Not a Fight Against the Incorporation of the Town

Shakespeare says: "There is a tide in the affairs of men, which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune." Conversely: "There comes a tidal wave in the affairs of some men, which carries them out into the sea of oblivion."

Every human has some good qualities, and we believe in recognizing them, but when a man uses the ability and energy that the divine creator has given him in selfish schemes to satisfy an insatiable ambition to obtain public prominence, and after obtaining such positions, to debauch his office and juggle with the confidence of the people, the growing tide of distrust and resentment against such a character and his methods MUST sooner or later engulf him.

† † † †
The latest scheme of our brilliant contemporary (who according to his own advertising, "Stands for Purity and Honesty in Politics") to utilize the voting power of a non-tax-paying element to gain a position from which to dictate and demand further prominence in the political field has been frustrated by an indignant body of taxpayers representing the heart of our town — all of whose interests are vitally at stake and who repudiate this insincere political schemer.

This opposition has brought forth a torrent of vile and illiterate invective from our would-be competitor in the newspaper field. He bluffs, he whines, he smirkingly appeals to the "dear people," brazenly trying to convince those who know him only too well that he stands for all that is pure and good and noble. No more convincing proof of the versatile character of this man can be found than in the columns of his own "joke" sheet.

This man has been given the highest and most honorable positions in the gift of our precinct and county voters. He has been aided time and again by our local business men in promoting his numerous business enterprises.

NOW, WHAT IS THE RESULT?

Why did he resign the U. S. Commission?—his position as assistant postmaster? What is his full and complete record as school director—as justice of the peace? How did he acquit himself as our honorable representative in the Territorial Legislature? How many of his numerous bills were enacted? What is his reputation among the legislators? What is his record as county surveyor?

NO—this is NOT a fight against the incorporation of this town, but a united stand by business men most vitally interested in the welfare of Roy against a professional political schemer who is and has been a disgrace to our community and dangerous to the peace and harmony of its citizens.
