

WOOD POINTS OUT ADVANTAGES OF MOBILIZATION OF TROOPS

Will Attract National Attention to the Need of Great Reserve Force for Service in Case of War.

OBLIGATORY SERVICE IS AN IMPOSSIBILITY

But He Believes Some Training Should Be Compulsory to Citizens in Order to Be Prepared.

Washington, March 20.—(Via) That the attention of every American citizen is directed towards the regular army through the Tapan maneuvers...

It is no secret that the resources of the regular army have been severely taxed to send a complete division of regulars into Texas...

In times of war, army officials say, it would be suicidal to withdraw coast defense forces, as infantry, when the coast defenses are now manned only by a force of 19,000 men...

Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, United States army, is hopeful that the maneuvers will direct public attention to the need of a reserve force as a great national defense.

"I think we should look ahead," said General Wood today, "to building up a well organized reserve for a minimum amount of money."

General Wood today said that the United States army is not a well organized reserve for a minimum amount of money.

"If we have these members of a reserve a small sum per month, whatever Congress might think wise, with no obligations except to come to the colors in time of war...

"We are spreading out all over the world now, and our responsibilities are growing, consequently our difficulties are increasing and we are not going to have much time to get ready, if one comes."

"A considerable number of the reservists would be assigned to the coast artillery during the maneuvers of the regulars, militia, and reserves each year, in order to keep the reservists thoroughly up on changes which have occurred since their period of service."

"This question of an organized reserve is an important one and is well worth consideration as it would give the nation an available force of nearly a million of trained fighting men."

"Our situation today," continued General Wood, "is just this: We have an army of 82,000 men of which nearly 18,000 are in the Philippines."

THOUSAND ACRES WILL BE SEED

Local District Forest Office Completes Plans for Seeding Large Acreage to Trees in New Mexico.

In co-operation with the supervisors of the different national forests concerned the district office of the forest service in this city has just completed plans for the seeding of 1,000 acres this spring.

The object is to reforest areas within certain of the national forests which are now unproductive because of fires, windfalls and other agencies.

The most extensive reforestation in New Mexico is that planned for the Pecos national forest, where approximately 5000 pounds of western yellow pine and Douglas fir seed will be sown on an area of 700 acres.

The plans also cover forests in Arizona, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Florida which are under the supervision of the local district office.

In addition to seed of other valuable hardwoods a total of 21,000 pounds of black walnuts will be sown this spring on the forests in Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Outgoing Plans. A conference of forestry officials for the purpose of outlining the coming year's work of the department began here today.

LIMANTOUR TO BE PRESIDENT AND TROOPS TO BE WITHDRAWN

Happy Solution of Mexican Situation Expected This Week; Limantour Satisfactory to American Interests.

MINISTER ARRIVES IN CITY OF MEXICO

Great Crowd Greeted Him at the Train; Rebels Today Threaten to Take Hermosillo, Sonora.

Mexico City, March 20.—Finance Minister Limantour arrived here at 10 o'clock this morning. A great crowd of people awaited him at the railway station.

Limantour was given a warm greeting. Crowds of citizens hailed him as the "savior of his country."

On the way to the automobile the minister stopped several times to listen to addresses by students, workmen and others.

To Be President? New York, March 20.—Senator Jose Yves Limantour is on his way to Mexico City to assume the presidency of the Mexican government for a time at least, according to Gustavo A. Madero, brother of the Mexican revolutionary leader.

The retirement of Diaz, Madero says, will pave the way to a peaceful settlement of the revolution and the holding of a general election at which a representative of the majority of all the others will be elected president.

Limantour Satisfactory. Washington, March 20.—Should Senator Limantour be made president of Mexico it is probable the American troops along the border will be withdrawn.

May Take Hermosillo. Hermosillo, Sonora, Mex., Sunday, March 19.—Rumors have brought in the news that 700 revolutionaries are marching here from the north.

Asked to Make Peace. Guzman, Sonora, Mexico, Sunday, March 19.—The local papers today publish a proclamation of the business of Sonora calling on the "revolution" to be given their arms.

No Place for Americans. El Paso, Tex., March 20.—"The Mexican situation is no place for American boys or American men. The conditions are all hostile to them."

Thirty Men Killed. El Paso, Tex., March 20.—In a night Thursday at Colonia siding, near Tule, Tex., fifty federal and insurgents were killed.

Riddle Him with Lead is Threat. Kentucky Minister Gets An Anonymous Communication Telling Him to Cut Out Fight on the Saloons.

Magyville, Ky., March 20.—An anonymous letter writer, signing himself "Citizen," has informed Rev. R. F. Chatham, pastor of the First M. E. church here, that unless he desists in denouncing saloons, gambling places and immoral resorts said to exist in the city, his body will be riddled with lead.

This is the second anonymous note received by the minister. He says he does not fear the writer of the letter, and will prove it by continuing his fight on places of iniquity here.

The police are investigating the source of the note. The threat of immediate assassination has stirred members of Dr. Chatham's congregation to a high pitch.

JAP FEVER STILL SUBJECT OF TALK

Purchase of Battleships by South American Republic May Be Japanese Scheme; Japs and Mexico Friendly.

WASHINGTON PUTS UP STRANGE EXCUSE

Says He Was Looking at Name Plates on Doors to Find Residence of Auditor of Tuskegee College.

Washington, March 20.—There is some talk of action by the United States, not only to forestall an alliance between Mexico and Japan, but also to block an effort on the part of the Japanese to make loans to what this government has been to accept preparations for war, because known here today as follows:

First, the purchase of battleships by Brazil and the Argentine Republic and the reported contemplation of similar purchases by other South American republics who can have no possible need for such vessels, who are being set agents for Japan.

Second, the recent announced diplomatic activities of Japan in South America and particularly in Mexico, where it might attempt to gain a "yellow" influence.

Third, fear that Mexico, despite its protestations of friendship for this country, would really do all in its power to strengthen the Japanese position because of the inherent hatred which every Mexican has for every "Yankee."

There is every reason to believe that Japan is preparing for war with the United States and is exerting all its diplomatic wiles to strengthen its position through Mexico.

The United States is aware of the fact that certain South American republics have been buying large battleships for which they can have no possible use. I believe that certain members of the administration suspect that these ships in reality are being bought for Japan.

Diaz Think With Japs. Victoria, B. C., March 20.—Japanese newspapers received here by the steamer Ning Choo comment on the increasing friendship between Mexico and Japan.

It is reported by vernacular papers that arrangements have been made for a visit to Japan by the son of President Diaz and suite in September next to return the visit of Mr. Uchida, Japanese ambassador to the United States, to Mexico.

Favorite Books Are Barred. New York No Longer Has Oliver Optic and Horatio Alger, Jr., Books in the Public Libraries.

New York, March 17.—American books which delighted the youth of the last generation in this country are under the ban in New York, including John T. Townsend. The ban of the Oliver Optic type is complicated prohibitions of value, in addition to which they reprinted their elders. Alger has been supplanted by Ralph Henry Barbour as a maker of hero tales for the young.

As to the books which have been barred by the committee on education of the London common council, none of them can be found in any public library in this city.

Ulrich, who is a white man, maintains today that he was acting within his rights when he paroled the negro educator several blocks before a policeman appeared.

Ignorant of the negro's identity, he declared his wife had complained to him of a negro she had met in the hallway of their flat in West Sixty-third street, Washington, who was sent to the Flower hospital, where 16 stitches were taken in his scalp.

The president will take an immediate trip to Congress, explaining the Cabinet's preliminary agreement. He expects to confer with the leaders of both parties in the immediate future regarding the work of the special session.

ROOSEVELT TERMS RECALL OF THE JUDICIARY AS VICIOUS

Condemns Arizona Constitution for Making Judges Subservient to Will of Popular Fancy and Desire.

SAYS ARIZONA SHOULD BE ADMITTED ANYWAY

Form of Government Not Important; It Is After All a Question of Honesty and Fair Dealing Among Men.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 20.—Colonel Roosevelt addressed the largest throng ever assembled in the southwest on the Plaza here today, his theme being Arizona statehood.

Colonel Roosevelt arrived from Mesa at noon, attended a luncheon given in his honor by members of the former Rough Rider regiment, and then proceeded to the Plaza.

An emphatic reiteration of his belief that Arizona should have received statehood at the hands of the last congress, despite the inclusion in its proposed constitution of the initiative and referendum and recall provisions, marked Colonel Roosevelt's address.

"I regret that Arizona was not admitted to statehood by the last congress, and I trust that the next congress will without fail admit. The objections of admitting it I regard as without warrant of justice. Apparently these objections have been chiefly or entirely due to the fact that Arizona has adopted in its constitution the referendum, initiative and recall."

"I do not agree with the form in which Arizona has adopted the referendum, especially as regards the initiative; but while I regret that Arizona should have adopted the recall in this fashion, I do not regret it, but insist that this is a matter purely for Arizona's own decision and that neither the opinion of myself nor any other outsider has the slightest bearing on Arizona's right to the privileges of statehood. What the views of New York and Texas upon the question may be has nothing whatever to do with Arizona's right to its own views."

"It is difficult for me to discuss seriously the assertion that the adoption of the initiative, referendum and recall make a form of government which is not republican. Switzerland has adopted all three and to say that Switzerland is not a republic is simply a contradiction in terms. Surely no one can expect to be taken seriously if he asserts that Oregon or California in its form of government is not as absolutely republican as Connecticut or Pennsylvania or Massachusetts. This being so, there can be no ground for refusing to admit a territory to statehood when its proposed constitution does not essentially differ from the actual constitutions of certain states already within the union."

"The principles of the initiative and referendum may or may not be adapted to the needs of a given state under given conditions. I believe they are useful in some communities, and not in others—but to deny a territory the right of statehood because it has adopted these principles is as wrong as to say that Vermont should not be a state because its governmental system is based upon the principle of the town meeting. If the constitution of the United States forbids the use of the referendum or initiative, then the constitution should be amended without delay. According to the varying conditions in each state and according to the limitations upon the use of the initiative and referendum, this use may or may not be wise in any given instance; but the right to its use is inherent in every community, and no community should be allowed to dictate to any other community on this matter."

"It is so with the principle of recall. I do not believe in its wisdom here in Arizona, as provided in the Arizona constitution, but Arizona has an absolute right to try the experiment if it sees fit. Indeed, a system under which judges are appointed for life differs more from one under which they are elected for very short terms than the latter does from a system which provides for the recall. Each state should have full liberty to act as it chooses in such a matter, and therefore each territory desiring to be admitted as a state should have the same liberty."

"I am a strong nationalist, but I am no less a believer in the rights of the state whenever the rights of the people and in this case the rights of the people include the right of the people of any state to decide upon any course of action it deems best in its own interest."
