

Additional Society News

(Continued from Page Five)

NEW MEXICO SOCIETY

Social Affairs from Various Towns.

CLOVIS.

Miss Jewell Dayless was hostess Monday evening at a charming party given in honor of Miss Lydia Skarda...

The guild of the Episcopal church spent a busy but pleasant afternoon Wednesday with Mrs. Annie Carlton...

The members of the bridge club and their husbands were entertained Thursday evening by Mesdames Dalton, Reed and Lydia Simpkinson...

Mrs. Walter Mansfield entertained several friends at a one o'clock luncheon Saturday in honor of Miss Thelma of Evansville, Ind. who is the guest of Mrs. L. M. Cassidy...

The Wednesday Bridge club met this week with Mrs. Frank Burns at her beautiful bungalow in West Clovis. Exquisite decorations of carnations and ferns were used in all the rooms...

A charming Easter party was given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Dixie at her home in East Clovis. Bridge which was the principal feature of entertainment. Dainty table cards in the design of Easter lilies were used for the scores...

Mrs. Wm. Kennedy and Mrs. Harry Brownhill gave one of the most delightful parties since the Lenten season closed, at the home of Mrs. Kennedy Saturday evening...

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Burns, who will leave Tuesday for Oklahoma to spend the summer. Cards were indulged in until a late hour. After the prizes were awarded, an ice cream was served...

Miss Addie Chensworth entertained the March class of the Presbyterian church at her home Thursday evening. The business meeting lasted until 10 o'clock...

The Episcopate's sermon for the commencement exercises of the Episcopal public school was preached Sunday at the Baptist church by Rev. Caldwell, pastor of the church. His discourse upon "Life, Its Origin and Purpose" was most scholarly and inspiring...

ROSWELL.

One of the most charming social events of the season occurred Saturday at 1 o'clock when Miss Dunlap was hostess at a violet luncheon given at the Gillespie. Covers for twelve were laid, with dainty, hand-painted place cards of violets at each cover...

The members of the bridge club and their husbands were entertained Thursday evening by Mesdames Dalton, Reed and Lydia Simpkinson. One dozen clay tea doilies were awarded to Mrs. Geo. Singleton for making the highest score among the ladies...

Mrs. Walter Mansfield entertained several friends at a one o'clock luncheon Saturday in honor of Miss Thelma of Evansville, Ind. who is the guest of Mrs. L. M. Cassidy. The guests were taken to and from this suburban home in Mrs. Mansfield's car...

The Wednesday Bridge club met this week with Mrs. Frank Burns at her beautiful bungalow in West Clovis. Exquisite decorations of carnations and ferns were used in all the rooms...

A charming Easter party was given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Dixie at her home in East Clovis. Bridge which was the principal feature of entertainment. Dainty table cards in the design of Easter lilies were used for the scores...

Mrs. Wm. Kennedy and Mrs. Harry Brownhill gave one of the most delightful parties since the Lenten season closed, at the home of Mrs. Kennedy Saturday evening...

was "Scientific Development." Mrs. C. J. Leland entertained at bridge Monday afternoon in honor of her aunt, Mrs. W. M. Reed, of El Paso...

Miss Ruby Saunders gave a party to lady friends Wednesday afternoon. Miss Hazel Mook gave a morning party Friday, complimentary to Miss Carrie Fruechy of Marion, Ind.

SANTA FE.

This has been a quiet social week in Santa Fe, the main feature to be noted the monotony having been the dances given at the Palace hotel Thursday night. It was under the auspices of the Woman's board of trade and was for the benefit of the club paying fund...

Mayor Seligman stood at the door and received the tickets and a flood of New York city was announced. Miss Dunlap, whose home is at Pontiac, Ill., has lived much of the past two years in this city, where he is popular in both military and town circles...

The dance given Saturday evening at the Military institute was a very happy occasion. The first class gave the party in honor of the second class. The attendance of all ranks were invited, along with their lady friends...

The annual picnic of the Shakespear club Saturday was entirely successful. Beautiful weather and beautiful surroundings of the site, which is the grounds of the Charles de Fremont place east of town, made the setting perfect...

The Woman's club met Wednesday afternoon of this week in regular session, last week's meeting having been a postponed session. Mrs. I. H. Elliott was the leader and her subject was "Scientific Development."

Former Governor Otero has leased his beautiful and historic home on Washington avenue to Dr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Small, formerly of Pittsburgh and now residing here. They will take possession in May or shortly thereafter, later in May or early in June he will sail for Europe...

Edward C. Engler was up from Santa Fe yesterday, accompanied by M. Hiscroft of the same place. Mrs. E. E. Engler, Mrs. W. E. Engler, Thomas of Garbin, Ia. The Iowa gentlemen are looking over this country with a view of locating.

A shower was given in honor of Miss Lulu Hutchinson, who is soon to become the bride of R. D. Mitchell at the Tinkie hotel Friday afternoon. Quite a number of her friends were present, bringing with them a "shower" of good things put up in cans...

Miss Annie Porter entertained the members of the Epworth League and their friends at her home Wednesday evening. The evening was spent in playing various games and music. Miss Eula Atkinson and Mr. Pickens were the winners of the prize in the Salmand game and Miss Ruth Fogarty in the guessing contest...

Don Eugenio Romero was the host Sunday night to nearly two hundred Estancians and people from various parts of the valley, at the ball he gave in dedicating his new store building. The scene was very pleasing on stepping in the newly painted brightly lighted building with the benches on each side filled with people...

Delicious orange, ice and lemonade were served to the dancers, who took advantage of this to their full capacity. Two vocal selections were rendered by Louis Bacon, who appeared in feminine garb. All the dances on the bill of fare were danced by those who knew how and those who didn't...

The one of town guests were: Mrs. George Falconer, Sophie Soper, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Soper, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Meyer, Messrs. Wm. McIntosh, Ben Woodhill, Leo Douglas and Bob Oliver of McIntosh, Miss Richard of Albuquerque, Miss Ruth Fogarty of Moriarty, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jennings, Miss Floer and philanthropist of New York city, arrived here today from New York to visit his first cousin, Bronson M. Cutting at his home on Buena Vista Loma. Mr. Bronson Cutting is a little past 30 and is many times a millionaire.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. J. W. Griffin entertained a large number of ladies at a delicious shower in honor of Mrs. Carrie Woods Lindgren. The ladies were received by Mrs. W. J. Woods passing into the dining room, where punch was served...

The party closed about 5:30, voting Mrs. Griffin a pleasant hostess and wishing Mrs. Lindgren a happy future. Those in attendance were: Misses Anna Vore, Vore, Hill, Larsson, Carman, Hran, Edmunda, Brown, Platt, R. Gill, Hauer, S. W. Morse, Ed Morrow, Warner, Patton, Young, Harbin, Wanamaker, Brame, Mitchell, Williamson, Loomis, Lange, Eilers, Conannon, Weimer, Macy, Woods, Lindgren, Griffin, Misses Mary Cole, Lucile Warrne, Gladys Wanamaker, Bertha Brame, Mary Bedford, Ina Williamson and Edna Jones.

Last Sunday evening at the farm home of the bride east of Amistad, occurred the marriage of Wm. F. Lindgren to Miss Caroline Woods, Rev. M. Weimer officiating. The wedding was a quiet affair, the parents of the bride and groom, the clergyman and family and some of the nearest neighbors being present...

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Woods. She is a leader in social circles and has always been a willing worker in every good cause. Her winsome disposition and amiable manner has endeared her to all. The happy couple will reside on the bride's claim.

The Tribune-Herald on behalf of the people of this community extends to Mr. and Mrs. Lindgren hearty congratulations and a sincere wish for a long, happy and prosperous married life.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Durst entertained a number of their friends Thursday evening with a maple sugar festival. Mrs. Durst brought the maple syrup with him from Ohio. Those present were W. J. Hamilton and family, Frank Ulrich and family, Mrs. Ulrich, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Wise, Mr. Etta Seavey and children, Rev. O. A. Smith and son Clyde. The evening was spent in music, games and delightful fellowship.

The Nara Vista orchestra held an entertaining at Amistad Thursday evening. The program was varied and pleasing, consisting of orchestral selections, instrumental solos, duets and trios, vocal solos and readings. The proceeds were used to purchase pens for the Nara Vista M. E. church.

Edward C. Engler was up from Santa Fe yesterday, accompanied by M. Hiscroft of the same place. Mrs. E. E. Engler, Mrs. W. E. Engler, Thomas of Garbin, Ia. The Iowa gentlemen are looking over this country with a view of locating.

A shower was given in honor of Miss Lulu Hutchinson, who is soon to become the bride of R. D. Mitchell at the Tinkie hotel Friday afternoon. Quite a number of her friends were present, bringing with them a "shower" of good things put up in cans...

Miss Annie Porter entertained the members of the Epworth League and their friends at her home Wednesday evening. The evening was spent in playing various games and music. Miss Eula Atkinson and Mr. Pickens were the winners of the prize in the Salmand game and Miss Ruth Fogarty in the guessing contest...

Don Eugenio Romero was the host Sunday night to nearly two hundred Estancians and people from various parts of the valley, at the ball he gave in dedicating his new store building. The scene was very pleasing on stepping in the newly painted brightly lighted building with the benches on each side filled with people...

Delicious orange, ice and lemonade were served to the dancers, who took advantage of this to their full capacity. Two vocal selections were rendered by Louis Bacon, who appeared in feminine garb. All the dances on the bill of fare were danced by those who knew how and those who didn't...

The one of town guests were: Mrs. George Falconer, Sophie Soper, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Soper, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Meyer, Messrs. Wm. McIntosh, Ben Woodhill, Leo Douglas and Bob Oliver of McIntosh, Miss Richard of Albuquerque, Miss Ruth Fogarty of Moriarty, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jennings, Miss Flo-nee Means, Mr. Jagers and Mr. Watson of Willard.

Miss Shelley made a visit to friends at Hazerman Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. T. F. Blackburn returned Monday from Roswell where she had been visiting for two weeks...

Miss Charles S. Brown came in from Oklahoma City this week to join her husband who has been in Artesia for several weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Talbot, and also looking after business matters. Mr. Frank R. Dudley, who has been with Joyce-Pratt Co. for some time, left this week for Santa Ana, Calif. Mr. Dudley is a most excellent young man and leaves a host of friends here...

The greatest social event of the week was the Odd Fellows meeting and also the Rebekahs at Artesia, the 26th. The train left Carlisbad promptly at 12 o'clock midday with the following handsomely dressed ladies aboard: Mrs. Dr. Irvin, Mrs. J. S. Crozier, Miss Louise Breeding, Miss Robie Breeding, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Rose Smith, Mrs. Joe Funch, Mrs. Dearborn, Mrs. Kitchner, Mrs. W. H. Woodruff, Mrs. W. Leek, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Chander, Miss McCreary, Miss Ferguson, Mrs. A. Moore, Miss Mabel Bearup, Mrs. O. Huemus, Mrs. John Price, Mrs. J. D. Walker, Mrs. R. L. Bates, Miss Pendleton, Mrs. Dr. Boutman, Mrs. Staples, Mrs. Kautzer, Mrs. Galvin, Mrs. Woods, Miss Stella May, and Lora Jones.

At Lakeside the following ladies got on the train: Mrs. E. L. Cook, Mrs. Vyman and Miss Odene White. This trip was a most enjoyable one. Just after a fine rain, there was no dust and the weather was delightful. As the train sped past green alfalfa fields and beautiful orchards, the ladies enjoyed themselves hugely. At Artesia they were met by the Artesia and Roswell ladies. The Carlisbad band of 27 members, accompanied the train to Artesia. The uniformed band of Odd Fellows from Roswell, headed the procession, followed by the Carlisbad and Artesia bands and Rebekahs and Odd Fellows. Various entertainments were given for the ladies, including a waltz, a waltz and a waltz and grand ball at the armory. The weary crowd embarked on the train at 12 o'clock midday and arrived at Carlisbad at 2 a. m., declaring they had a most delightful time.

Mrs. Fields vice president of the Thursday Afternoon club entertained last week with an Easter program. Each member responded with some happy Easter thought. Many good articles about Easter were given, the origin of customs and how the day is celebrated in different places. Mrs. Fields passed cards and then requested everyone to do her best in an artistic way to make Easter cards. But the judging was even more difficult than the making, so it appeared, therefore the ladies played all the cards on the table and invited all to take a view and vote for the most meritorious. Mrs. Nelson won over Mrs. Winters by just one vote, which might go to prove that the club has two good artists at least. An exceedingly pretty hat pin was the "gold medal." Very dainty refreshments were then served and accompanying them was a beautiful La France rose on each plate. These lovely flowers were used for decorations and much appreciated. Mrs. Nelson, a former president, was welcomed again into the club after an absence of two years. The Thursday Morning club is now one of the charter members of the New Mexico Federation. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Campbell and the topic will be "Current Events."

The Country club held a most enjoyable meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cook Monday. Mrs. Josely's was works, dancing, cards and incidentally eating were features of the evening's pleasures.

Mrs. Oscar C. Snow entertained the Las Cruces social club on Wednesday at the Snow thousand acre ranch south of Mesilla at 1 o'clock luncheon. The luncheon consisted of six courses, one of which was wild duck, killed in this valley. After the luncheon the guests played "forty-two." Mrs. Frenger winning a hand painted plate. Mrs. Bowman a Navajo blanket, and Mrs. Jacoly a brass lamp glass.

This evening will occur the annual banquet of the Las Cruces Literary club, which will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stevens. Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Nell C. Cross, chief clerk at the local United States land office, and Miss Carrie E. Stuart, daughter of J. G. Stuart. The wedding will occur May 4 at the "El Manzanal" ranch, the home of the bride's parents, immediately after which Mr. and Mrs. Cross will occupy the new home which Mr. Cross has just completed in this city.

Mrs. Sarah Keller and sister, Miss Letoria Woods returned from Elreto, New Mexico, Sunday, where they taught school this winter. Mr. Thompson and family called at Harley Monday's Friday. A party composed of Harley Moody and family, Harry Ennis, A. J. King and Allen Woods started to Hodges Wednesday. John Ennis went to Albuquerque Friday. Allen Woods returned from Oklahoma Thursday, where he spent the winter. Mrs. Fred Renfro and children spent Sunday with Mrs. Lull Ray. Harley Moody and family visited at A. J. King's Sunday. Noah Ennis returned from Albuquerque Sunday where he spent the winter.

While great awakening has been manifested along all industrial lines, the most marked is in the development of the agricultural resources. This has followed the installation of new agricultural machinery on the farm and the introduction of new agricultural methods and the improvement of farm livestock. The agencies that have been the chief factors in this awakening are the demonstration farm plan of the United States department of agriculture and the inauguration of the farmers' institute by the state department of agriculture. These two great agencies have worked in unison in emphasizing the importance of adopting safer methods on the farm and in the orchards.

The Texas farmers have caught on to the contagion of progress and have learned that with the opportunity of labor has come the opportunity of success. They have learned that to succeed they must work with their brains as well as with their hands, and learning this they have been able to overcome the greatest obstacle and conquer the hardest circumstances. They have learned that the industry is needed to develop the resources of talent as well as of soil. And what a change has come with this realization. Lands that were utilized in growing inferior crops of cotton, corn and other grains are producing paying crops of onions, cabbage, celery, cantaloupes and other crops for which there are great demands. Low lands have been drained and made fertile and productive. Dry lands have been irrigated and planted to alfalfa, fruits and other crops and a thousand changes made that are contributing comfort to the home owner and wealth to the state.

While school inspection has been the subject of much commendatory mention in the public press, some objections have been raised to proposed legislation making it compulsory. The question has been raised as to the propriety of complete examinations requiring exposure of the chest, etc., especially in the older girls, it being urged that parents should be allowed to select the physician to make the examination. As perhaps might have been expected, the section schools of medicine have been more or less to the fore in the objections. This trouble has been encountered in New York, N. J., where, for instance, examination of the heart and lungs has been insisted on as a feature of school inspection. It is natural that the inspecting authorities should seem to forestall criticism as to the thoroughness of their work, which would be very liable to be made by those not in full sympathy with the movement. It would seem, however, that since the school has no interest in heart disease further than as it affects the functional capacity of the heart, such tests as are necessary might be made without requiring any exposure which would be offensive to the pupils and reviled by their parents. It would doubtless be well for those engaged in the work to remember that medical school inspection is a present on trial so far as the general public is concerned, and that lack of fact may preclude the cause as much as lack of skill, if not more. It is not desirable that medical school inspection should be time-wasting, but for a school physician to strain his brief authority by too arbitrary insistence on methods of inspection which parents have not learned to regard as a matter of course in private practice, would seem to be premature, to say the least. Doubtless with greater experience on the exercise of fact, by educating the public and winning its confidence, inspectors will be able in most instances to secure all needed information and at the same time avoid any occasion for conflict between the authority of the home and that of the school. This is always disastrous, and would be especially regrettable just now in the case of medical school inspection. The Journal of the American Medical Association.

Opportunity Is Again Knocking at Your Door 30 Days More and it will be Too Late

Choice Building Lots in the Kelly Addition to Business Center of Willard

NOW SELLING AT FROM $15 TO $30 PER LOT In four years they should be worth from $300 to $500 per lot.

These lots are beautifully located, and suitable for immediate building purposes.

Willard is in the geographical center of New Mexico, in the heart of a rich agricultural section and at present directly connected with four great railroad systems.

Title absolutely perfect. All deeds signed by Frank McKee, cashier.

Write or call on D. K. B. Sellers, 203 W. Gold avenue. Telephone 899, or S. L. Lane, special agent. Reference--any business man in Willard or Albuquerque.

question has been raised as to the propriety of complete examinations requiring exposure of the chest, etc., especially in the older girls, it being urged that parents should be allowed to select the physician to make the examination. As perhaps might have been expected, the section schools of medicine have been more or less to the fore in the objections. This trouble has been encountered in New York, N. J., where, for instance, examination of the heart and lungs has been insisted on as a feature of school inspection. It is natural that the inspecting authorities should seem to forestall criticism as to the thoroughness of their work, which would be very liable to be made by those not in full sympathy with the movement. It would seem, however, that since the school has no interest in heart disease further than as it affects the functional capacity of the heart, such tests as are necessary might be made without requiring any exposure which would be offensive to the pupils and reviled by their parents. It would doubtless be well for those engaged in the work to remember that medical school inspection is a present on trial so far as the general public is concerned, and that lack of fact may preclude the cause as much as lack of skill, if not more. It is not desirable that medical school inspection should be time-wasting, but for a school physician to strain his brief authority by too arbitrary insistence on methods of inspection which parents have not learned to regard as a matter of course in private practice, would seem to be premature, to say the least. Doubtless with greater experience on the exercise of fact, by educating the public and winning its confidence, inspectors will be able in most instances to secure all needed information and at the same time avoid any occasion for conflict between the authority of the home and that of the school. This is always disastrous, and would be especially regrettable just now in the case of medical school inspection. The Journal of the American Medical Association.

THE SOUTH IS AWAKENING. There is a great awakening taking place in the south--awakening to a realization of her duty in the development of her agricultural, industrial, mining, stock raising and manufacturing possibilities. These possibilities lay dormant for decades, but recent years have revealed the fact that her citizens have awakened from their slumber and are producing radical changes in our economic conditions.

In no section of the south is this more marked than in Texas. While great awakening has been manifested along all industrial lines, the most marked is in the development of the agricultural resources. This has followed the installation of new agricultural machinery on the farm and the introduction of new agricultural methods and the improvement of farm livestock.

The Texas farmers have caught on to the contagion of progress and have learned that with the opportunity of labor has come the opportunity of success. They have learned that to succeed they must work with their brains as well as with their hands, and learning this they have been able to overcome the greatest obstacle and conquer the hardest circumstances.

They have learned that the industry is needed to develop the resources of talent as well as of soil. And what a change has come with this realization. Lands that were utilized in growing inferior crops of cotton, corn and other grains are producing paying crops of onions, cabbage, celery, cantaloupes and other crops for which there are great demands. Low lands have been drained and made fertile and productive. Dry lands have been irrigated and planted to alfalfa, fruits and other crops and a thousand changes made that are contributing comfort to the home owner and wealth to the state.

While school inspection has been the subject of much commendatory mention in the public press, some objections have been raised to proposed legislation making it compulsory. The question has been raised as to the propriety of complete examinations requiring exposure of the chest, etc., especially in the older girls, it being urged that parents should be allowed to select the physician to make the examination. As perhaps might have been expected, the section schools of medicine have been more or less to the fore in the objections. This trouble has been encountered in New York, N. J., where, for instance, examination of the heart and lungs has been insisted on as a feature of school inspection. It is natural that the inspecting authorities should seem to forestall criticism as to the thoroughness of their work, which would be very liable to be made by those not in full sympathy with the movement. It would seem, however, that since the school has no interest in heart disease further than as it affects the functional capacity of the heart, such tests as are necessary might be made without requiring any exposure which would be offensive to the pupils and reviled by their parents. It would doubtless be well for those engaged in the work to remember that medical school inspection is a present on trial so far as the general public is concerned, and that lack of fact may preclude the cause as much as lack of skill, if not more. It is not desirable that medical school inspection should be time-wasting, but for a school physician to strain his brief authority by too arbitrary insistence on methods of inspection which parents have not learned to regard as a matter of course in private practice, would seem to be premature, to say the least. Doubtless with greater experience on the exercise of fact, by educating the public and winning its confidence, inspectors will be able in most instances to secure all needed information and at the same time avoid any occasion for conflict between the authority of the home and that of the school. This is always disastrous, and would be especially regrettable just now in the case of medical school inspection. The Journal of the American Medical Association.

MAIL FAMES NEAR BARTON. FARMERS PLANTING. Special Correspondence. Barton, N. M., April 29.--Have been having spring showers over the valley the last few days. Quite a bit of hail fell in the east part of the valley Wednesday evening, after a large shower which filled up the water holes. Range cattle are looking fine since the grass has come.

Rev. J. W. Thomas planted beans the first of the week for Mrs. Fred Renfro.

Every Woman is interested and should know of this marvelous discovery. MARVEL Vaginal Spray. The new Vaginal Spray. Best-most convenient. Cleans thoroughly. Ask your druggist for it. If he cannot supply it, write to MARVEL, except no other name, and send stamp for literature. MARVEL is made in the U.S.A. and is sold in all countries. Agents: G. B. East Co. Street, New York.

Saturday Night Specials 3 Exceedingly Attractive Numbers on Sale Tonight AFTER 7:30 Hind's Honey and Almond Cream Known everywhere as the most delightful preparation for the hands and face, and sold regularly for 50 cents Special After 7:30, 39c Chamois Skins Extra large Soft Chamois Skins, the kind sold everywhere for 40 cents, Special After 7:30 21c 27-Inch Flouncing A big assortment of 27-inch Flouncing, in a wide range of dainty patterns, easily worth $1 a yard. Special After 7:30, yard 39c Rosenwald's Where Quality Meets Price