

Cultivating the voice without a tuncful accompaniment is impossible. Happily both singers and hearers are delighted with our checkmate pianos, used in vocal practice. These instruments have the qualities which make them admirably adapted to accompany the refined and accomplished vocalist. Nothing could blend more perfectly than the voice and instrument when one of our pianos is used. The better a piano is for accompaniment, the better it is for instrumental compositions. Our pianos are unequalled for all purposes, and their excellence is all the more remarkable in view of the price at which we are able to offer them. Our pianos are generally called wash-boards.

Senator Morgan Expresses Himself on Subject of England's Troubles in the Orient.

UNCLE SAM SHOULD NOT INTERFERE

First Case Appealed from Court of Private Land Claims Argued in Supreme Court—Much Interest in the Outcome—The Walker Case.

Washington, Nov. 1.—"Whether the newspapers are technically correct in stating that a treaty has been consummated between Russia and China for occupancy of the harbor at Port Arthur by a Russian fleet and the extension of the Siberian railroad through Manchuria, I am confident that such an arrangement is among the probabilities in the near future, and when it is made the government of the United States should do nothing to prevent its consummation," said Senator Morgan, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, today.

"Our interests in this instance as in most others are antagonistic to those of England," continued the senator. "That country is merely seeking in this matter to hold the trade advantage she now enjoys in the orient, and being her rival in the commerce of that section, there is every reason why we should not pull her chestnuts out of the fire."

LAND GRANT CASE IN SUPREME COURT. Much interest is felt by the law officers and residents of the southwest in the Nogueira grant case, argument of which has just been heard by the United States supreme court. It is the first of the cases decided by the court of private land claims to be heard by the supreme court and was advanced on the docket because it was regarded as a test case. If decided on its general merits, as the attorneys pressed the point that it would be, it will become a precedent for a large number of cases now pending. If the court confines its opinion to only one point of the case, the opinion would be of advantage only to those interested in this special case.

Matthew G. Reynolds, special attorney employed by the government, stated today that there were originally 287 of these cases, of which 160 had been disposed of in various ways. They cover, exclusive of the Peralta grant, about 25,000,000 acres, including many towns and mining districts. Twenty of these cases are now on the supreme court docket. The Nogueira grant, whose validity will certainly be decided as a result of the recent hearing, numbers 25,000 acres and includes the town of Nogueira, a place of 1,500 inhabitants.

THE WALKER CASE. The state department has notified Mrs. Walker that any statement she wishes to make, or any papers she desires to file in her husband's behalf, should be put in immediately, because of the desire of the department to take the case up for consideration.

CORBETT-FITZSIMMONS.

Both Fugitives Continue Talking Bravely—Possibility that Fight May Be Fought Off in El Paso.

Hot Springs, Nov. 1.—Corbett and Brady left here for Little Rock on the 7 o'clock train this morning.

FITZSIMMONS' WAGGING TONGUE. Little Rock.—Fitzsimmons said today to a correspondent of the Associated Press:

"There will be no fight in Arkansas. I am done with the Florida Athletic club and have no use for the citizens of Hot Springs."

Fitzsimmons said he would not fight in this state if it was against the law. "I am a law-abiding citizen," he said, "and I don't want to go to prison if I know myself."

In company with his manager and trainer, Corbett arrived at Little Rock at 10 o'clock this morning.

"I am in readiness to fight now and always have been," said Corbett. "I asked nothing unreasonable of Fitzsimmons and honestly think he is keeping away from me."

LOOKS VERY PROBABLE. St. Louis.—A special from Hot Springs to the Post-Dispatch says: "Sini's latest proposition is to hang up a $30,000 purse for Corbett and Fitzsimmons, the fight to take place across the river from El Paso, Texas, on November 19. Sini says that he will put up a guarantee that he can pull off the battle."

ROME SEVERELY SHAKEN.

Historical Mistress of the Seven Hills Experiences a Prolonged Earthquake Shock—Vastness of the Shock—Tranquillity of the Pope.

Rome, Nov. 1.—A severe and prolonged earthquake shock was felt here at 4:38 this morning. Many houses swayed badly, walls were cracked, pictures fell, and people ran panic-stricken into the streets.

Happily this first shock seems to have ended in a subterranean disturbance, and no serious damage was done.

The prison of Regina Coeli was so badly shaken that the prisoners broke out into open revolt and tried to escape. Troops from the neighboring barracks were hastily summoned and the prisoners were driven back at the point of the bayonet.

The Vatican walls were severely shaken, but the pope was perfectly tranquil throughout the disturbance.

Hallowe'en Fatality.

Monmouth, Ill., Nov. 1.—Willie Mitchell, aged 15, while hallowe'ening with other boys, was shot in the back last night by George Ganning, aged 20. Mitchell will probably die.

A Denver Libel Suit.

Denver, Nov. 1.—Hon. Thomas M. Patterson, proprietor of the Rocky Mountain News, has been arrested on a charge of criminal libel, preferred by the officers of the Denver Tramway company. The complaint is based on an article in the News of Tuesday, which claimed that juries in the cases where the tramway company is defendant are systematically corrupted. Damages amounting to $200,000 are asked.

COLD COMFORT FOR BRITAIN

Gov. Lees of British Guiana Talks of the Status of the Venezuelan Matter.

London, Nov. 1.—Sir Charles Cameron Lees, K. C. M. G., governor of British Guiana, has arrived here, having been recalled to England to confer with Colonial Secretary Chamberlain on the Venezuelan boundary question. He said:

"I regard the frontier outrage (the so-called Uran incident) purely an individual act, as the British subjects, Barnes and Barnes, arrested by Venezuelan officers, when brought before the higher representatives of the Venezuelan government, were asked by them to return to the British territory. But they declined on the ground that there was no means of transit back."

The Uran incident referred to was that upon which the reported British ultimatum to Venezuela was based. A British sergeant of police, Barnes, and two assistants crossed the river at Uran and planted the British flag on the Venezuelan side. Venezuela police tore down the flag, drove the intruders across the stream and subsequently arrested them. Sir Charles said:

"In regard to the vote on Chamberlain's suggestion the matter was purely an imperial one. The only point, consisting of seven men at Uran, being merely a police station, to mark the frontier on the Schomburgk boundary line, and there is practically no military force there at all, although the colonial government has repeatedly asked for a supply of Maxim guns."

The Associated Press representative asked the governor if any difficulty was likely to arise out of the concession made to American capitalists by Venezuela. He said:

"No concessions have been made within the sphere of British influence and therefore no difficulty is likely to occur. I have no idea that there will be any serious resistance to the British demands growing out of the Uran incident, as the Venezuelan government seems desirous of doing everything possible to repair any injury done British subjects."

Canada's Fiscal Statement.

Ottawa, Canada, Nov. 1.—The annual report of Canada's finance department for the year 1895, just issued, shows a great increase in the quantity of real estate mortgaged and in total loans. The value of the real estate mortgaged is $155,800,000, compared with $119,916,000 in 1894, an increase of nearly $35,000,000. Total loans for 1894 are $121,600,000, as against $115,848,000 in 1893, an increase of over $5,752,000. These figures show that never in its history has Canadian land been so heavily mortgaged. Since 1878 the increase in total loans has been over 350 per cent.

THE PHENOMENAL CRIMINAL

Commonwealth Closes Its Case Against Holmes in Oyer and Terminer Court at Philadelphia.

THE DEFENDANT'S BOOK IN EVIDENCE

Evidence All Points Unmistakably to the Guilt of the Defendant—Cool Request Denied by the Court—Holmes Will Take the Stand.

Philadelphia, Nov. 1.—The commonwealth has promised to close its case today and in all probability Holmes will be the first and perhaps the only witness for the defense. There is a pretty general belief that if he goes on the stand he will do more to hang himself than all the evidence of the commonwealth.

Today's session began by the recalling of Mrs. Peitel. Mr. Graham asked her if there were any cuts on the shirts she yesterday identified as her husband's.

She said that she believed Holmes took them from the trunk and destroyed them.

On cross-examination Mr. Shoemaker rigidly questioned the unfortunate woman concerning her travels with Holmes and her subsequent arrest for conspiracy.

His apparent intention was to show that Mrs. Peitel had been

THE CONTROLLING INFLUENCE during their ramblings through the country and that she carried Holmes about in an attempt to evade arrest.

"You want to prove that she is not Tribby, but Svengali," suggested Judge Arnold. "That she led him."

This remark was thrown out in a dispute over the relevancy of the cross-examination, which was not pushed farther.

Edward H. Cass, the Chicago agent of the insurance company which Holmes defrauded, testified that he visited Holmes' house in Williamstown, Ill. He did not see Holmes, but met a woman calling herself Mrs. Holmes. He identified her picture, in which she is shown holding an infant, Holmes' child, lovingly against her face.

MANUSCRIPT OF HOLMES' BOOK. John King, who had charge of the manuscript and read the proofs of "Holmes' own Story," testified that he got some copy from Shoemaker, Holmes' lawyer, and some from Miss Long, a typewriter in Shoemaker's office, and published just what he received.

Amy Long, the typewriter referred to, said that she received the manuscript from Shoemaker. It was in pencil and in handwriting unknown to her. A specimen of her hand in Holmes' call was shown to her, and she identified it as same.

Detective Geyer, recalled, said that he had been sent to Holmes' cell five weeks ago to see if any person was concealed there. While making the search he came upon the manuscript of the book and brought it to the district attorney.

Grier also found in Holmes' cell a letter to John King about the sale of the book.

The commonwealth offered in evidence the letters, papers, pictures and Holmes' book, and rested its case.

The defense recalled Miss York for re-examination on the question of her marriage with Holmes, which was not brought out in the examination yesterday.

She declared that when she married him she believed she was becoming a lawful wife. She said that in order to bring about this marriage, he told her mother that his dead uncle left him certain properties in the southwest in Fort Worth, providing he took his uncle's name, Henry Manville Howard, and that he had no relatives living except an aunt in Africa. He explained that he took the name of Previtt in Ft. Worth by saying that his business complications required it.

Miss York, at the conclusion of her testimony, laid her head in her hands on the back of her chair. Her presence did not move Holmes to-day.

The court at 1 o'clock took an hour's recess.

Lawyer Rotan, of counsel for Holmes, said this afternoon that he expected to close his side of the case in about two hours and that there was every probability of the case going to the jury to-night.

COOL CLAIM OF DEFENSE.

Upon the reassembling of court Mr. Rotan, addressing the judge, said that the commonwealth had failed to prove that Peitel was killed and asked the judge to take the case from the jury or give them binding instructions. The judge refused to do so. Rotan then asked for a continuance for an hour to decide on a line of defense. The judge granted a recess of half an hour.

Lincoln's Monument. Springfield, Ill., Nov. 1.—The Lincoln monument at Oak Ridge cemetery, which has for the past twenty years been admired by thousands from all over the world, will have to be torn down. It is too far gone to be repaired and besides its construction is such that it will not admit of repair.

Governor Altgeld stated that the monument could not be repaired and made permanent. He favors tearing down the structure and erecting a solid granite shaft in its stead. He says the trustees have nearly money enough to do this, though they do not feel like taking the step unless requested to do so by the surviving members of President Lincoln's family.

The Lincoln monument was completed in October, 1874, and cost $206,500, which amount was raised by popular subscription. Instead of being granite it is a brick monument, and has a veneering of granite slabs three inches thick. The trustees feel that the state of Illinois should have a monument to Lincoln that is not a sham but a solid structure.

AUDACITY OF THE TURKS.

United States May Have to Employ Heroic Measures to Protect American Citizens.

Constantinople, Nov. 1.—Advices from Marsovan, Asia Minor, show that the trouble anticipated by U. S. Ambassador Terrill, in his dispatch to the state department of August last, has culminated in an attempt to burn the American college there. It is added that the would-be incendiaries have been discovered.

Ambassador Terrill has notified the authorities at Washington that Garabed, a naturalized American citizen, has been assassinated at Marsovan, close to a church door, where he was going to attend religious service.

Garabed was one of the students previously sent away from the college at the request of the Turkish authorities, on the ground that he was connected with the Armenian revolutionists. He was the chief man of the protestant community at Marsovan and chairman of the council of thirty held responsible for the peace of the city.

Garabed, however, is said to have been murdered by the revolutionists because he had given the government information regarding their plans.

FLIGHT AGAINST THE PALACE. Yarn, Bulgaria.—According to advices from Constantinople, there seems to be no doubt that the report of the discovery of the plot against the palace, on Monday evening last, is correct. Three Musulmans are said to have been arrested in Stambul in connection with it.

Considerable alarm is reported to exist at Yildizkioek in consequence of the fact that the Albanian guards have refused to do duty there any longer. It is supposed that the guards were suborned by the Musulmans and there seems little doubt that eight soldiers were executed. Twenty-four others sent to different prisons.

In Anatolia, the feeling of discontent against the rule of the Sultan is becoming so marked that important events are expected to take place shortly. A fusion of the Musulman and Armenian committees is believed to be imminent and it is said on good authority that a joint revolutionary manifesto will shortly be issued.

Broadhead's Letters of Recall.

Berne, Nov. 1.—James O. Broadhead, United States minister to Switzerland, presented to President Frey his letters of recall yesterday.

Washington.—Minister Broadhead's retirement from his post is understood to be entirely voluntary. His resignation was tendered to the president about six weeks ago. The minister is advanced in years and it is due to a desire to first obtain a rest and then be able in future to give his attention to private affairs that he retires from his diplomatic duties.

There was a great time at Samuel Rogers' golden anniversary last night. The roll was called and twenty-one grandchildren and three great-grandchildren were found to be the number of descendants in the second and third generations.—Las Vegas Optic.

It was expected that there would be a plethora of passes on No. 1 yesterday, but Conductor Joe Richey reports but one presented for passage, and that was by Dick Dunn, who was returning from Denver to Trinidad.—Las Vegas Optic.

The house of bishops has detached El Paso and two or three neighboring counties from western Texas and attached this territory to New Mexico. This action goes into effect January 1, 1896. Bishop Johnston will make his usual visitation and administer the rite of confirmation on the first Sunday in Advent, December 1. Bishop Kendrick will visit the parish officially in February next.

Quite a large meeting was held Tuesday evening, at which Capt. G. W. Cook presided and J. H. Kleintz acted as secretary. The report of the committee announcing the name to be the Northern New Mexico Fair association, and that the capital stock be fixed at $20,000, in shares of $5 each, was adopted. It was ordered that an option be taken on forty acres of ground just east of the cemetery for fair purposes.—Raton Range.

He Obedied the Saints.

Guerrero, Mex., Nov. 1.—It is reported that the auxiliary judge of Teacapa, obeying the mandate of some of the saints who appeared to him in a vision, ordered the burning of two women and a child, which order was carried into effect by fifteen persons who believed in the vision. All the parties to the horrible affair have been arrested by order of the president of the municipality. Investigations are proceeding.
