The National Irrigators Royally Received in the Capital City—Three Cheers and a Tiger for Santa Fe.

DELEGATES GONE TO SEE THE COUNTRY. Our Fruits at the Fair Win the Big Prize—Personal Mention and Neway Notes Pertaining to the Great Gathering.

After giving three hearty cheers and a tiger for Santa Fe, the delegates to the national irrigation congress, who spent yesterday here, boarded their special train on the A., T. & S. F. for a junket among the farms and orchards and thrifty towns in the lower Rio Grande and Pecos valleys. Their trip will cover nearly 1,400 miles.

The delegates were loud in their expressions of surprise and delight over what they saw in Santa Fe. Citizens vied with one another in entertaining them. Homes and gardens and orchards were thrown wide open to them, and while many were interested in the historic sights by far the greater number, naturally, found their chief delight in the wonderfully productive orchards, in the new irrigation systems, built and building, the great hydraulic dam, etc. The many civil engineers in the party were specially pleased with these features of modern Santa Fe. Not a few of them were practical fruit growers and expressed astonishment at what was revealed to them as the carriages conveyed them from orchard to garden. Samples of choice fruits raised by irrigation were given them freely everywhere and when they reached their train they found the baggage car piled high with baskets of good things to supply them while en route through the lower country.

The irrigators are in the Mealla valley this afternoon where Las Cruces is showing them every attention and to-morrow they enter the Pecos valley. Gov. Thornton and wife, ex-Gov. Prince, Hon. C. M. Shannon and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Mahaly, of Missouri, guests of Mrs. Thornton, Hon. Geo. Curry, Manager Blodgett, of Pecos Irrigation company, Hon. G. A. Richardson and other leading citizens of the territory are on the train and doing all things necessary to entertain the guests and to reveal to them the resources of our rich territory. Gov. Thornton and party will be with them until Tuesday.

SANTA FE TAKES THE BUN. As briefly announced in these columns last evening, the first prize for the best and most varied fruit display at the territorial fair was awarded yesterday afternoon to Santa Fe. The display, which is a superb one and no orchardist who takes pains to examine the size, flavor and wide range of fruit products therein shown can doubt but that the highest honors have been worthily bestowed. A representative spent the better part of Wednesday looking over the fruit exhibit, and found a marvelous display there from Dona Ana, Colfax, Chavez, Eddy, Bernalillo and San Juan counties, and for a while he tried to recount his first impression that all of them were good enough to win a first prize, but when the small fruits, the apricots, plums, cherries, raspberries, strawberries, blackberries, currants, etc., were taken into account, along with the eighty varieties of apples, sixty-eight of pears, twenty-five of plums, twelve of peaches and two of quinces, which went to make up our home display, it was readily to be seen where the first prize would go if justice were considered. Naturally Santa Feans are much gratified over the receipt of a telegram from Mr. Riverburg announcing the award of the sweepstakes prize to this county.

FAIR NOTES AND PERSONALS. The pyrotechnic display last night was fine. A grand bicycle parade is billed for tonight. Joe Baile is entered for the half-mile running dash to-day. Cochiti has a magnificent exhibit on view in the exposition hall. There were over 500 residents of Santa Fe at the fair grounds about noon yesterday, but did no harm to the race track. In the bicycle races, Vorhes won the half-mile heat in 1:12, and Keen won the championship mile race in 2:36 1/2.

Hon. W. S. Hopewell, Mr. Fred Lindner and Banker Booher, of Hillsboro, have been largely instrumental in showing the visitors at the fair what Sierra county can do. The mineral exhibit is by far the largest and most attractive on the grounds. The 2:30 class trotting for $300 was won by Lizzie S. in 2:28; Lucky John won three straight heats in the 2:40 class pacing race, purse $200, best time 2:47; the half mile running race was captured by Ben Cannon over Artless, the time of the heats being 51 1/2 and 50 1/2.

The Raton base ball players beat the Athletics, of Albuquerque, yesterday, rather worse than they beat the Indian school nine. The score stood 25 to 4 in favor of Raton. The Santa Fe and Gallup teams cross bats to-day and the winner of this game will play the Raton team for the first prize to-morrow. The base ball sports of Las Vegas will be interested in learning that at Albuquerque Tuesday the forenoon game stood, Albuquerque 1, and Santa Fe 4. The Santa Fe team, it is said, played a Fueblo import, and the Albuquerque nine had enough imports to make the game a seeming snap.—Las Vegas Examiner.

Citizen McLean, of Rocky Ford, Colo., said yesterday, after seeing Santa Fe's orchards, that this valley had better get ready for receiving a rush of home seekers. He added that no region of the west could long lack settlers after it were made known that it could produce such fruits as Santa Fe has on show at the fair.

The display of wind mills, steam pumps, gasoline engines, etc., at the fair grounds is one of the most attractive features. Some phenomenal pumps are shown and photographs of reservoirs filled with water by them indicate that many practical men throughout the west are aiding in the solution of the irrigation problem. The arid country's future is all right.

Ex-Gov. L. A. Sheldon got a hearty greeting at the hands of all Santa Feans yesterday. He was one of the foremost men in the discussions at the irrigation convention, and his speeches and opinions were received with marked consideration. It is fair to say that Gov. Sheldon made one of the best executives New Mexico ever had.

Among the irrigation delegates who spent yesterday here were Mr. A. C. Comer, the original water-melon man of Rocky Ford, Colo., who has done so much to make that section famous for melon growing. He is a native of Cooper county, Mo., and found a genial old-time friend in Judge J. H. Walker. Mr. Comer was elated over what he saw in Santa Fe's orchards. The land department of the government was ably represented at the irrigation congress by Judge Best, assistant land commissioner, whose home is in Georgia. Judge Best and his good wife spent yesterday here and were shown every hospitality by Col. C. G. Coleman, Judge J. H. Walker, Col. Thos. M. Jones and other citizens. They dined at the U. S. Indian School last evening and left during the night for Washington, going via Colorado Springs.

PAT CULLEN DEAD.

His Lifeless Body Found at the Bottom of a Shaft of One of His Mines—Death Supposed to Have Been Caused by Foul Air.

Pat Cullen, well known in Santa Fe county, died yesterday at Golden from the effects of foul air at the bottom of a shaft on his mine.

It appears that he went down into the mine alone about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. John Deboo, who was camping with him, had business in Golden and did not return until about 6 o'clock last evening, when he discovered Pat's absence, and, in searching for him, made the horrible discovery above named. Mat Cullen, a brother of the deceased, in Salt Lake City, has been wired for instructions as to the disposition of the remains.

The deceased was the owner of valuable gold properties in south Santa Fe county and his untimely death will serve to interfere with pending negotiations to introduce large capital for development purposes in that locality.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

'Tis a feat to fit the foot. Johnson & Co. can do it to your heart's content. There will be a meeting of Azatlan lodge, No. 3, I. O. O. F., this evening at their hall on lower Frisco street.

A bargain—we have 300 pounds of brewer and 150 pounds of nonpareil type, good condition, for sale at this office.

Mr. D. B. Robinson, first vice president and general manager of the A., T. & S. F. system, has been at Albuquerque all week in attendance at the fair. He is accompanied by a party of Chicago friends and they will arrive here in their special train to-morrow forenoon on a visit to Archbishop Chapelle.

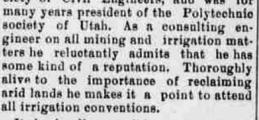

A 3-horse power upright engine and boiler, good condition, for sale at this office.

John Wilkerson, whose death at St. Vincent was recorded in these columns yesterday, was buried from Gable's undertaking rooms in Fairview cemetery at 12:30 this afternoon. Rev. F. T. Bennett conducted the funeral service.

Santa Fe's beautiful plaza looked like a green-carpeted parlor yesterday, when filled with the happy excursionists and their hospitable entertainers. The fine

It is hardly possible to express in words the feelings of pleasure which the parade this morning in Albuquerque excited in the breasts of its beholders. Though as a background to the picture there was a dash of war in its next scenes were those of the triumphs of peace and progress, of hope and happiness in the future. There was displayed every conceivable product of this fair climate, arranged both in trim and fantastic shapes, while the numerous floats loaded with the combined members of the American Society of Civil Engineers, and was for many years president of the Polytechnic society of Utah. As a consulting engineer on all mining and irrigation matters he reluctantly admits that he has some kind of reputation. Thoroughly alive to the importance of reclaiming arid lands he makes it a point to attend all irrigation conventions.

PERSONAL.

Postmaster Gable returned from Albuquerque last night. Mr. Felipe B. Delgado, of this city, is visiting friends in Las Vegas. Mrs. J. H. Sloan is in attendance upon the New Mexico musical contest at Las Vegas.

Mr. Arthur Seligman has returned home after a delightful visit to Cape May and other eastern resorts. Mrs. T. B. Catron and her youngest son returned to their home in Santa Fe from Massachusetts last night. Mr. J. N. Tholl, of Dallas, Texas, who has recently invested considerable capital in the J. C. Bender mines, near San Pedro, is in the city to-day.

Las Vegas Optic: James H. Carlisle, the conductor who has been transferred to the Santa Fe branch, will remove to the territorial capital. His family will probably go over to "the ancient" to-morrow. Hon. Carl Wiedenstein is in the city en route home to Watrous after seeing the fair. He is gratified over the character and extent of the exhibits there this year. Dr. Thos. H. Bates, of Dallas, Texas, interested in south Santa Fe county's mines, is visiting the city.

STRIKES AT BLAND.

A private letter from Bland informs the New Mexican that big strikes have been made this week in both the Crown Point and the Iron King mines. The ore encountered in the Crown Point is high grade free gold. The strike in the Iron King was made by Joseph S. Eagle, who took charge of this work about two weeks ago. Details will be given in these columns as soon as obtained.

Not as Bad as Reported. Sheriff Guadalupe Acarata, of Dona Ana county, who was a visitor at the capital yesterday, reports that the accounts of the recent shooting affray at Las Cruces were exaggerated. He says that Ben Williams will not only recover, but will probably not lose his arm, and that Morgan's injuries are not serious.

The U. S. Gov't Reports show Royal Baking Powder superior to all others.

music discoursed by Prof. Perez' band contributed much to the pleasure of the occasion.

While Santa Fe has contributed some 500 people to swell the crowd at the Albuquerque fair, with characteristic generosity and impartiality, this city also sent a delegation of about fifty to the territorial musical contest at Las Vegas to-day.

A special to the New Mexican from Albuquerque announces that the big ball game there this forenoon resulted as follows: Gallup, 7; Santa Fe, 4. These results were accomplished in spite of the fact that Jones, the left-handed Santa Fe twirler, struck out twenty-two men. Gallup is now virtually certain of the first prize.

The A., T. & S. F. company has generously made a rate of 1 cent per mile for all parties who visit Santa Fe October 17, to attend the festivities at the cathedral attending the conferring of the pallium upon Archbishop Chapelle. It is expected that several thousand visitors will be here on that occasion.

Mrs. A. J. Loomis, the pretty and versatile wife of Chief Clerk Loomis in Collector Shannon's office, is visiting Santa Fe to-day. She honored the New Mexican with a call and was much interested in viewing its several departments, being of the craft herself. Mrs. Loomis has been a power behind the throne in the Silver City Eagle office for over a year and has displayed marked ability both in the journalistic and business lines. She leaves for her home at Silver City this evening.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS.
