SMOOTH EXPRESS ROBBERY

Twenty Thousand Dollar Money Package Secured by Masked Men at Colorado Springs Last Night.

AGENT FORCED TO OPEN THE SAFE

His Presence of Mind Saves the Company $35,000 More—Believed that Robbers Lately Broke Jail—Blood-Hounds on the Trail.

Colorado Springs, Nov. 12.—The Wells-Fargo Express company has given out the following official statement regarding the robbery at the Santa Fe depot last night. Twenty thousand dollars were sent from Denver to the First National Bank of Colorado Springs early in the afternoon.

They were known what they wanted. Evidently the thieves knew of its existence. When train No. 6 came in, about 9:45, there were other packages aboard containing currency to the amount of $36,000, consigned to the same bank. These packages were delivered to the agent and placed in the safe.

After the train departed Agent Geo. Krout went to the platform to straighten the trucks standing there, and when he returned to the office, he was met at the door by two masked men with drawn revolvers.

The package containing the $20,000 was demanded and the agent was compelled to open the safe and give it up.

The agent said nothing about the remaining packages and the robbers left at once. When Krout entered the office two men, one tall, the other short, confronted him with revolvers and commanded him to throw up his hands. Krout obeyed.

Then one of the robbers said: "Not a word from you; we want you to open that safe, and be quick about it." TURNED THE COMBINATION WITH TREMBLING HANDS.

With trembling hands the agent slowly turned the combination. When the door swung open Krout explained that there was only one package there, and, reaching in, picked up the envelope containing $20,000, which he handed to the short man. He then closed the heavy door.

Krout's action in handing out the $20,000 package and then closing the doors of the safe saved the company $35,000.

During all this time the thieves did not appear in the least excited. The robbers ordered Krout to undress himself and to get into bed. After he had done so one of the men took the pains to see that the quilts and comforters were drawn tightly over his head, and tucked down. They then left.

When Krout plucked up courage to go outside there was no one in sight. BLOOD-HOUNDS ON THE TRAIL.

Before 11 o'clock posse were scouring the vicinity of the depot. Blood-hounds tracked the men along Pike's Peak avenue through the heart of the city. On the theory that they have gone to Cripple Creek over the Cheyenne Mountain road, a posse has started from that city to head them off.

The depot agent was not 100 yards from Krout's office while the robbery was being committed, but knew nothing about it until informed by Krout.

THE PERSONS SUSPECTED. The express company's officials believe that the robbery was committed by A. J. Gray, alias Sam Wells, and J. G. Stuart, alias C. J. Starr, who were arrested for the theft of $16,000 from the express wagon at Cripple Creek on April 11, and who recently, in company with Tom McCarthy, escaped from jail in this city.

R. L. Montgomery, who was a prisoner at the time of the escape, notified the police in Denver several days ago that Gray and Stuart plotted, when in jail, to rob the express company. The officials of the company also believe that the robbers had an accomplice in the bank.

THREE INDIANS KILLED.

Serious Trouble May Emerge in Southwestern Colorado if the Murders Are Traced to Whites.

Durango, Colo., Nov. 12.—Deputy Sheriff Joseph Smith and Stanley Day, son of Indian Agent David Day, accompanied by six Indians from the Southern Utah agency, started to-day for Lost Canon, near Dolores, where it is reported that two Indian braves, Ro-e-naw and A-co-wis-cougan and a squaw have been murdered. It is conjectured that the murders were committed by Indians, as no reason for the killing of the Indians by whites can be assigned. Should the killing be traced to whites, serious trouble may ensue.

Ex-Consul Waller Will Soon Be Released—Cons Defenses Advocated by Miles—Official Views of Southern Ute Trouble.

Washington, Nov. 12.—There is a definite understanding among the attaches of the French legation that ex-Consul Waller will be released before New Year's day in pursuance of the policy of the new ministry of France to extend amnesty to all political offenders, and not as a result of representations by the United States authorities.

REPORT IN THE ARMY.

The annual report of the general commanding the army has been made public. Gen. Miles believes the peaceable conditions now existing among the Indian tribes is largely attributable to the presence of troops at suitable points.

While it is economical and desirable to have reserve forces of the army near great centers of communication, Gen. Miles earnestly contends that these points should be selected for strategic value and a tendency toward concentration should not be carried to the point of depriving western settlements of proper protection.

The report gives due attention to improved coast defenses. Touching the infantry, Gen. Miles recommends three battalion organization and regimental posts, to keep companies of regiments together. He thinks that one full regiment of cavalry should be assembled at Fort Riley, Kan., where field maneuvers might be undertaken annually.

THE SUPREME COURT. In the supreme court yesterday afternoon the Stanford case was set for the first Monday in January. In the case of John D. Behner vs. the United States, the court decided that lands entered under homestead laws were not by the mere act of entry so segregated from the public domain as to give the homesteader the right to sell timber from the entry; in doing so he is liable to criminal prosecution.

TURKISH SITUATION GRAVE

The Sultan Continues to Please Himself by Treating the Powers with Insolence.

WILL BE HUMBLER BY POSITIVE FORCE

England, France, Italy and the United States will Take a Hand if Heroic Measures Are Employed—Rioting and Bloodshed Continue.

Copyrighted 1895 by Associated Press. Constantinople, Nov. 12.—Each day shows that the situation here grows more threatening.

The porte to-day, replying to the identical notes of the ambassadors of Germany, Austria and Italy, simply said that the information regarding the scheme for reform in Armenia would be forwarded to representatives of the powers "without delay." In other words that three ambassadors, at least, obtained no satisfaction at all.

Surprise is expressed even by the diplomats of this city, who expect almost anything from the porte, at the action of the sultan in sanctioning the official note issued yesterday, as called by the Associated Press, expressing Abdul Hamud's thanks for the "energetic measures taken by the imperial authorities," in suppressing the disturbance in Asia Minor, asserting that "order had now been restored in all the districts recently the scenes of riots and conflicts," and adding that preparations had been taken to insure the maintenance of order.

MAKING A LIST OF THE POWERS.

This reply looks like making a list of the ambassadors. Advice received to-day announce fresh disturbances at Marash, Bitlis and Sivas with attendant massacres.

It is announced that the battalion of Turkish troops in the garrison at Seiton, which recently distinguished itself by surrounding and shooting down Armenian insurgents, was later besieged in the barracks by Armenians, to whom the soldiers eventually capitulated with their arms and ammunition. The Armenians now occupy the quarters at Seiton previously occupied by the Turkish soldiers.

The Armenians have also garrisoned all the important positions in and about Seiton and are gathering ammunition and provisions, throwing up fortifications and in every way preparing to hold the place.

According to advices to-day from Hadjin, several villages in that vicinity have been attacked by rioters, who massacred the inhabitants and plundered their property.

FORCE WILL BE EMPLOYED.

It is stated this afternoon in European official circles here that, as a result of the additional exchange of views between the powers, it is believed that a joint course of action, involving a display of naval and possibly military force, has already been decided upon.

A SENSATIONAL SCENE.

The Healer Refused to Treat a Man To-day Because He Was a Murderer—The Man Slunk Away.

Denver, Nov. 12.—Healer Schlader refused to take the hand of a man, who approached him in line to-day, saying: "I can not treat you!"

"Why?" insisted the man. "Shall I tell you? Do you desire me to tell you right here before all these people?" asked the healer.

"Yes," said the man impudently. "I can not treat you because you are a murderer," said the healer. The man slunk away and was soon lost in the crowd.

WHITNEY-PAGET NUPTIALS

Daughter of Ex-Secretary Whitney and the Son of Lord Paget United in Marriage.

JUST FOUR HUNDRED GUESTS BIDDEN

Ceremony Solemnized at Noon Amid Scenes of Great Glitter and Pomp

Newly Wedded Couple will Settle at St. Paul, Minn.

New York, Nov. 12.—The marriage of Miss Pauline Payne Whitney to Mr. Almeric Paget was solemnized at noon to-day at St. Thomas church.

The bride is the daughter of William C. Whitney, the former secretary of the navy. The groom is the youngest son of the late Lord Alfred Paget, personal aide-camp to the queen and grandson of the first Marquis of Anglesea.

The scene within the church was a beautiful one, the floral decorations being on a magnificent scale.

Among the guests were President Cleveland, Secretary Dan Lammont, Secretary Herbert, Gov. and Mrs. Morton, Sir Julian Pauncefote and the members of the British embassy and Dr. Chaucey M. Depew.

In honor of the occasion, Edouard de Pezke and Mme. Nordica sang Faure's duo from Mendelssohn's "Elijah."

Just before the betrothal service Mme. Nordica sang Gounod's "Ave Maria" and Frank Ondrick rendered Land's "Elegie" on the violin.

THE WEDDING MARCH.

Soon after 12 o'clock, the strains of the wedding march, the bridal party proceeded to the chancel in the following order: Ushers, Gould Hoyt, John C. Furman, H. Maitland Kersey, W. Cutting, Jr., Withrop Rutherford, Jared Howe, Crawford Livingston and the bride's brother, Harry Whitney.

They came the four little flower maidens, Misses Catherine Barney, Laura Whitney, Frances Bingham and Dorothy Whitney, the bride's sister.

Following these came the six bridesmaids, Misses Gertrude Vanderbilt, Emily Vanderbilt Sloan, Azuba Barney, Beatrice Bond, Susie Dimmock and Edith Blake Brown.

Miss Whitney, who entered, leaning on the arm of her father, made a beautiful bride. Her wedding gown, of ivory white satin, was perfectly plain without lace or embroidery save a heavy silk cord around the edge. Her veil was made from a splendid piece of point lace, worn by the bride's mother, which extended almost to her train.

The bride and groom were met at the chancel steps by Bishops Potter and Leonard and the rector, Dr. John Wesley Brown, where the charge was read by the rector.

MARRIAGE CEREMONY AT THE ALTAR RAIL.

Dr. Leonard performed the betrothal service and Bishop Potter officiated at the marriage ceremony proper at the altar rail.

The president and Sir Julian Pauncefote subscribed their names to the marriage registry as witnesses.

A reception was held at the residence of the bride's father to which 400 guests were bidden.

In the inner hall an immense bed of white flowers was hung, beneath which the bridal couple received the congratulations of the friends. The decorations of the house were simple and effective.

The wedding breakfast was served at small tables set in the ball room and dining room. The bridal party was seated at a crescent-shaped table arranged across the bay window.

The bridal couple will pass a part of their honeymoon at Mr. Whitney's country seat at Westbury, L. I., and later will tour through the eastern states en route to St. Paul, Minn., where Mr. Paget and bride will make their home.

Brought and Epidemic.

Pana, Ill., Nov. 11.—The most disastrous drought for years was broken yesterday by a twenty-four hour rain. Some snow fell.

Fairbury, Ill.—The continuous drought in this section has at last been broken by twelve hours of raining, which turned into snow, and the latter reached a depth of two inches. The rain was badly needed. Typhoid fever prevailed around here, with fatal cases, and neighboring cities report diphtheria and scarlet fever. The latter is in Forrest, five miles east, where the schools have been closed and rigid quarantine enforced.

THE ALLISON BOOM.

The Iowa Senator Has Formally Announced His Presidential Aspirations in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—The Times-Herald to-day says: Senator W. B. Allison, candidate for the Republican nomination for president, will start his boom in Chicago to-day.

He enters the field aggressively, asking the support of western men, while Jas. S. Clarkson is working for his interest in the east.

The plan, which, it is said upon good authority, Clarkson is engineering, has for its object the nomination of Allison for president and Gen. McAlpine, of New York, for the second place.
