SAID PASHA ACCEPTS IT.

The Combined Powers Force Their Scheme for the Benefit of the Armenians.

CHRISTIAN OFFICERS TO HAVE CONTROL

A Comprehensive Plan Which the Turkish Government Has Had to Consent To—A Russian Vessel.

Constantinople, Oct. 16.—Said Pasha has accepted the scheme for reform in Armenia drawn up by Great Britain, France and Russia, and it now awaits the signature of the sultan.

The scheme is almost identical with the proposals of last May, which, in substance, were that the governors and vice-governors of Van, Erzeroum, Livan, Bostis, Khartoum and Trebizond may be Christian or Musselman according to the inclination of the population. But either the governor or vice-governor is to be a Christian and the appointments are to be confirmed by these powers. Local and not state officials are to collect the taxes and enough money is to be retained before it is forwarded to Constantinople to pay the expenses of the local administration.

Complete changes are to be made in the judicial system. Torture is to be abolished and the prisons will be under surveillance. The police will be composed of Christians and Turks equally and the laws against compulsory conversions to Islamism will be strictly enforced.

The ambassadors of the powers expect the whole question to be finally settled during this week by the promulgation of an imperial decree.

Contrary to the general expectation, the high commissioner, who will be charged with the execution of this scheme of reform, will be a Christian. This was the hardest pill for the powers to swallow and for a long time it threatened to bring about most serious complications.

A Russian war ship has arrived here. The situation at Lemid is critical. Christians are apprehensive of a Turkish outbreak.

A. T. & S. F. PRESIDENCY.

Jeffrey and the Robinsons Discussed—The English in Control of the New Organization.

Denver, Oct. 16.—George Coppell, of New York, chairman of the board of directors of the Rio Grande, arrived from the east yesterday, accompanied by President Jeffrey. They came directly from New York to attend the annual meeting of the Rio Grande and its collateral enterprises to be held in this city this week.

Mr. Jeffrey said there was absolutely nothing new about the Santa Fe business, which, through newspaper exploitation, he added, "had really become such a chestnut that nothing new could legitimately be said about it."

He would say nothing about the chances of his becoming the head of the Santa Fe system. "Whether or not A. A. Robinson of the Mexican Central would accept the presidency of the Santa Fe is something I am not prepared to answer," said J. H. Hampson, president of the Mexico, Cerrillos & Pacific railroad at the Crown Palace.

"The probability of his making such a change, I think is exceedingly doubtful. His position now is an enviable one as the absolute head of a great corporation. During his administration he has pulled the road out of the rut in grand shape and made it a tremendously valuable property. He is one of the biggest financiers on the continent; he has the fullest scope for his great activities in the position which he now holds and enjoys all the satisfaction and prestige which comes to a man who has scored a wonderful success. He enjoys the entire confidence of his stockholders, who have millions of money invested in a foreign country, and that, when it is secured, must be a great satisfaction to any man."

"Mr. Robinson would be a great man at the head of any railroad system in the country, but it seems to me he has a pretty good thing as it is. The other Robinson, D. B., who is now vice president and general manager of the Santa Fe, is a man of the most pronounced ability and certainly stands directly in line of promotion. Ordinarily it seems to me there would be little question of the result, but in this case the road goes out of the hands of the courts the middle of next month and the election will be by the householders, a majority of whom are English. Under the circumstances, therefore, until the new board of directors has been elected it is impossible to accurately predict what the outcome of that first election will be. The stockholders, a majority of whom I believe are Americans, will have control at the next annual meeting following. If they had the say-so now it might be easier to predict the result."

"The name of the man who will very probably succeed to the presidency of the Santa Fe has been so far mentioned in the newspapers as yet," said a large stockholder in the Santa Fe yesterday. "That man is D. B. Robinson, who is the now acting president of the road. He has been vice president and general manager and is a man thoroughly well qualified for the place. I do not take much stock in the statement that A. A. Robinson, of the Mexican Central, is in the line of succession. As a matter of fact Mr. Robinson has a pretty good thing as it is. He is president of the Mexican Central at a salary of $50,000 a year and he enjoys the prestige of having lifted the road out of the slough and largely increased the value of its stock. For these reasons I don't think it would accept the place were it offered him."

A writ issued. Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 16.—Today the attorney for William H. Garrett and John P. Meyers filed application for a writ of habeas corpus to secure the release from the custody of the Indian police at Tander, where they are held for interfering with Indian police while ejecting settlers. The relatives aver that Agent Beck has no jurisdiction over the strip of territory on which arrests were made. The writ was ordered to be issued by Judge Shires and directed against Agent Beck and David Styr, chief of Indian police, requiring them to appear before the federal court on Thursday to show by what authority they were held prisoners.

Looks Like War.

Paris, Oct. 16.—The Figaro to-day announces that Turpin, the inventor of Melinite, and whose recent claim that he had invented a number of deadly instruments of war, caused for a time quite a sensation in military circles, has been summoned to Constantinople on behalf of the Turkish government, which, it is claimed, proposes to utilize certain of his inventions for the defense of the Bosphorus and Dardanelles.

A SOFT GLOVE FAKE.

Arkansas Hot Springs Contest Will Not Be a Prize Fight—Fitz Probably Won't Agree to Use Baby Pillows.

Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 16.—A conference between the citizens' committee and officials of the Florida association was held last night. Gen. Taylor was before the committee and to him was submitted the revised articles of agreement and the five-ounce gloves which the men propose to use in the contest for scientific points. Whatever was accomplished by the committee is kept a profound secret. Mayor Waters intimates that there will be some early and interesting developments as a result of this conference.

Gov. Clarke is expected to arrive in the city this evening. In view of the determination expressed by the governor to arrest either Corbett or Fitzsimmons upon their arrival in the state the fact that Corbett has been arrested almost twenty-four hours and has not yet been placed in custody gives color to the belief that the governor was playing a game of bluff. The failure of the governor to carry out this program also has had the effect of increasing the confidence of the public in the ability of the local committee to bring off this contest under the revised contract entered into by the Florida Athletic club and William H. Brady, manager for Corbett.

It is thought by many that Fitzsimmons will refuse to sign the articles as he was not looking for a soft glove contest for a limited number of rounds. The five ounce gloves submitted to General Taylor for inspection looked as large as baby pillows and as harmless. Nearly all the members of the prize fighting contingent have put in appearance. Peter Maher and Steve O'Donnell came in on the same train last night as did Corbett.

BATTLE SHIP INDIANA.

Expectations More than Realized at Her Recent Trial Trip.

Boston, Oct. 16.—The battle ship Indiana, which left the Cramp's ship-yard on Saturday for an official trip, dropped anchor off the Boston light last night. From the south end of the lightship off the New Jersey coast, to the New South Shoals, Mass., the ship averaged 12 1/2 knots per hour with a head sea running. No attempt was made to approach the limit of 15 knots per hour, but the engines and boilers were found in first class condition. Commodore Selfridge, after reading the report sent him by the members of the trial board, said: "They bring me very gratifying news regarding the steadiness of the Indiana. She does not record a roll of over an even degree. This gives her almost a stationary gun platform, a condition very much to be desired when guns are used in action."

At noon the principal thoroughfares were lit with the ever known before. The spectators' reception at the Academy of Music was the event of the day.

RECEPTION TO THE CARDINAL

An Enthusiastic Multitude Welcomes the Church Dignitary to the City of the Holy Faith.

A SKETCH OF CARDINAL GIBBONS' LIFE.

Order of Services Attending the Investiture of the Holy Pallium Upon Archbishop Chapelle—Dedication of the Cathedral.

Fully 5,000 people greeted his Eminence, Cardinal Gibbons, and the distinguished clergymen accompanying him on his arrival from the east last evening. The party as met at Lamy junction by Gov. Thornton, Judge Laughlin, Mayor Esley, Archbishop Chapelle, Messrs. Ortiz y Salazar, Luciano Baca, F. B. Delgado, Jose Segura and other members of the reception committee, and when the handsome special train conveying them reached the A. T. & S. F. depot an enthusiastic shout of welcome was sent up.

Members of the reception committee who had remained to arrange the carriages met the guests as they left the car and opened a way through the dense throng, and soon the visitors were comfortably placed in vehicles and started toward the plaza. The procession was a very attractive one. Five hundred torch bearers lighted the way, marching on either side of the main procession, and two brass bands supplied the music. Along the route bonfires were lighted at intervals. All the Catholic institutions were brilliantly illuminated as were also many private residences. The crest of old Fort Marcy heights gave down a blaze of light. Arcades composed of a profusion of flowers, tapestries and richly illuminated by Japanese lamps, spanned the line of march at several points. The first was at Antonio Alarid's house, and was inscribed "welcome."

A beautiful arch was erected in front of the W. H. Mansfield's home, opposite St. Michael's college, was an arch from which hung an illuminated frame showing excellent pictures of the cardinal on one side and Archbishop Chapelle on the other. When the visitors passed the historic San Miguel chapel there was a mingling of the ancient and modern that must have left a vivid impression on their minds. The sacred edifice was brilliant with lights. On the modern stone coping in front burned chemical fires of many colors and above the din and noise of the crowd could be heard the deep, touching tones of the organ.

Proceeding to the archiepiscopal residence the visitors were escorted into the reception room and here, after the reception committee headed by the governor had formally welcomed them to the City of the Holy Faith, the crowd quickly dispersed.

To-day the visitors have spent pretty much all of their time sight-seeing. At 10 o'clock the 1st regiment, N. M. N. G. band, from Albuquerque, gave a gala concert which many enjoyed and at 4 o'clock a plaza concert was given by Prof. Perez' band. At 5 o'clock the visiting prelates took carriage and repaired to St. Katherine Indian school where a royal dinner was served.

TOMORROW'S EVENT.

To-morrow morning at 10 o'clock will occur at the cathedral the impressive ceremony attending the conferring of the holy pallium upon his grace, Archbishop Chapelle.

The order of services for this occasion is as follows: The reverend clergy will meet in the sacristy of the cathedral at 9 o'clock. At 9:30 sharp, the procession will start and escort the cardinal from the archbishop's house in the following order: Coadjutors, cross bearers, acolytes, banner bearers, train bearers, officiating priests.

From the archbishop's house the procession will proceed to the cathedral in the same order. Each bishop will be accompanied by two priests walking on either side and followed by a train bearer.

Only the officers and the prelates will enter the choir; the others will go to the right and left in the side aisles. Those accompanying the bishops, the assistants of Archbishop Chapelle excepted, will bow to them at the railing and retire.

The investiture services will open with the solemn votive mass of St. Francis, interspersed with appropriate music. Most Rev. J. J. Kain, archbishop of St. Louis, will preach after the gospel and Right Rev. P. Bourgade, of Arizona, at the end of the mass will deliver sermon on the history of the church. The principal oration of the pallium will take place immediately thereafter. After the services the prelates will be escorted back to the archbishop's house in the same order and by the same assistants as before the beginning of mass.

It is probable that the visiting prelates will remain ever Sunday. On Friday forenoon Cardinal Gibbons will preside at the formal dedication of the cathedral of St. Francis of Assisi.

Other prelates are expected to arrive in the city to-night. Among them Archbishop Riordan, of San Francisco, Bishop Bourgade, of Arizona, two bishops from Los Angeles, and two from Texas.

SKETCH OF CARDINAL GIBBONS.

James Cardinal Gibbons was born in Baltimore, on July 23, 1824; was educated at St. Charles' college and St. Mary's seminary, of that city, and was ordained as a priest on June 30, 1851. After a few years' pastorate, he became chancellor of the diocese under Archbishop Spalding, and in 1868 he was created vicar apostolic of North Carolina with the rank and style of bishop. In 1873, he was translated to the see of Richmond, Va., and in 1877 was appointed coadjutor with right of succession to the see of Baltimore. On October 3 of the same year he succeeded to the archiepiscopacy on the death of Archbishop Bailey. In 1883 he visited Rome to confer with His Holiness, Pope Leo XIII, upon the state of the church, and in November, 1884, he presided over the council of Baltimore. On June 30, 1886, Archbishop Gibbons became a cardinal.

The illustrious prelate has a world-wide reputation as a man of distinguished ability, unsparring scholarship, beautiful simplicity and purity of personal life and absorbing devotion to the cause of the mighty church of which he is the head in the United States as well as to all other instrumentalities calculated to promote the well of the human family. He is an advanced and progressive thinker, a writer of matchless skill as his books, "The Faith of Our Fathers" and "Our Christian Heritage," plentifully prove; an orator of the first class, as all who have heard his clear, musical and powerful voice bear eager testimony; a zealous champion of the cause of temperance and a devotee to the cause of purity in personal life.

In the party were his Eminence, James Cardinal Gibbons, archbishop of Baltimore; Most Rev. J. B. Salpointe, titular archbishop of Tomi; Most Rev. J. J. Kain, archbishop of St. Louis, Mo.; Right Rev. P. J. Donhue, bishop of Wheeling, W. Va.; Right Rev. J. J. Hennessy, bishop of Wichita, Kas.; Rev. Father Heardon, the cardinal's private secretary; Rev. Father Feehan, of Baltimore; Rev. Father F. Kenney, of Baltimore; Rev. Father McCabe, of Baltimore; also Dr. Butler, of Chicago.

GIBBON BEATS MILES.

The Veteran Soldier Elected Grand Commander of the Loyal Legion To-day.

Washington, Oct. 16.—The commandery in chief of the Loyal Legion sat in biennial session today. General Lucius Fairchild, grand commander, presided. There were seventy-seven delegates, representing every state except Oregon. The first ballot for commander resulted: General Miles, 27; General John Gibbon, 16; General Swayne, 11. General Gibbon was elected on the second ballot, receiving sixty votes to twenty for General Miles. Miles lacked only one vote of election on the first ballot and it is believed would have succeeded on the second but for the superior age of General Gibbon, which influenced many delegates.

Cabinet Meeting.

Washington, Oct. 16.—All members of the cabinet except Secretary Morton and Postmaster General Wilson gathered at the White house at noon to-day in answer to a summons from the president, and the first informal cabinet meeting in several months was held, probably for the purpose of enabling the cabinet officers to report to the president the state of business in their respective departments.

THE POPE SPEAKS.

A Letter to the American Catholic Hierarchy Condemning the Congresses of Religion.

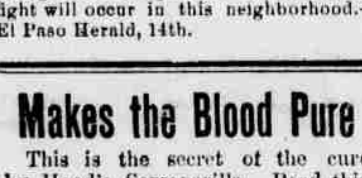

Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—Pope Leo has written an important letter to the Catholic hierarchy of America condemning the assembling of congresses of religion. The letter was the main subject considered at the recent assembling of archbishops at Washington, but all efforts at archbishops took not. He learned, but with the views of the pope thus clearly expressed doubtless the American church will annihilate all congresses of religion the same way as the interdiction was placed on Catholic participation in the Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows and other societies.

Muffed by Gas.

St. Louis, Oct. 16.—Meredith Mahon and Francis M. Chilton, of Eminence, Shannon county, Mo., were found in a room at the Ridgeway hotel at 8 o'clock this morning, the former dead and the latter dying from suffocation by gas. They were well known stockraisers in Shannon county and came here with cattle to sell. It is supposed they blew out the gas.

This is the secret of the cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this: "I am so glad to write that I am now in perfect health and it is all because Hood's Sarsaparilla made my blood pure. My health broke down with troubles peculiar to women, my nervous system was shattered and I had to take my bed. The physician said there was little hope for me.
