

How About Your Stock Protection?

Perhaps you need a wind-break, a shed, feed or salt trough—We have the very lumber you are looking for—also material for that new wind mill tower.

A full supply of stock salt—block or sack.

The Kenna Lumber Co.

WE DO IT NOW

We are running a general hospital for sore footed horses, broken down carriages, tuggies, wagons, automobiles, broken or worn plows, etc., etc. Your patronage solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

JOHN M. MIMS, Kenna, N. M.

Hotel Gilder

EUROPEAN PLAN

Make the Gilder Your Home When in Town

JACK GULLAHORN,
Manager

JOHN GILDER,
Owner

ROSWELL, NEW MEXICO

New Fall and Winter Goods Now Arriving

We are now receiving lots of New Fall and Winter Dry Goods, Underwear, Hats, Caps, Shoes for Everybody, Men's Heavy Coats and Pants, Bed Blankets, Comforts, and numerous other items you will need for winter.

Come in and get your supply while our stock is complete. Our prices are always the lowest.

L. C. Denton

General Merchandise

OLIVE ITEMS

Mr. Stroud made a business trip to Kenna, Monday.

Mrs. E. T. Johnson, who was on the sick list is better at this writing.

Roy Clayton was an Elida visitor Monday.

The following people called on Mrs. Stroud and family Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Bell and baby of Portales also Mr. Bell's father and mother, and Mrs. Johnson. They made the trip by auto.

Henry T. Jones was in Elida Wednesday on Business.

Hicks Sturman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sturman, entered Elida High School last Monday as a freshman.

A. G. Wilson called on Mr. Jones, Thursday.

COMPARE

TAFT

Republicanism, Feb. 4, 1913

Annual Foreign Trade,
$3,857,587,343

Exports
$2,204,322,400

Our Net Foreign Indebtedness,
founded and floating,
$6,500,000,000

WILSON

Democracy, Aug. 4, 1916.

Annual Foreign Trade
$0,520,000,000

Exports
$4,330,000,000

Our Net Foreign Indebtedness
reduced by half.

NOTICE OF CONTEST.

Department of the Interior U. S. Land Office at Roswell, N. M., Sept. 25, 1916.
To John H. Washburn, of Doon, N. M. (Record Address). Contestee:

You are hereby notified that Ernest T. Kuykendall, who gives Valley View, New Mexico, as his postoffice address did on Sept. 14th, 1916, file in this office his duly corroborated application to contest and secure the cancellation of your homestead entry, No. 23015, made Feb. 16th, 1916, for W1/2SE1/4 B1/2SW1/4 Sec. 30 E1/2NW1/4 and W1/2NE1/4 Sec. 29, Township 7, S. Range 31, E. N. M. P., Meridian, and as grounds for his contest he alleges that you have wholly abandoned said tract of land for more than six months last past that you have never established residence on the land since filing.

You are, therefore, further notified that the said allegation will be taken by this office as having been confessed, by you, and your said entry will be canceled thereunder without your further right to be heard therein, either before this office or on appeal, if you fail to file in this office within twenty days after the FOURTH publication of this notice, as shown below, your answer, under oath, specifically averring and responding to these allegations of contest, or if you fail within that time to file in this office due proof that you have served a copy of your answer on the said contestant either in person or by registered mail. If this service is made by the delivery of a copy of your answer to the contestant in person proof of such service must be either the said contestant's written acknowledgment of his receipt of the copy showing the date of its receipt, or the affidavit of the person by whom the delivery was made stating when and where the copy was delivered; if made by registered mail, proof of such service consists of the affidavit of the person by whom copy was mailed stating when and the post office to which it was mailed, and this affidavit must be accompanied by the postmaster's receipt for the letter.

You should state in your answer the name of post office to which you desire future notices to be sent to you.

Ernest T. Kuykendall, Contestant.

Date of first publication Sept. 25, 1916
" second " Oct. 6, 1916
" third " Oct. 13, 1916
" fourth " Oct. 20, 1916

Mr. Johnson and daughter, Miss Jeanette, and son, Buster were Olive visitors Monday.

Henry T. Jones made a business trip to Ft. Sumner, Friday.

Mr. Deering and family who are off to Texas on a business trip, are expected home soon.

Mr. Schirck assisted Mr. Earnest Lobseeker, Monday, in moving his house.

DESTINY WIND

By M. McCULLOUGH-WILLIAMS.

Esmay would have sneered if you had said, "A wind of destiny" when a rain squall whipped half a letter from his loosely-clasped fingers and sent it sailing high over the treetops.

Certainly it would never fall under Juliet Ravenel's eye. Any others he could flout or baffle, but hers, sharpened by an acutely-sensitive jealousy, would read not only what was in the lines, but between them.

Carolyn should have known better than to write so, he reflected irritably. Yet he had been unreasonably angered to find no touch of sentiment—only a gay and apparently genuine camaraderie—when he had been assuring himself that he had broken her heart.

Public life allured him. How Carolyn had glowed when she came to know of it. The worldly-wise trickster who had sought to advance him had said: "But take it from me, son—if you marry her and try to keep on living up to her you'll be a failure it will break her heart to see." Then after two years of struggle Fate had thrown Juliet and her millions in his path.

She was thin and dark, piteously alone, just turned thirty and so rather older than he. She was narrowly suspicious of men and their motives and well she might be—scores had tried to marry her on the strength of her expectations.

Just then came Norbert Esmay to captivate her utterly and thereby make her look at life from a different viewpoint.

Naturally, Esmay had been touched deeply. He had acted honorably, even laying the case before Carolyn and bidding her decide it for him. She had answered him in a single sentence: "Unless I bade you take the goods the gods provide I could not sign myself, as I do, always faithfully your friend, Carolyn Dare."

He had accepted her verdict and now the wedding was only a week ahead.

The storm was over, the afternoon low sun struggling through the fast-moving clouds. At that moment a car came swiftly up the drive.

Before he could rush down the two flights to the hall he heard Juliet's voice demanding peremptorily: "Where is Mr. Esmay? I want him—at once."

"Right here in person!" Esmay answered, coming forward with arms outstretched in welcome.

Juliet had come in the company of old Judge Nixon, the wisest of the disappointed prospective trustees who had held and managed the Ravenel estate until time had compelled them to give it over to its legal owner.

On the way to make a final appeal to his strong-willed ward, the wind of destiny had dropped Carolyn's letter plump into his lap.

Regarding it as a providential interposition in his favor, Judge Nixon had taken it straight to Juliet, bidding her read it—and be cautious.

"Come! We will face him with this—together!" she had said, her eyes emitting sparks, her lips a livid line.

Now, a gray-faced statue, she handed the sheet to Esmay, saying hoarsely: "I brought it—because it seems—important."

"Thank you! How kind. It is important—rather!" Esmay returned with a reassuring smile. "You don't know the good sort she is. I am saying all the letters that come to me about—you see, they are to begin the book I mean to make for you—the book of our life together—"

"H-m! Any coupons?" Nixon interjected cruelly.

Esmay smiled placidly. "I hope so, Redeemable at the bank of happiness," he said.

Juliet broke, a sob in her throat. "To think I—I—distrusted you—surely, Norbert—you can't forgive me."

"There is nothing to forgive," Esmay began magnanimously.

Judge Nixon stepped to the phone. "You won't mind if I call up Miss Dare?" he said skeptically.

Juliet broke into violent protest, but Esmay nodded, smiling outwardly, though not quite easy at heart. Still—he trusted Carolyn—she had intuitions like lightning. Juliet crept beside him, laying a timid hand on his arm—he slipped it half about her and was remorseful to feel her meager figure tremble like a leaf.

He began to tremble in sympathy. Suppose Carolyn should blunder after all!

Judge Nixon was shrewd—but cross-examinations by long-distance has its disadvantages. He tried to be non-committal. The third question let Carolyn know her letter had made trouble—so clearly that all three heard her as she called: "Surely, judge, I wrote a beautiful letter—don't know just what it said—but the formula isn't copyrighted. Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Esmay are welcome to use it when they felicitate me—yes—I'm going to marry. When? Oh, as soon as Billy Wickham gets his new house done—and asks me."

Juliet pushed the judge aside, saying brokenly into the receiver: "I can't wait, Carolyn. You know I'm not smart like you—but—but—you've made me so happy. God bless you, Carolyn."

"Amen!" came faintly over the wire.

Copyright, 1916, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Subscribe for the Kenna Record.

Protection for the Home

The strongest desire of husband and wife is the welfare of their children. The husband works hard to provide for them, and would be glad to know how best to safeguard them. The wife works hard, too—in the home—and is equally interested with her husband in sound insurance protection, such as that offered by the

Postal Life Insurance Company

Amount: More than $1,000,000. Assurance for $100,000.00. Reserve for $25,000.00.

NET COST LOW IN THE POSTAL BECAUSE

1st. Commission Dividends corresponding to 2nd year's dividends other companies pay 30% after 10 years, the Postal Life Company charges no fee for Postal Life—before the 1st of year.

2nd. Renewal Commission Dividends and Office-Expense Savings covered by the guaranteed dividends, 60% Postal Life—before the 1st of year.

9 1/2%

3rd. Beginning at the close of the second year, the Postal Life Company's earnings will further reduce the cost each year after the first.

It will pay you to find out just what the POSTAL LIFE can and will do for you. The Company issues all the standard legal-reserve policy-forms: it supplies full personal information to all applicants—men, women and young people—and distance from New York does not hinder. Just write and say:

"Mail me life-insurance particulars for my age" and be sure to mention this paper.

In your letter be sure to give

1. Your Full Name
2. Your Occupation
3. The Exact Date of your Birth

The request for information places you under no obligations and no agent will be sent to visit you. The Postal Life does not employ agents but gives its policyholders the benefit of agents' commissions—the first year and every other.

Postal Life Insurance Company

(Incorporated in New York)
Thirty-five Nassau Street, NEW YORK

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS. COPYRIGHTS

Send model, drawing or photo, with a description. We advise, if possible, the best way to protect your invention. FREE. Send 0.5 cents for copy of a patent. It will pay you. All branches of U. S. and Foreign Patents. Patents taken through our office advantage for sale at our expense. WORMELL & VAN MATER, Managers, Columbia Copyright & Pat. Co., Inc., WASHINGTON, D. C.

STEVENS

For Partridge, Woodcock, Squirrel or Rabbit Shooting the

44 GAUGE SHOTGUN

No. 101

IS A WONDER

20 inch barrel, weighs 4 lbs., take-down. For 41 X L. 41 W.C.F. Shot and 41 "Game Getter" Cartridges.

List Price Only $5.00

No other bore or gauge of shotgun so efficient under so great a variety of conditions.

Send for detailed description and "GUNS AND GUNNING."

All live dealers handle STEVENS

J. STEVENS ARMS & TOOL COMPANY

P. O. Box 5005
CHICOPEE FALLS, MASS.