

RE-ELECTED SENATOR, KEEPS AT WORK AS CHAUFFEUR

Mr. George E. Marchand, of Lowell, Mass., who takes his seat in the upper branch of the Massachusetts State Legislature in January, is still at work as a chauffeur. In eight years that he has been in political life he has maintained all of his friendships in two particular phases of life, the one as a chauffeur and the other as a legislator. State dinners have been given in his honor, and the chauffeur has appeared as one of the principal speakers after having brought some of his friends to the gathering in his automobile.

Much Interest In New Data on Nebular Action

Other Observatories Pattern Methods After Those Developed at Flagstaff by Dr. Slipher; Discovery Is Made.

That other observatories were patterned their methods somewhat upon those used by Dr. V. M. Slipher, of the Flagstaff institution in research studies in his, whereby he succeeded in measuring the speed in space of nebulae and also their rotary speed about their axes, and that an important discovery relating to the planet Saturn would be announced was learned this morning from Dr. Percival Lowell, head of the Flagstaff observatory. Dr. Lowell and Mrs. Lowell were here on their way to the observatory from the east.

CENSORSHIP AT LAST LETS DETAILS OF THE SOUTHLAND BE PRINTED

(Associated Press Correspondence.) Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 25.—An absolute censorship upon the soldiers having just been lifted, the Australian public is now for the first time acquainted with the details of the torpedoing of the transport Southland (which was formerly the Red Star line's Vanderland) in the Aegean sea by a German submarine while bound from Egypt to Lemnos early in September. The Southland had on board about 1,700 men, mostly Victorians. A small number of New Zealand troops were also being carried by her.

Following is a copy of a special order of the day issued by General Headquarters regarding the torpedoing of the Southland: The commander-in-chief publishes his plain account of the submarine attack on H. M. S. Southland without any comment, except his compliments to the volunteer stokers. The facts, he feels, are best left to speak for themselves. The Southland was struck by a torpedo from an enemy submarine at 9:15 a. m. on September 2, being then south of Mudros bay. A second torpedo just passed astern of the transport a few minutes later.

"Almost immediately after the explosion the ship listed noticeably to starboard, and also by the head. Both the foreholds were soon awash above the level of the upper turret deck. The troops on board, the Twenty-first Battalion and one company of Twenty-third Battalion, Australian Imperial Force were just about to parade. They waited in just as for ordinary drill, and awaited for orders to be passed from the boat decks for the required number to be sent up, without any sign of anxiety to get an early place. A large number of the troops had to stand for nearly two hours on the enclosed promenade deck of what during the first thirty or forty minutes was believed to be a sinking ship. The first boats on the day were lowered quickly and successfully, but a considerable delay took place before the boats on board could be got to the davits and lowered, with the assistance of the troops. Two boat-loads, with Colonel Edlin and six of the infantry brigade staff, were captured in spite of all precautions.

GERMANS UTILIZE AN ABANDONED SAWMILL

(Associated Press Correspondence.) In the Argonne, France, Dec. 3.—Several miles behind the front, yet near enough to it so that its products can be transported to the trenches with little difficulty, lies the so-called Hindenburg mill—a one-time French sawmill that for years had lain inactive, and which has been utilized by the Germans for firing up their positions. Every bit of machinery in the mill is French—most of it requisitioned from similar establishments in all parts of the Argonne forest. The Germans estimate that they have spent not more than 2,000 marks in rehabilitating the institution which today is turning out from 15,000 to 1,500 marks worth of furniture a month. The mill originally was purely a saw mill, but departments have been added in which stores are being made for the trench shelters at the front, and in which many metal parts are moulded for the manifold uses of the fighting line a few miles away.

SWISS PLAN TO AID PRISONERS OF BELLIGERENTS

Steps Taken to Alleviate Condition of Soldiers Held in Detention Camps, Where Winter Brings Suffering.

(Associated Press Correspondence.) Geneva, Switzerland, Dec. 4.—A movement has been started in Geneva to make more adequate provision for the welfare of prisoners in detention camps of the various belligerent countries. The present winter is bringing with it increased suffering and hardship to countless thousands of men, and these it is proposed to endeavor to alleviate. It is a well-known fact that there were insufficient preparations in the beginning for dealing with such large numbers of interned men, both soldiers and civilians, as rapidly became necessary to care for, and as a result living conditions were suffering today entail suffering and sickness to a degree realized only by actual observers.

The International Red Cross committee of Geneva is behind this movement, and headquarters for the conduct of the work have been established at La Petite Perriere, Chambray, near Geneva. The main object is to improve the conditions of the camps, and to bring about an improvement of existing conditions, without in any way interfering with the necessary military discipline. These neutral delegates are to be chosen from the professions, such as doctors, lawyers, etc. They are to make themselves useful in many ways at the camps where they are to have the privilege of free access and admittance for a specified length of time.

Schmidt Will Be Sentenced Coming Monday

Man Convicted of Complicity in Blowing Up of Times Building in Los Angeles Faces Life Imprisonment.

(The Evening Herald Leased Wire.) Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 31.—Matthew A. Schmidt, who was convicted of murder in the first degree last night, as an accomplice of James B. McNamara in the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times building here October 1, 1915, will appear in court next Monday for sentence.

At that time John Harriman, one of his counsel, will file a motion for a new trial, and it has been agreed that the case will be continued until January 12 for arguments on the motion. David Caplan, who was indicted with Schmidt on the same charge on which the latter was convicted—of having murdered Charles Hager, one of the twenty victims of the Los Angeles Times explosion, also will appear in court Monday. Caplan's case was to have been set for trial Monday.

BUSINESS COLLEGE OPENS THE WINTER TERM JANUARY 3

New Classes Will Be Organized in Business, Stenographic and Civil Service Departments.

The opening of the winter term of the ALBUQUERQUE BUSINESS COLLEGE on January 3rd will be the occasion for beginning of new classes in business, stenography, banking, stenography, touch typewriting, civil service, court reporting, secretarial studies and commercial teachers' training. The year just closing has been the most successful in the history of the school, not only in terms of attendance but in the number of excellent positions filled. So insistent has been the demand for graduates that the management has been unable to supply all the calls. Every graduate has been placed readily and despite the largely increased enrollment the employment bureau begins the new year with a number of fine positions open which cannot be filled.

THESSALONIKI AGAIN REPORTED IN NEED OF AID; LOCATION UNKNOWN

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire.) New York, Dec. 31.—Relief agencies piled up by shore stations brought the information that the crippled steamer Thessaloniki, which has been slowly nearing this port since last Wednesday, was burning signals of distress and that the steamer Mack, 261 was searching for her. The location of the Thessaloniki was thought in doubt but one message reported her 190 miles east of Sandy Hook.

FORT WORTH BANK CLEARINGS SMASH ALL FORMER MARKS

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire.) Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 31.—Fort Worth bank clearings for 1915 have broken all previous records, a total of $122,383,434, being reported today. Friday's clearings are estimated at $14,000,000. This will make the present year's clearings exceed those of 1917, the former year, by more than $18,000,000 and those of last year by more than $5,000,000.

GASOLINE BLAST ON LAUNCH IS CAUSE OF WOMAN'S DEATH

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire.) Houston, Tex., Dec. 31.—An explosion of gasoline on the launch "Ruth Ellis" near the mouth of Green's bayou last night resulted in the death of Mrs. J. P. Taylor of Houston. As flames began to sweep from the explosion, Mrs. Taylor's hair caught fire, and she was thrown into the bayou. Dr. Carter rushed to her aid but in lowering a small boat after throwing his wife a life preserver, he slipped and sustained an injury to his back. By the time Dr. Carter could jump into the small boat his wife had drowned. He recovered her body.

WITH GRACE ELLISTON, THE STAR IN THE FIVE-PART METRO PICTURE "BLACK FEAR"

Despite her successful career on the speaking stage Grace Valentine, the charming young actress, was frightened half to death when she appeared in the first scenes in "Black Fear," the five-part Metro-Metro production, in which she is featured with Grace Elliston and Edward Brennan. She said the fear which was similar to stage-fright, was prompted because she knew the camera was heartless and she was afraid of failure.
