The New Mexican understands from an authentic source that a change is to be made at the Presbyterian Mission School in this city. Miss M. L. Allison, the present manager, has tendered her resignation and it will be accepted to take effect April 1. Her successor is to be Miss M. Bertha Leadingham, a young lady from the state of New York. She has had experience in teaching both public and missionary schools. Since September 1, she has been teaching the Presbyterian Mission School at Embudo Plaza, where she has scored a gratifying success, bringing the school from an average attendance of 18 up to 55 pupils. In addition to the people paying a tuition for each pupil, they have furnished all the wood necessary for heating the school room. She is very much loved and appreciated by the people there and they regret exceedingly her departure. The New Mexican speaks for her a hearty welcome to this city and believes that she will prove a capable and worthy successor to Miss Allison, that noble woman who gave unselfishly so many of the best years of her life to the upbuilding of the Mission School here.

Mrs. N. B. Laughlin on Tuesday afternoon received at her home on the South Side. The parlors were decorated with palms and in the dining room carnations were used. Pantomime charades illustrating Shakespeare's plays were given and Miss Morrison correctly guessed the largest number and was presented with a copy of Lamb's Tales from Shakespeare. Mrs. Julius H. Gerdes poured the coffee and the refreshments were served by Misses Allie and Kate Mueller and Ruth and Helen Laughlin. Those present were Mrs. Rogers of Wisconsin, Mrs. Pollard of Deming, Mrs. Fall of Las Cruces, Mrs. Jones of Cedar Rapids, Ia., Miss Pendleton of Aztec, Miss Hughes of Albuquerque, Miss Rothgeb of Las Vegas, Miss Davis of Pennsylvania, Mesdames W. Legislators

If all the legislators should die in one night 'Twould leave this country in a terrible plight. The passenger trains would rust on the rail and the hotel business be dead as a nail.

No man would hear the sound of the gong, And livery rigs would sell for a song; The hinges of the theater doors would rust, The street cars and omnibusses crumble to dust.

LOOKING FOR WORK. Men Who Are Anxious to Labor Among the Flocks in New Mexico. To the Editor of the New Mexican. Dear Sir: I have seen in the papers that the shepherds of New Mexico were scouring the towns hunting for men to take care of their flocks during lambing time. So will you please inform me as to whether I can get work there and what the wages are and you will do me a favor. There are three or four others here with me that might come if we could get work. We are not experienced shepherds, but are off of farms back east and are not afraid of work. If any one needs one or more of us tell them to let us know what we may expect in regard to board and wages and they will hear from us immediately. Respectfully yours, ALLEN ROLSTON. El Paso, Texas.
