OFFICIAL PAPER OF SOCORRO COUNTY.
SATURDAY, JULY 9, 1904.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET.

For President,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT
For Vice-President,
CHAS. W. FAIRBANKS.

The Albuquerque Journal gives occasional indications that it still has the Bernalillo county gang in its "mind's eye."

The question now is, Does anybody really feel more patriotic for having helped to raise the regulation Fourth of July hullabaloo?

Work into the man who becomes a candidate for office in Socorro county next fall. The long drouth has caused many to thirst with exceeding great thirst.

Every great measure of Roosevelt's administration has already received the endorsement of the American people. Now for an endorsement of Roosevelt himself.

The New Mexico School of Mines may safely challenge a comparison between its record for usefulness and that of any other educational institution in the territory.

Prof. Atwater of Wesleyan university is an advocate of the use of "alcoholic food." Mr. Swallow is the prohibition candidate for the presidency. "What's in a name?"

Elfergo Baca's right to undertake to abolish the School of Mines can not be questioned. Unfortunately for Mr. Baca in this particular the same thing can not be said for his judgment.

The financial record of Governor Otero's administration is being investigated by "our friends, the enemy." Happily, the more searching and accurate the investigation is, the better it will be for the administration.

It should not be forgotten that the republican organization of Socorro county will pledge its candidate for the legislature this fall to introduce and urge the passage of a bill making a liberal appropriation for the completion of the dam and ditch at the point of Socorro mountain.

It now appears that when a Russian detachment stumbles blindly upon a waiting Japanese detachment and is soundly walloped and driven from the field the Russians were merely trying to find out the exact strength of the Japanese forces. Nobody will question that the Russians have hit upon an effective plan to accomplish their object.

On the first day of July Socorro county became a part of the third judicial district. While the people of Socorro will have to await with patience an opportunity to show the keenness of their appreciation of the merits of the act by which they were deprived of district headquarters, they are at all times ready to make manifest that they think themselves extremely fortunate in happening to fall within the jurisdiction of Hon. Frank W. Parker.

WHAT are to be the issues during the political campaign now opened? All recent issues—the tariff question, the money question, and the question of expansion—have been settled in the republican way and the democratic leaders dare not reopen them even if they would. Shall President Roosevelt be entrusted with the execution of the governmental policies that he has been chiefly instrumental in establishing and that the people have accepted?—that question promises to be the sole issue of the campaign and there is but one logical answer.

A Political Year.

Every fourth year is of great political significance to the people of this country, for then they choose a larger number of important officers than at any other time. This year, for example, in addition to a President and Vice-President, a whole new House of Representatives is to be elected, besides the governors of thirty-three states. Next year four new governors only will be chosen, no members of the House of Representatives, unless to fill vacancies, and no President or Vice-President.

The concentration of elections in a single year has not come by chance. Men cannot talk politics and do other things well at the same time. So the business men have favored electing governors "presidential" years. The party leaders have favored it, too, because then the full party vote is cast, and the chances of electing their candidates for governor in a doubtful state are greater than when there is no candidate for President to be voted for.

Elections are won or lost through what may be called the floating vote, using that term in a good sense. A great majority of the electors support either the Democratic or the Republican ticket at every election. They believe in the traditional principles of their party, and will support those principles, even if they may not like the candidates. A small minority consists of men who are not strongly attached to one party, and if they dislike either the platform or the candidate of that party which they usually support, will vote against both.

All the speechmaking and all the demonstrations of whatever kind, from now till November 8th, are planned for the express purpose of attracting doubtful voters, of keeping in line those who are inclined to desert, and of inducing the disaffected to go to the polls on election day. If the party managers only knew from year to year who the doubtful ones are to be, they could direct their attention exclusively to them, but the waverers are not always the same men. So it takes about as much oratorical ammunition in political battles to bring down a voter as is required of another kind to do execution in actual warfare.—Youth's Companion.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Golobick of Colusa, Calif., writes, "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for liver and kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by all druggists.

FALL OF A GRIZZLY BEAR.

Without Warning a Tractable Beast Kills His Trainer.

A distinct type of a zoo rogue is the beast that goes wrong owing to accidental temptations, like Shaggy, an exceedingly intelligent, tractable Rocky mountain grizzly who reverted to savagery and turned man killer in a twinkling owing to the unfortunate misstep and fall of his trainer.

Shaggy was a big, handsome, gray old fellow, with a jungle thick coat and a lumbering, awkward gait and a funny twinkle that made him particularly adaptable for his part of clown in a remarkably trained group of fourteen bears. He had come under the hands of his teacher when but a helpless cub, had never lost his liking for caresses and, although the mightiest beast in the collection, was least suspected of being dangerous. Once when a striped hyena hung to the ankle of his friend he had run to the rescue, had cut loose right and left with his ponderous forepaws and had bitten and torn and mangled the ugly beast to death before he could be beaten off. Among his accomplishments were that of turning admirably grotesque somersaults and the more difficult feat of balancing himself on his hind legs on a three foot wooden sphere.

Not a scratch or a scar had his trainer to show for the years of work he had put in with the bear, and yet without an instant's warning this same beast attacked and injured his master so that when rescued he was semideafened and so dreadfully cut and lacerated that the surgeons decided it useless to try to save his life.—McClure's Magazine.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

A Sioux Indian Custom.

Among the Sioux Indians a common custom exists. When one family borrows a kettle from another, it is expected when the kettle is returned a small portion of the food that has been cooked in it will be left in the bottom. Should this custom be disregarded by any one, that person would never be able to borrow again, as the owner must always know what has been cooked in her kettle. A white woman on one occasion returned a scoured kettle, intending to teach a lesson in cleanliness, but her act became the talk of the camp as a fresh example of the meanness of the whites.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood; but when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure coughs, colds, la grippe, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at all drug stores.

SECOND WIND.

It Comes When All the Lung Cells Are in Full Play.

The following is a popular explanation of what is known as second wind. In ordinary breathing we use only a portion of our lungs, the cells at the extremity not being brought into play. This is the reason why those who are not in training when they try to run for any distance soon begin to gasp and unless they are resolute enough to persevere in spite of this choking sensation are forced to stop, but if they persevere the choking goes off, and they acquire what is known as second wind.

When this second wind is fully established the runner does not again lose his breath, but can run in comfort as long as his legs will carry him. The fact is that on starting the farthest portions of the lungs are choked with air and the remainder do not supply enough to meet the increased circulation induced by exercise.

By degrees, however, the neglected cells come into play, so that when the entire lung is in full working order the circulation and respiration again balance each other, and second wind is the result.

Indigestion.

With its companions, heart burn, flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms, salivary skin, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Herbine treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c bottle. Sold by Socorro Drug and Supply Co.

A Stanley Story.

Stanley used to relate the following funny story: One day while he was conversing with a friendly tribe during his travels one of the chiefs present inquired how many wives he possessed. Upon Stanley replying that he had none, all those present stood up like one man and unanimously exclaimed, "What a splendid liar!" They intensely admired the apparent calmness with which he had, as they thought, tried to pass off upon them a wondrous traveler's tale.

Croup.

Is a violent inflammation of the mucous membrane of the wind pipe, which sometimes extends to the larynx and bronchial tubes; and is one of the most dangerous diseases of children. It almost always comes on in the night. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup and apply Ballard's Snow Liniment externally to the throat. 25c. $1.00. Sold by Socorro Drug and Supply Co.

England's Largest House.

The proud distinction of being the largest house in England is generally accorded to Lord Fitzwilliam's Yorkshire seat, Wentworth Woodhouse. Of this house it is said that the three principal entrances are so far distant from each other that visitors are advised to bring three hats with them, one to be kept at each point of egress. A house which is 600 feet long, has a hall in which two average suburban villas could be comfortably placed and boasts a room for every two days of the year is certainly large enough to satisfy any reasonably ambition.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

This remedy is certain to be needed in almost every home before the summer is over. It can always be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is especially valuable for summer disorders in children. It is pleasant to take and never fails to give prompt relief. Why not buy it now? It may save life. For sale by all druggists.

A MOTHER'S LOVE.

A mother's love is so divine that the roughest man can not help but appreciate it as the crown of womanhood. However, Motherhood is looked forward to with a feeling of great dread by almost all women. At such times a woman is nervous, irritable and she is in need of a uterine tonic and nerveine, a strength builder to fit her for the ordeal.

No matter how healthy or strong a woman may be she cannot help but be benefited by taking Dr. Pierre's Favorite Prescription to prepare for the event.

"For a short time under my care I will endeavor to write you. It is nearly two years ago since I first wrote to you for advice regarding my health which was then very bad. writes Mrs. L. Poore, of Hinesdale, Ky. to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting surgeon of the Ingham Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. 'I have described my sufferings in other letters to you. After receiving your advice and the Common Sense Medical Adviser I bought some of your Favorite Prescription and to-day am a well woman and the proud mother of a new little boy.'

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierre's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

How to live in health and happiness, is the general theme of Dr. Pierre's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great work on medicine and hygiene, containing over 1000 pages of more than 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay the expense of mailing only. Send it one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 25 stamps for the book in paper covers.

He Told Her the Worst.

"Doctor," said the beautiful young woman who had become the wife of a rich old man, "tell me the worst. I will be brave and try to bear it." Leading her gently from her suffering husband's bedside the doctor answered: "Nerve yourself, then, for a terrible shock. He's going to get well."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Cheerfully Recommended for Rheumatism.

O. G. Higbee, Danville, Ill., writes, Dec. 2, 1901: "About two years ago I was laid up for four months with rheumatism. I tried Ballard's Snow Liniment; one bottle cured me. I can cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from like affliction." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by Socorro Drug and Supply Co.

Sometimes Necessary.

Hicks—"You don't mean to say you are going to see that show again? Why, you saw it last night!"

Hicks—"I know; but since then a friend of mine has been explaining the jokes to me, and of course, I shall know how to enjoy them now."—Boston Transcript.

A Shady Tree.

Patience—Does she ever speak of her family tree? Patrice—No; I think it was one of the shady sort of trees.—Yonkers Statesman.

Dragging Pains
2925 Keeley St., CHICAGO, ILL., Oct., 2, 1902.
I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. Now blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.
Maudie Bush
Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.
For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.
