INDUCED Nervous Prostration

Complete Recovery by the Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I find my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HIXSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

Letters From Jimtown

By WILLIAM DANA WILCOX.

This book purports to be a series of letters from a Chicago journalist who is taking a vacation at Jimtown. These letters tell how the people of Jimtown were converted to silver by a series of speeches and carterone arguments, all of which are faithfully reported. The book is illustrated with a dozen or more outline cuts, after the order of "Coin," and closes with a free silver text book—Little Rock Press.

"Letters From Jimtown" is a new book just out, published by Charles H. Carr & Co., 56 Fifth Av., Chicago, Ill., a copy of which has reached our desk. Its pages contain a knock-down argument and place the gold standard policy in a ridiculous position. We take this method of thinking the publishers for the welcome little book—Little Rock Press.

"Letters from Jimtown" presents the money question so plainly that even the simple minded can thoroughly comprehend the theories advocated. It is written in a style that pleases the reader and deals especially with the doctrine of free coinage—Texas Independent.

It handles the money question in a masterly manner and it is done in such a way as to be interesting in every letter. The writer of the letters visits Jimtown in the country to regain his health. He describes to a chum the changes that have occurred since he formerly lived on a farm near Jimtown village. He gives the yield and prices of grain compared with former years and the opinions of the farmers in regard to the cause of such change. Political meetings are held and he reports the speakers. Tariff, gold, silver, contraction, "honest money," all come in for notice and each position is argued in earnest to give all available argument in support of the position. The book is well written and it covers seemingly every argument put forth by the money marks to deceive the people. It should be in every reform library—Sledge Hammer, Mendocino, Pa.

News Item at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla was the extraordinary distinction of having been the only blood purifier allowed an exhibit at the World's Fair, Chicago. Manufacturers of other Sarsaparillas sought by every means to obtain a showing of their goods, but they were all turned away under the application of the rule forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums. The decision of the World's Fair authorities in favor of Ayer's Sarsaparilla was in effect as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums. It is here on its merits."

Dr. Eastorday, of Albuquerque, was called to Pejorito, and there is a rumor afloat in that city that a fine baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Hubbell.

A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morrison, of Worthington Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache, and as a general system tonic it has no equal. Mrs. Annie Stohle, 2635 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor sleep, had a backache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 60 cents and $1.00. Get a bottle at Murphy-Yan Petten Drug Co's. drug stores, Las Vegas and East Las Vegas, at wholesale by Brown & Manzanara Co.

Las Vegas, meaning "The Meadows," is the county seat of San Miguel county, lies on both sides of the Gallinas river, and with its suburbs, has about 10,000 inhabitants.

It has water works, street cars, and incandescent electric light plant, telephones, exchanges, Territorial agricultural experiment station, headquarters of the Atchison railway system, New Mexico division, together with railroad machine shops and tie-processing works, stock yards, and the largest sheep shearing and dipping plant in the United States.

West of the river, the old town has the quaint and picturesque Mexican appearance—adobe houses, narrow, crooked streets, native pipe and customs, handicrafts and occupations; but the plaza and all of the new town, east of the river, constitute a distinctive American city. The streets are wide and well graded, while sidewalks abound, shaded with growing trees. Three parks, filled with grass and flowers, add to the beauty and healthfulness of the place. Handsome and well-filled stores, beautiful residences, and numerous lawns, set in grass and adorned with shrubbery and flowers, combine to proclaim a cultured community, possessed of all modern comforts and conveniences.

A city hall, three public school buildings, court-house, Masonic temple, opera house, Territorial Normal school and Territorial Insane asylum are public buildings, constructed of red and white cut sandstone, unsurpassed in beauty by similar edifices in any town, of equal size, in the States.

An Academy, Seminary, Jesuit college, Convent school, Pre-terian Mission school, Methodist manual training school, Christian Brothers' institute, City high school, three graded public schools, a kindergarten, a commercial school and two music schools, besides several private teachers, are among the educational advantages and facilities.

Las Vegas is the natural annularium of the United States, and offers many natural advantages than any other place in America. Her hot springs waters are the equal of the Hot Springs of Arkansas, while her climate is infinitely superior. There is no malaria, no excessive heat or cold, no gnats, rats or mosquitoes. The air is pure, dry, rarified, and highly electrified—a certain cure any consumption, if the disease be taken in time. The hot waters are a specific for liver, skin, rheumatism and blood disorders. The Grand Hotel is the finest hotel in the Territory (Chicago and California), and is situated in the beautiful canyon, where the mountains where the Hot Springs forty in number, come boiling to the surface.

The altitude is about the same as that of central Tennessee, in the States,
