Minor City Topics

Twenty per cent off on all merchandise bought at Ehle's the balance of this week, regardless of the cost of the goods.

Failure to secure a quorum last night caused another postponement of a meeting of the city council, and the next date set for the adjourned session will be subject to the call of either the mayor or president of the council. Only two aldermen put in an appearance last night, namely H. S. Kaune and Theodore Castillo, and City Clerk A. P. Hill. The city council has not taken any action yet regarding gaming licenses, some of which have already expired or will expire within a few weeks, and the gamekeepers want to have the renewals prorated to the end of the year, when licensed gambling will be entirely abolished.

There is only one tailoring establishment that can give you a sure fit, fine trimmings and workmanship, that's the Royal—Ehle has the samples.

Acting Governor Nathan Jaffa who, when not filling the gubernatorial chair during the absence of Governor Curry, is secretary of the territory, buried the hatchet yesterday, but instead of planting it underground as is popularly supposed to be done with political implements, came dangerously near cutting off the thumb of his left hand. While using a hatchet yesterday in opening a box at his home he made a miscue with it and the blade struck his left hand inflicting a painful wound. The blade struck at the base of the thumb but while painful, the wound is not serious and did not prevent Mr. Jaffa from attending to his multifarious duties today at the Capitol.
