SOCORRO SUFFERS.

A Cloud-Burst Sweeps Down Magdalena Canon Bringing Death and Disaster.

Six Lives Lost and Many Persons Missing—Heroic Work of Rescuers—A Sad Day for the Gem City.

Special to the New Mexican. Socorro, N. M., July 31.—A cloud-burst yesterday afternoon resulted in great damage to Socorro and vicinity. Six dead bodies have thus far been recovered.

THE DEAD. The names of those drowned and whose bodies have been recovered are as follows, all members of one family: LEANDRO DURAN, ROSA DURAN, CECELIA DURAN, GUADALUPE DURAN, TOMAS DURAN and J. B. DURAN.

At noon to-day water is still running deep in the lower part of town. The many persons missing may have been swept down to the river in the flood or their bodies may be lodged against the debris or buried in the sand under the many wrecks of houses to be seen half projecting from the muddy water surging through the suburbs.

RESCUING PARTIES were out and at work in the bottom lands all night. Citizens are acting nobly in looking after the wants of the destitute and needy. Several women and children had narrow escapes from death by drowning and owe their lives to the bravery of Socorro men.

The citizens have held a mass meeting and appointed committees to look after the relief of the surviving victims and to search for those supposed to have been drowned.

WHEN IT CAME. The storm broke at the south end of Socorro mountain, and between that and the Magdalena range. A vast watershed here is drained by a wide arroyo that enters the Rio Grande valley near the southern limits of Socorro, crosses under the Magdalena branch of the A. T. & S. F. road, and curves northeast, passing between the town and the base of Socorro mountain.

The cloud-burst sent a demon-like torrent down both of these branches for three hours and flooded many houses in the residence part of town, tore out several thousand feet of the Magdalena branch road and swept across the main line of the Santa Fe carrying out nearly 1,000 feet of track.

The business part of the town proper was not damaged. There is so much confusion and excitement and the water is yet so high in the lower lands that it is impossible to make an estimate as to the total value of property destroyed.

THE NEWS AT SANTA FE. The first information of Socorro's misfortune was received by Gov. Thornton and came by wire from District Clerk Geo. Curry. It announced the cloud-burst, said six dead bodies had been found and that many more were missing. Heroic work was done by the citizens among those imperiled and in caring for the destitute. The telegram said that if the damage was as great among the farmers below town as surmised it might be necessary to ask for outside aid. The dispatch also stated that the business part of Socorro was not damaged, which latter information gave great relief to many citizens here interested in business property there.

As soon as the report of the disaster spread everybody was eager for information and on every hand sympathy was expressed for the sufferers. Private telegrams were received during the forenoon by Judge Hamilton and Mr. Ollie Williams, stating that their relatives and homes were safe. Judge Freeman, District Attorney Dougherty and other residents of Socorro and the Rio Grande valley were much distressed upon hearing the news.

At first great fears were expressed lest the flood had come down the box canon, which opens from the mountains on the west directly upon the main business part of the town, and those specially interested felt much relieved when it was learned later that the water flow was confined chiefly to the Magdalena canon. Up to the time of receiving the New Mexican's special dispatch above printed none of the citizens of Socorro now in Santa Fe would undertake, in the light of the meager information then at hand, to make an estimate of the probable money damage resulting from this cloud-burst.

RACE RIOT IN ALABAMA.

Two Deputies and Four Negroes Shot Dead in a Pitched Battle.

Prompt Action of a Determined Sheriff Prevents the Lynching of Colored Captives—Rope Dangling from a Tree.

Birmingham, Ala., July 31.—In a race riot at Brookside, last night, four negroes and two deputies were killed. The battle waged here for nearly two hours. Several whites were wounded. While the white miners were caring for the injured, the negroes struck out for the deeper woods. Over a dozen men received wounds during the battle and were brought to camp for surgical treatment. A warrant had been issued for Biggers' arrest for trespass on the mining company's property after being discharged. He and his friends killed two deputies. This started the conflict.

A COURAGEOUS AND RESOLUTE SHERIFF. At midnight Sheriff Morrow and party came up to the rioters. The whites had captured several negroes, but Joe Biggers not among them. The captured negroes were bound hand and foot and a dangling noose from the limb of a tree told of their impending fate. Sheriff Morrow demanded the surrender of the prisoners. The demand was met with a flat refusal. Morrow threatened to open fire on both parties unless the prisoners were given up. Not until his men presented arms did the white miners deliver up their captives. They were brought back to camp, where the miners made a desperate attempt to take the prisoners from Sheriff Morrow, but the determined stand of himself and men deterred them.

ALL QUIET AT BROOKSIDE. All is quiet at Brookside this morning. Nine negroes are in jail.

SITUATION STILL DANGEROUS. Joe Biggers, one of the alleged leaders of the negroes in the Brookside riot, was captured to-day in the woods near Brookside. Lynching was talked of, but was not attempted. To-day hundreds of whites and blacks are discussing last night's affray. A single pistol shot would precipitate more serious trouble.

SHOCKING DISCLOSURES.

How Holmes Profited by Reducing Crime in Chicago to a Fine Art.

Appalling List of the Fiend's Numerous Victims—Belief that Quinlan Has Made Important Revelations.

Chicago, July 31.—The Holmes case has developed into the most remarkable criminal case in the history of the country, compared with which the Durand case in San Francisco and the crimes of the Bender family in Kansas fade into nothing.

A SCIENTIFIC BRUTE. Holmes brought his victims to him by artificial business methods from far away points; he summoned one man by a telegram from Arkansas; he enticed two women from Fort Worth; he operated at Leadville, Colo., in Canada, and in Europe. He obtained not merely the personal effects of his victims but their real estate; he arranged insurance on their lives and then obtained that; and finally, by their painless and bloodless death, by the use of gas, he had their skeletons mounted for sale to medical students.

HOLMES' VICTIMS. The list of Holmes' possible or probable victims is now as follows: Julia L. Conner, who lived with Holmes as his wife. Supposed remains found in basement of the Holmes building, 701 Sixty-third street, Chicago.

Gertrude Conner, daughter of above. Supposed remains found in basement of Holmes' building.

Amelia Cigrande, Holmes' secretary; disappeared.

Benjamin F. Pitzel. Dead body found at 1316 Callowhill street, Philadelphia.

Howard Pitzel, 11-year old son of Benjamin F. Pitzel disappeared. Supposed to have been murdered in Indiana.

Alice Pitzel, daughter of Benjamin F. Pitzel, dead body found in the cellar of St. Vincent street house, Toronto.

Nellie Pitzel, daughter of Benjamin F. Pitzel, dead body found in the cellar of St. Vincent street house, Toronto.

Minnie Williams, disappeared from 701 Sixty-third street, Chicago, where she lived with Holmes. Supposed to have been murdered and cremated.

Annie Williams, younger sister of above, disappeared as did her sister.

Miss Wild, formerly a clerk in Holmes' employ at the "castle." She disappeared two years ago and has not been heard from.

In addition to this, Holmes is believed to have been concerned in the murder of Mrs. Cron, the old woman, who was so ruthlessly killed at Wilmette two years ago.

Other persons known to have been identified with Holmes at Englewood and other places have disappeared, but as yet little evidence has been found to show that Holmes had a hand in their retirement from their usual scenes.

MORE ARRESTS. The police have arrested H. S. Mack, who worked for Holmes during the last six months of his stay in the "castle." He is supposed to know all about Pat Quinlan and his wife. They think he is a most important witness. They also have information that Mrs. Julia Conner disappeared on Christmas day, 1891. Charles M. Chappell, who articulated skeletons for Holmes, has given the police much information about the removing of bodies from the "castle."

The search of the Holmes building was prosecuted on the information given to the police by Chappell. Chappell told the police that Holmes had two vaults in the cellar. One, he said, was in the southeast corner and the other in the southwestern corner of the rear cellar. They had been since walled up, he said. One of the vaults, according to Chappell's statements, was used as a vessel in which the flesh was eaten from the bones by the use of acids. The other was for the purpose of bleaching the bones. Twelve laborers worked all day digging out the two corners designated by Chappell, and one of the tanks was found four feet from the ground surface and was forced open, but nothing was found but a few inches of petroleum in the bottom.

A number of bones were found in the basement yesterday and examined by Robinson. He pronounced them parts of a human body. It was thought an entire skeleton had been found, but an examination showed that most of the bones were from the butcher shop. The mixture of human bones and butcher shop refuse is a peculiarity of several finds that puzzle the police.

TESTIMONY OF A CONVICT.

Arrangements were completed to-day for taking the testimony of Joseph A. White, a Little Rock, Ark., convict, which is expected to convict H. B. Holmes of murder. Attorney Wm. Capps, of Fort Worth, Texas, who represents the heirs of the Williams girls and who discovered Allen's alleged connection with Holmes, will leave for Little Rock to-night with a promise of immunity for the convict, providing his story will convict Holmes.

EXAMINING HOLMES' PARTNER.

Chief Badenoch, Inspector Fitzpatrick and Attorney Capps again to-day subjected Pat Quinlan and wife to a severe examination. Attorney Capps said he might defer the Little Rock trip for several days. It is believed that Quinlan has given important information regarding the Arkansas convict, but its nature is carefully suppressed.

Eat and Be Happy! Nobody can do this who has dyspepsia. Even a light meal, eaten with relish, irritates more or less torture upon the wretched victim of indigestion. But why allow one's self to be thus victimized when success in the shape of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be summoned? If you are going to any locality—a remote country farm house, or new settlement, for instance, where it is not readily procurable, provide yourself in advance with an adequate supply. An unaccustomed diet is very apt to produce dyspeptic qualms, so is brackish water aboard ship and the eating of acid fruits. Forestall further encroachment of the complaint with this superb and genial corrective and preventive. Heartburn, sour eructations, biliousness, constipation, malaria, rheumatism and kidney trouble promptly succumb to the onset of this vanquisher of bodily ailments and restorative of vigor.

SOVEREIGN'S MISTAKE.

John McBride Says American Workmen Will Not Boycott the Banks. Cincinnati, Ohio, July 31.—President John McBride, of the National Federation of Labor, speaking of the manifesto issued by President Sovereign, of the Knights of Labor, favoring the boycotting of national bank notes, said: "While the principle of doing away with this class of money is a good one, I do not think Mr. Sovereign has chosen the right course to attain his end. If his advice is followed the result would be disastrous to labor, because it would reduce the volume of money in circulation, which it is to everyone's interest to have increased. I do not think American workmen, even Knights of Labor, will pay any attention to Sovereign's manifesto."
