

IDEAL WOMEN OF THE PAST

Live in History as the Inspiration of Men Who Led the World in Art and Learning.

"All inspiration comes from women." In these words Castiglione sums up medieval ideas and theories on the subject. Here it is to inspire men with hope and courage on the battlefield and in the council chamber, in the pursuit of art and learning, in the higher paths of virtue and religion, to point the way upward and lift hearts from earth to heaven.

So it was that the boy Raphael grew up in the enchanted air of Urbino under the fostering care of the good duchess: so Isabella d'Este heard young Ariosto recite the first cantos of his great poem, or gave Mantegna and Costa themes for their pictures in the studio of the grim old castello that looks down on the Mantuan lakes and the windings of "smooth-sliding Minerva."

So Veronica Gambara smiled on the early efforts of the painter Correggio, and Vittoria Colonna soothed the loneliness of Michelangelo's weary old age.

By their delicate culture and refined taste these noble women brought art into close touch with life.

By their gracious and kindly sympathy they cheered the artist souls that were struggling toward the light, and helped to produce immortal works.

Will posterity say as much for the women of our own age?—Exchange.

A gentleman, while taking a morning walk down a country lane met a boy driving some pigs to market.

"Who do these fine pigs belong to?" asked the gentleman.

"Well," said the boy, "they belong to that their big sow."

"No, my boy," said the old gentleman; "I mean who is the master of them?"

"Well," replied the boy, "that their little un; 'es a beggar for fighting."

THOUGHT SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Unionville, Mo.—"I suffered from a female trouble and I got so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without holding on to something. I had nervous spells and my fingers would cramp and my face would draw, and I could not speak, nor sleep to any good, had no appetite, and everyone thought I would not live.

Some one advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had taken so much medicine and my doctor said he could do me no good so I told my husband he might get me a bottle and I would try it. By the time I had taken it I felt better. I continued its use, and now I am well and strong.

"I have always recommended your medicine ever since I was so wonderfully benefited by it and I hope this letter will be the means of saving some other poor woman from suffering."

Mrs. MARTHA SEAVEY, Box 1144, Unionville, Missouri.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Don't Persecute Your Bowels. Cut out cathartics and purgatives. They are brutal, harsh, unnecessary. Try CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

GERMAN ATTACK ROUSES WRATH

ORDUNA WESTWARD BOUND, WITHOUT CONTRABAND OR MUNITIONS, SHELLED WITHOUT WARNING.

22 AMERICANS ON SHIP

NOTE TO GERMANY MAY BE BRIEF AND POINTED, AS RESULT OF LATEST SEA INCIDENT.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

New York, July 26.—The Cunard liner Orduna, bound from Liverpool to New York, with 227 passengers, including 22 Americans, was attacked without warning, it was learned on her arrival here Saturday, by a German submarine on the morning of July 9.

Twenty miles from the graveyard of the Lusitania off Old Head Kinsale, the Orduna escaped the Lusitania's fate by one-half second of time or ten feet of space—the German torpedo churning the water that distance behind the liner's rudder.

Then the Orduna sped away. She was followed by the submarine, which rose to the surface, manned a gun on her deck and shelled the fleeing steamer. Only the escape of the Orduna prevented a repetition of the Lusitania disaster which precipitated the crisis between the United States and Germany.

The attack on the Orduna was timed at ten minutes to six o'clock in the morning when all but a few of her passengers lay sleeping in their berths.

London.—An Austro-German ultimatum to Rumania is being prepared, according to the Moscow Ruakoye Slovoe.

Washington.—Into the grave situation that has developed between the United States and Germany over the sinking of the Lusitania, was thrust another issue, when it was revealed that the British steamer Orduna carrying a score of Americans, had been attacked by a German submarine.

Should first reports of an attempt to torpedo without warning be borne out by the official investigation it was indicated in official quarters that the United States probably would regard the incident as adding a grave element to the already strained relations between the two countries.

Loss of $50,000 Caused by Hail. Colorado Springs.—Damage estimated at $50,000 was caused here Sunday when a heavy hail storm, sweeping east from the mountains, paralyzed street traffic, broke windows and skylights and wrecked the street lighting system of the city. The hail followed heavy rains throughout the day. So heavy was the fall that automobile tops were broken through, street cars were forced to halt and great plate glass windows in stores were demolished. Every pane of glass in many lamp posts were broken into fragments, making a loss to the electric light company of more than $3,000. Skylights crashed in from the weight of the hail. Every greenhouse in the city was demolished.

Milledgeville, Ga., July 19.—Leo M. Frank, whose death sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan recently was commuted to life imprisonment by Governor Slaton, was attacked by one prisoner at the state prison here Saturday night. His throat was cut. Prison officials said that the attack on Frank was made by William Green, who also is serving a life term for murder. The attack on Frank, which was made shortly after 11 o'clock, was made from behind and precipitated a riot. The assailant used a butcher knife. Frank's jugular vein was cut, but neither the spinal cord nor the windpipe were injured, and the doctors say he has a chance to recover. Green expresses regret for his act.

WESTERN MINING NEWS IN BRIEF

Western Newspaper Union News Service. Metal Market Values.

Lead, New York, $5.65. Bar silver, 47 1/2c. Spelter, St. Louis, $30.60. Copper, casting, $19.25.

Arizona. The miners strike at Ray has been settled.

Dodd & West are shipping copper ore from the Union mine near the Pet Savage and Gibson properties in the Miami district.

A production of 40,000,000 pounds of copper, against 33,000,000 pounds in 1914, is expected to be Miami's record for the current year.

In the aggregate, $55,000 worth of gold bullion was shipped to the United States mint during June by the Gold Road Mining Company of Outaoua.

The revival of the mining business in the Southwest during the last few months is depicted by receipt of news in Douglas that the El Paso smelter, having more business offered it than it could possibly take care of, is now "farming" out its customs ore contracts to the Hayden smelter.

New Mexico. An advance of 10 per cent in wages was declared July 1 by the Chino Copper Company to its employees.

Rich silver-lead-copper ore bodies have recently been uncovered in southern Grant and Luna counties.

A Pecos valley oil well has attained a depth of 1,000 feet, and it is thought 400 feet more will develop a flow of commercial value.

The Mogollon mining camp is reported making large shipments of bullion to New York, the total thus far exceeding last year's output by a large margin.

Word received from Columbus tells of an oil discovery almost on the boundary, six miles southeast of Columbus. There is a rush for the new field and fifty claims have been staked.

It is something of a mine that can output 70,000,000 pounds of copper annually, the amount the Chino Company hopes to produce soon at a cost of from 7 to 8 cents per pound, which should permit a dividend of 20 per cent on the capital stock.

Wyoming. Jesse Swift reports that rich ore was struck in the Rambler mine.

The Midwest Sulphur Company of Cody has mined and shipped nine cars of sulphur, amounting in all to 270 tons, in the last thirty days.

Efforts are being made to interest officers of the Butte & Superior mine at Butte and all other zinc producing mines in the western United States in the new natural gas fields, which have been discovered near Casper.

Active work will commence in the Basin oil fields in the next few days. The California people, who have a lease on the Torchlight, are making preparations for active work. They are now looking over the field with the view of drilling a well for water to be used in oil drilling.

Colorado. A Telluride correspondent states that that district never had as bright an outlook for longevity as at this time.

Durango, in La Plata county, reports that the May Day and Idaho are making their regular shipments to the Durango smelter.

Batemann and Hansen, leasing on the 400-foot level of the Specimen mine on Bull hill, have uncovered an unusually rich streak of smelting ore.

The various leaders on the C. O. D. property, controlled by Cripple Creek business men, are doing quite well, and the outlook is bright for increased shipments.

In Rico district the month of June showed a steady increase of ore shipments and also a steady revival of interest from outside sources in this famous old camp.

Colorado's second gold county, San Miguel, shows a gain of 66 per cent in ore lifted during the month of June, comparing the present season with the average shipments per month in 1914.

It is estimated that in the neighborhood of $50,000 worth of placer gold was taken out during June in the Breckenridge district by the four gold dredging boats and the high-bank placer miners.

Cripple Creek produced 60 per cent of the total 1914 gold yield of the state, with a yield of $11,996,116, as compared with $10,905,903 in 1913. This is the largest production for any one year since 1908. Cripple Creek, to the end of 1914, has produced $258,780,653 in gold.

Breckenridge, the gold nugget district, reports that the Dunkin lease, on Nigger hill, shipped fifty-odd tons of lead carbonate a few days ago to the Chamberlain sampler.

Ross and Camminisch, leasing on the 400-foot level of the Monument mine, Cripple Creek, are sending out a heavy tonnage of $30 ore and a handsome net earning is resulting.

Lessees on the Howard shaft, a portion of the Mary McKinney mine at Cripple Creek, are reported as making a splendid earning. Heavy shipments have been in order for a long time.

The output of Colorado mines during 1914, according to figures compiled by Charles W. Henderson of Denver, of the United States Geological Survey, was $19,883,105 in gold, $796,065 ounces of silver, 72,311,595 pounds of lead, 6,239,172 pounds of copper and 26,774,954 pounds of zinc (in terms of spelter and zinc in zinc oxide), with a total value of $23,460,196, compared with $18,346,916 in gold, $325,255 ounces of silver, 87,897,773 pounds of lead, 7,237,826 pounds of copper and 119,346,439 pounds of zinc, with a total value of $25,460,256 in 1913.

SHUNNED BY THE MEXICANS

Caves Supposed to Be "Possessed by the Devil," Into Which None Willingly Enter.

"Ancient caves in different parts of Mexico often contain the skulls and bones of former inhabitants, whether prehistoric or of later times, sometimes containing the fashioned flint implements.

"The natives, as a rule, fear to go into these places. 'Do not enter, seniors,' they will say, as with Anglo-Saxon lack of superstition you determine to explore them; 'some evil befalls those who meddle with the remains of the dead.'

"And if they are prevailed upon to assist they cross themselves devoutly before descending or entering. Weirid tales they unfold afterward of men who have gone into such places and found their exit barred by some evil spirit, they themselves having been encountered dead and cold upon the cavern floor when discovered by their relatives, who had searched for the missing one!

"According to the pens, the scenes of murder or wickedness which may have taken place in such situations are enacted again to the terrified vision of the unhappy witness who had the temerity to venture into these places possessed of the devil, for the king of darkness is an ever-present and active element of the poor Mexican's superstitious world."

Some Refreshment. An admiral, during the maneuvers at Newport, told a story at a garden party.

"The navy is as abstemious from ethical reasons," he began, "as Old Stingo was from miserliness.

"Old Stingo was entertaining a boyhood friend one evening at his shore cottage. After a couple of hours of dry talk the old fellow said, genially: 'Would you like some refreshment—a cooling draft, say—George?'

"'Why, yes, I don't care if I do,' said George, and he passed his hand across his mouth and brightened up wonderfully.

"'Good!' said Old Stingo. 'I'll just open this window. There's a fine sea breeze blowing.'

How She Looked. "I lost a dollar at the matinee this afternoon, remarked the fleshy woman to her husband, 'and I never was angry in my life.'

"'How'd it happen?' asked the man.

"'I dropped it in the aisle,' she answered shortly, 'and I looked for it—that's all I could do.'

"'Did you look good?' persisted the head of the house.

"'Did I look good?' shrieked the woman, really angry now. 'I looked as good as a fat woman crawling around on all fours ever does.'—Collier's Weekly.

The Ages of Man. Smuggs—Say, Juggs, who are those three gentlemen standing at the conservatory entrance?

Juggs—Why, they represent three generations. The ruddy old man with the head of hair, Buggs—the thin-haired one next to him is his son, and the disipated fellow with the bald head is the grandson.—National Monthly.

Logical. "Why are you so violently opposed to woman suffrage?"

"Women haven't got the intellect to grapple with problems of state. Why, even we men don't know what we're talking about half the time when we're discussing politics."

When a man becomes thoroughly contented he has outlived his usefulness.

The game of lacrosse is of purely Red Indian origin.

Not So Lucky. "Scaddy is a lucky chap. He's got a country estate on the Hudson, a hunting camp in the Adirondacks and a bugalow at the seashore."

"Yes, and his wife refuses to go to any of them. She insists that he find some new place to spend the summer."

Counter Irritation. "Does that man wake you up at six o'clock in the morning, running the lawn mower?"

"Not any more. I get up at five and ask him to lend it to me for an hour."

The earliest record of any life insurance policy bears the date of June 15, 1583.

Most people can stand poverty better than prosperity—because they are used to it.

Her Bright Outlook. "How are you going to spend the summer?"

"Pa's rented a cottage again, and I suppose I'll spend it in the kitchen cooking fish for our city friends to eat, the way I did last year."—Detroit Free Press.

Would Hurt Business. "Are you still selling those illuminated signs reading, 'Nix on war talk'?"

"No. I got discouraged and quit."

The Cure. "June—Aren't you just crazy about flats?"

"Ann—Not since I married one."

There Are Others. "Mars has high aims these hot times."

"Yes, and so has Mercury."

Turners Make Good Soldiers. "More than 15,000 German turners have been decorated with the Iron Cross since the world war was declared," writes Dr. Hugo Ruehl, secretary of the Deutsche Turnerschaft, in a letter to George Brosius, veteran Milwaukee turnmaster. In commenting upon the ability of turners as soldiers, Professor Brosius says: "The exceptional training that turners are given in Germany makes them most efficient as soldiers. There are more than 800,000 serving the kaiser, in their gymnastic training, long marches have always played an important part."
