic among the novices and one of them tried to get out of the manhole, which the older hands were screwing down preparatory to the descent, the submerging compartment having already been opened. The water rushed in, and as the submerged vessel sank the officers and some of the men were saved by being blown up through the manhole by the rush of escaping air. The Delfin shortly afterward was raised. The Delfin is Russia's best submarine boat. She underwent a successful trial in 1903, following the Cronstadt squadron to Reyal.

Result of National Convention at Indianapolis - General Nelson A. Miles

Declined the Nomination.

Indianapolis, Ind.-General Nelson A. Miles having declined to permit the use of his name in the Prohibition Kuropatkin's Positions-Jap Armies National convention, Silas C. Swallow, of Harrisburg, Pa., was nominated for President by acclamation. George W. Carroll, of Texas, was made the Vice-Presidential nominee.

The telegram from General Miles eliminating himself as a candidate for President was dated New York and fifteen miles east of Port Arthur and addressed to John W. Woolley. It

"Appreciating the good will of yourself and friends, I must earnestly request that my name be not used in the aghting. The Sungshoo fort was convention, and that my letter of June

"NELSON A. MILES."

Much disappointment was expressed at the action of the General, but it was not permitted to dull the enthusiasm that the nomination of Swallow aroused. Mr. Swallow was not present at the convention, having been detained by the illness of his wife. While waiting for the Platform Com mittee to report, an unusual scene was enacted in the convention. While singing "Praise God, From Whom All Blessings Flow," and "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," subscriptions were called for. Several persons subscribed $1000 each, several $500 each, and on down with smaller amounts, until the sum of $23,000 was raised as the nucleus of a campaign fund. The chief plank in the platform adopted is as follows: "We pledge the Prohibition party, wherever given power by the suffrage of the people, to the enactment and enforcement of laws prohibiting and abolishing the manufacture, importation, transportation and sale of alcoholic beverages." The platform also called for reform of the divorce laws, indorsed international arbitration, denounced polygamy, favored the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people, the principle of the initiative and referendum and the application of justice to all combinations of capital and labor. Dr. Swallow is sixty-five years old.

He is now editor of the Pennsylvania Methodist. In 1897 he was nominat 1 for State Treasurer of Pennsylvania by the Prohibitionists. He polled 118, 000 votes-five times the usual Prohibition vote. In 1898 he was the Pro hibition and Honest Government candidate for Governor and his vote was ended June 30, shows that the expenditures exceeded the revenues by $41,-352,326, the receipts aggregating $541, 186,745 and the disbursements $582, The expenditures, however, include

$50,000,000 paid for the Panama Canal right of way and the $4,600,000 loan to he Louisiana Purchase Exposition, which are not properly to be counted in the regular expenses of the Government. Excluding these two items there would be a surplus of $13,24%. 674, against an estimate of $14,000,000 made at the beginning of the fiscal year by the Secretary of the Treasury. Compared with the revenues of the previous fiscal year the revenues show falling off of $17,700,780, while the disbursements increased $21,762,481. All and more of this decrease was in the revenues from customs, which amounted to $262,068,483, or $21,323,-235 less than in the fiscal year of 1903. The receipts from internal revenues aggregated $232,435,695, exceeding those of the previous year by $2,320, 440. The increase in expenditures was mainly in the Navy, which expended a total of $102,757,073, or $20,061,271 more than last year. The item for pensions also shows an increase of nearly $4,000,000, on account of the service

The receipts for customs were reduced between $6,000,000 and $8,000,-000 by the operations of the Cuban reciprocity treaty.

The railroads estimate that one-third of the shipments will go to New York, about fifteen per cent, to Philadelphia, and
