THAW LOSES FIGHT TO REMAIN IN JAIL

Prisoner Released By Quebec Authorities and Is at Once Taken Into Custody By Canadian Federal Officials.

IMMEDIATE DEPORTATION TO VERMONT PREDICTED

Slayer of Stanford White Dazed as He Listens to Judge's Decision Which Starts Him to Matteawan.

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 3.—Harry Thaw today lost his fight to defy deportation by remaining in the Sherbrooke jail.

JUDGE HUTCHINSON THIS AFTERNOON SUSTAINED A WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS OBTAINING HIS RELEASE.

They remained dazed for possibly three minutes. The crowd began to leave the judge's chamber in silence. Thaw followed aimlessly.

As he crossed the threshold, E. Blake Robertson, assistant superintendent of immigration, tapped him on the shoulder and placed him quietly under arrest as an undesirable alien.

The crowd then surged from the building and it was announced that Thaw would be taken immediately to Coaticook for a hearing.

There's lawyers seemed stunned. Special officers of the immigration department jostled them in the corridors.

"I'll see you in Coaticook, boys," said Thaw, waving his hand to the reporters.

Judge Hutchinson's voice trembled as he read the decision, which in effect started Stanford White's slayer on the road back to Matteawan. The judge's hands shook so that he could hardly hold the parchment.

Thaw did not take his eyes off the reader. In his right hand Thaw held firmly two little petunias of the fair which a little girl had thrust upon him. There were forty persons in the judge's chamber. The court's reading was slow, and while there were indications that he would sustain the writ, it was not until the last few paragraphs that this became positive.

The court held, in brief, that Thaw was being confined illegally and that John Broadhead, chief of police at Coaticook, the petitioner, had a right to demand the prisoner's release.

N. K. L. Flamme, of Montreal, one of the most eminent criminal lawyers in the Dominion, came here today to reinforce the Thaw lawyers. He was retained in the case some time ago but up till now has taken no active part in the fight.

Robert Thompson's case was called at 10:30 and with the consent of both sides was put over for a week. His bail was continued.

Thaw Arrives at Coaticook. Coaticook, Que., Sept. 3.—Harry K. Thaw arrived here at 4:15 p. m.

THINKS BILL SHOULD CARRY MORE REVENUE

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] Washington, Sept. 3.—Representative Underwood, leader of the house, was at the White House early today to talk tariff with President Wilson. "We hope to dispose of the differences between house and senate in conference in less than two weeks," said Mr. Underwood. "I am not disposed to fight the senate for the purpose of maintaining all the house provisions. There are no differences of principle involved, but believe the senate has cut too much revenue from the bill and if I can convince the conferees that my estimates are correct, I think the senate will be willing to put some of the revenue back."

EIGHT BLUEJACKETS DROWN IN CHESAPEAKE

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] Newport, N. C., Sept. 3.—Thirteen officers and five men of the battleship Nebraska were drowned when one of the ship's launches was wrecked in the hurricane sweeping the coast here. The Old Dominion liner Madjack is reported sunk in the bay with a crew of eight and some passengers. The report is unconfirmed and the line has no information. The Nebraska is at anchor off the coast here. The shore wireless has been put out of commission by the storm and communication by small boats is impossible. The men were attempting to make shore, when men on the wharves who had watched their perilous passage, saw a waterspout struck the launch, overturned it and men and boat disappeared in the waves and spume. The hurricane which has been blowing since early morning, is accompanied by almost blinding downpours of rain, but the battleships seemed to be riding it out well, despite tugging on their anchors.

SENATE INVESTIGATION RESUMED IN WASHINGTON

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] Washington, Sept. 3.—The coal operators' story of labor troubles in the Cabin Creek and Paint Creek districts of West Virginia was told to the senate committee today by M. T. Davis, president of the Cabin Creek Consolidated Coal company. The hearing was a resumption of the investigation begun early in the summer, when the miners' side was heard in West Virginia. "The desire of the United Mine Workers to organize our field was the cause of the strike," said Davis. "The trouble came from the outside rather than from the inside. There had been no trouble until Mother Jones made her appearance last August. There had been no complaint from the men, although all knew they were at liberty to present any."

SECRET EMISSARY HALE ARRIVES AT CAPITAL

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] Washington, Sept. 3.—With the return of President Wilson from the summer White House and the arrival of William Bayard Hale, who has been making observations in Mexico for the administration, interests in the Mexican situation were revived. Secretary Bryan announced that no word had been received from John Lind, who still remains at Vera Cruz. Mr. Hale, who accompanied Mr. Lind from Mexico City to Vera Cruz, was said to be the bearer of personal messages to the president. Before leaving late today for a lecture engagement, Secretary Bryan planned to go over Mexican developments of the last few days with President Wilson and discuss inquiries by Americans regarding means of protection to their property if they leave Mexico.

Conference between the president and Mr. Hale were arranged for late today. Mr. Bryan said that he would confer with Mr. Hale tomorrow. Mr. Hale arrived late today. He disclaimed that he carried the originals of any of the Gambia notes or any personal message from Mr. Lind to the president or to Secretary Bryan. "I don't see why so much importance has been attached to my movements," said he. "I am simply a private traveler who has found Mexico an interesting field during the last few weeks. Any information I have gathered is at the disposal of the president and state department if they care for it."

THREATENED UPSETTING OF YAKUIS IN MEXICO

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 3.—Threatened uprisings of the Yaqui Indians, as reported yesterday by American refugees arriving here, which menace the supremacy of the Sonora insurgent state government, are but a repetition of outbreaks that dot the history of Mexico. Since the Spanish invasion this most warlike tribe of Mexican Indians frequently has been in arms against the existing government. The Yaquis have been less troublesome to settlers since the present revolution against the Huertista government, having taken upon themselves the struggle of the constitutionalists. Their recent demand for a return of their lands, taken from them during the regime of Porfirio Diaz, or perhaps previous to his time, offers a perplexing problem to Governor Maytorena and General Obregon in command of the state troops. Originally the Yaquis owned a large portion of the richest lands of the state and they have been joined in their demands for immediate separation by the Pima and Mayo tribes, which also have been fighting with the Mexican insurgents. The Indians have formed probably the most effective fighting force of the revolutionary government in its struggle to oust the federalists from the state. They excelled in the border fighting of the last few months, taking the war to the Huertistas and would demoralize the state forces, but would invite invasion by the federalists who apparently have most feared the marshallism and daring of the Indian braves. Fears are held for the safety of Americans residing at Corral, Tonichi, Cumurahi, Esperanza, Alamos, Navajo and other points in the Yaqui river country. Washouts will prevent their reaching north. The American state department has been asked for a ship to meet them at the mouth of the Yaqui and Mexico river, which point they may reach by an overland journey.

DIABAZ IN NO HURRY TO REACH NATIVE LAND

London, Sept. 3.—General Diaz, who he intends to remain some time. ANTI-AMERICAN BOYCOTT STARTED IN CHIHUAHUA. El Paso, Tex., Sept. 3.—Americans arriving here from Chihuahua report that a boycott is being worked by natives there against all things American and that no money is being spent with American stores and shopkeepers where the natives can buy from Germans, French or other foreigners. William Runyon, proprietor of "The American Stationary Company" was made to take down his sign and told if he did not take American papers out of his windows, the class would be broken, the Americans arriving here today. Mrs. Edward Sanders arrived here today from Parol, bringing one of the first coins turned over by the rebels and operated by the constitutionalists at Parol. It bears the words Hidalgo and Parol and a portrait of Hidalgo, the priest who started the revolution that threw the Spanish influence off Mexico. The coin is a copper penny, but silver money of the same type is being turned out also. Mrs. Sanders, who came overland to Santa Teresa, with friends, says the rebels are looting forced loans in Parol and that there is little to collect being selling for $2.50 a kilo when she left.

BANKERS SUGGEST ADVANTAGES OF ONE CENTRAL RESERVE BANK

Financiers Declare Against Currency or Notes Secured By General Credit as Encouraging Wildcatting.

COMMITTEE HEARING ON ADMINISTRATION BILL

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] Washington, Sept. 3.—The kind of national paper currency the American Bankers' association would like established in place of the United States treasury notes proposed by the administration currency bill was outlined today by bankers who declared they did not favor paper currency or notes secured by the general credit of individual banks because of the danger of "wildcat banking." "We believe the notes should be issued by the federal reserve board to the banks and by them to the public, and that all the federal reserve banks should be responsible for the whole issue of notes," said Sol Wexler of New Orleans, one of the spokesmen of the recent bankers' conference at Chicago. Senator Reed (Ill.) declared he was wedded to no particular plan and throughout the hearing witnesses were questioned with freedom, indicating that the committee would take up the administration bill with open mind.

The chief evils of the present banking system, Wexler said, were "the lack of a flexible circulating medium" and the fact that banks have "no place to go for redress when we have exhausted our own credit facilities."

GAMINETTI'S OWN STATEMENT IS USED TO HELP CONVICT HIM

Interview Given By Alleged White Slave While Enroute Home from Reno Read in Court.

PROMISED NORRIS GIRL HE WOULD MARRY HER

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] San Francisco, Sept. 3.—With the strongest testimony held in reserve till the last, the government closed today its prosecution of F. Drew Caminetti under the Mann white slave traffic act, and the defense took up its task. A rebuttal of testimony given by W. E. Doan, a government court reporter, who read from his notes the statements made by Caminetti to Assistant District Attorney Atkinson on the way back from Reno to Sacramento, Caminetti was prepared this afternoon to take the stand in his own defense and swear that everything he said on his trip, though correctly reported by Doan, was part of a prearranged plan to shield the act, concocted by Digs and himself, and immediately after their arrest in Reno. San Francisco, Sept. 3.—In closing its case under the Mann white slave traffic act against F. Drew Caminetti, the government played a trump card today. Testimony given by Caminetti to Assistant District Attorney Atkinson of Sacramento enroute on the way back from Reno, after the arrests, was read as taken down by W. E. Doan, a court reporter. This was an excerpt from the transcript in the possession of the government which the defense vainly sought to have introduced in the Digs trial. Doan read the questions and answers from his notes: "Did you tell Lois Norris that you'd marry her?" Mr. Atkinson had asked. "I believe I did," Caminetti had answered. "I don't want to make my statement be contradicted in later, but I believe I did."

"Did you make the promise in good faith?" "Yes, I did."

"Did you intend to leave your wife and children and marry her?" "Yes, I did."

Doan testified that a clipping from a Sacramento newspaper in which was printed an interview with Caminetti telegraphed from Reno, was shown to him on the train. In the interview he was quoted as having said that he intended to marry Miss Norris.

"Did you say that, or substantially that?" District Attorney Atkinson had asked. "Yes, I believe I did," Caminetti had answered, "although I didn't intend to be quoted."

Cross-examination only made Doan's testimony fuller and more positive. Mr. Atkinson had turned to Lois Norris, Doan testified. "Do you think," repeated Doan, reading the question from his notes, "that he (Caminetti) would marry you now?" "I know he would," was the confident answer. Atkinson had turned to Caminetti. "Would you?" he asked. "Yes."

Caminetti had been allowed to ask his own questions of Lois Norris, Doan said, and these with the answers were taken down.

"Did you ever hear me mention cruelty or beating a divorce on grounds of cruelty?" Caminetti asked. "Yes," said the girl, and then turning to Atkinson, added: "Mr. Caminetti told me he'd be much happier if conditions were different at his home, and he said that physical cruelty would be the ground for his divorce."

"What did Mr. Caminetti say about his family relationship—about his elder daughter?" Atkinson asked. "He said that was the only regret he had at leaving his family, that he loved her and grieved at leaving her. He said if he got a divorce he might bring the child with him later."

With this reply the cross-examination closed and the government announced that it had no other witnesses to call, the defense made ready to present its case.

COUNTY, STATE AND NATION TO PROBE WRECK

Latest Disaster on New Haven Road Promises to Be Investigated Thoroughly By Authorities.

PULLMAN COMPANY MADE PARTY TO INQUIRY

Company Asked to Explain Why It Permitted Use of Wooden Cars in Fast Train Service.

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] New Haven, Sept. 3.—The interstate commerce commission will begin a public inquiry here Friday into the cause of the wreck of the East Harbor express, telescoped yesterday by the White Mountain express seven miles north of here with a loss of twenty-one lives. Prominently five of those injured will die. The hearing will be conducted by Commissioner McChord, who has invited the public utility commission of the state to sit with him.

H. W. Belnap, inspector for the commission, arrived here and served notice on President Elliott of the New Haven road that he would expect the attendance at the hearing of all witnesses who could throw light on the causes of the wreck.

Mr. Belnap denied that the New Haven had been guilty of disobeying the orders of the commission when it burned the wreckage last night. He explained that F. A. Howard, an inspector for the commission, was on the scene of the wreck early yesterday and, after having made an investigation, released the wreckage to the railroad company.

Meanwhile, the machinery for the usual county, state and federal investigation was in motion. Coroner Mix and Chief Engineer Elwell of the state public utility commission resumed this morning the secret investigation which they began yesterday jointly with the railroad company.
