BLONDI'S NEW BALLOON IS LARGEST OF ITS KIND

Monster Will Carry Passengers at Big Territorial Fair.

Aeronaut Joseph A. Blondin arrived here yesterday from the east where he had his big balloon manufactured. It will be one of the principal attractions of the territorial fair next October. "The balloon was especially made for me in New York and will shortly arrive here," Blondin said this morning. "It has a diameter of thirty-five feet and a displacement of 22,500 cubic feet, and is one of the very largest type of balloons made. It has a rattan car specially constructed in my order to serve the double purpose of carrying passengers at the fair and for the free flight which I will make alone. At this altitude the car can carry only three passengers at a time, while at sea level it would be able to carry five. The material used throughout in the balloon and its equipment is of the strongest and most serviceable kind.

The captive balloon will ascend 500 feet at the end of a cable, the breaking strain of which is 4,000 pounds. The greatest strain to which this cable will be subjected is 500 pounds, so there is a margin of safety of 3,500 pounds, which ought to assure the most timid of the most dangle of the cable breaking.

Balloon Has Strength.
"The material of which the balloon proper is made is a strong cotton and linen weave which for the purpose intended is better than silk. White silk is stronger and lighter, this very fact is apt to be a disadvantage. It is better to have a balloon split than to have the anchor give way; that is, better for the aeronaut. Thus the comparative weakness of the cotton balloon is an advantage. Moreover the cotton or linen balloon material takes the wind much better than silk, and holds the gas better. In cases where extreme lightness is absolutely necessary such as an air ship, silk is preferred.

The most important proceeding in the manufacture of a balloon is the varnishing. Properly speaking, it is not varnish, but a preparation of linseed oil, rubber and sulphur, the latter to vulcanize the mixture. When properly applied this preparation will not crack, peel, or blister under any conditions. It is necessary to apply the varnish in a thin coat, and to allow it to dry for a week before the balloon is inflated. It is necessary to apply the varnish in a thin coat, and to allow it to dry for a week before the balloon is inflated. It is necessary to apply the varnish in a thin coat, and to allow it to dry for a week before the balloon is inflated.

View of Forty Miles.
"At the height at which the captive balloon will ascend, according to a theoretical table of distances of horizon limits in statute miles per given altitude, the range of vision afforded the passenger would be 29.3 miles. Taking into consideration the extreme dryness and rarity of the atmosphere at this altitude, it is reasonable to expect to see the horizon limit extended to forty miles.

"Thus the view afforded the passenger may be seen in a balloon will be one of exceptional beauty and grandeur, embracing the Rio Grande valley, far reaches of mountains, numerous villages, streams and farming lands. Never before have the people of Albuquerque been afforded the chance to view this immediate vicinity from such an altitude. The view may be seen in a balloon at a great area characteristic western country which I dare say, cannot be excelled in beauty in any part of the world.

"While in the east I was fortunate enough to secure a specially thrilling feature which will delight all, young and old, who attend the fair. What is that?"

"What is the present that must remain a secret, but on October 7 it will become public."

JU JITSU DIDN'T WORK ON POLICEMAN

Man Who Tried It on Lieutenant Kennedy Fought the Officer a Big Fight—Fined $10 in Court.

B. Massey, late of Los Angeles, who is said to be expert as a Ju Jitsu wrestler, mixed it up with Lieutenant Kennedy last night when the officer tried to place him under arrest and was badly worsted. Massey was arrested for disturbing the peace at the Trimble barn near Second street and Central avenue. It is said that previously he applied the gentle art of Ju Jitsu to a cook for one of the local restaurants and the cook was quickly subdued.

When Kennedy asked for the pleasure of escorting the embryo wrestler to the holdover at police headquarters, Massey promptly seized the officer and attempted to apply the Japanese method of fighting to him. The officer while not knowing much about Ju Jitsu still retains a healthy American "mit" which he knows how to use.

He gave Massey a gentle slap in the face and when the exponent of Japanese wrestling came out of it, he was well on his way to the hold-over.

In police court this morning he was fined $10.

"Ju Jitsu may be all right," said Lieutenant Kennedy, "but I am still firm in my belief that the Fitzsimmons-Corbett-Jeffries system is the better."

50,000 SHEEP WILL BE DIPPED NEAR THIS CITY

Arrangements Made to Commence Treatment at Stockyards Tomorrow.

The dipping of sheep to prevent and kill the scabies will begin in the vat prepared at the stock yards just south of the city tomorrow morning. Charles Chadwick & Company having made preparations there for handling eight to ten thousand sheep per day. It is expected that a total of 50,000 sheep will be dipped there during the next week.

The dipping plant is a simple affair. It is merely a long bath, 100 feet long, which is filled with a solution of lime and sulphur. The sheep are driven into this bath and as it requires them about two minutes to swim its length, the disease is eradicated when they reach the other end.

Two days after the first dipping, it is usual to dip infected sheep a second time, in order that the "bugs" which have hatched from eggs laid in sheep wool before the first dipping, may all be killed.

The dipping of a large body of sheep is somewhat of a spectacle, even to those who have witnessed it before and it is likely that hundreds of Albuquerque people will visit the dipping to see the sheep swim out of their scabies and other disease breeding vermin.

The sight of the big flocks which are being moved this way for the purpose of being dipped, is alone worth seeing. The sheep are reported on the move and many of them will arrive at the dipping plant ready for treatment at sunrise tomorrow. The grazing is fine all over the country and the care which has been exercised in keeping corrals clean has had its effect in the better condition of the sheep.

SCALDED FIREMAN GREATLY IMPROVED

Spreading of rails on the Santa Fe railroad is given as the cause of a wreck which occurred Saturday afternoon, ninety-four miles out of Albuquerque. Engine 857, drawing a string of freight cars on an auxiliary line between Grants and Horace Saturday afternoon, ran into a spot where the recent rains had softened the roadbed and the tracks gave way under the train, throwing the engine, tank and one water car into a five-foot ditch.

Engineer Friend escaped injury by jumping, while his fireman, W. Bancroft, was caught and quite badly scalded by escaping steam.

The fireman was brought here to the railroad hospital on train No. 3 Saturday evening and at the hospital it was reported today, that he was much improved and is in good shape.

NATIVE LABORERS GO ON A STRIKE

The telegraph companies are not the only ones with strike troubles. Twenty-five native laborers employed by the Santa Fe at Kennedy, struck a new depot is being built, struck Saturday morning because one of their number had been discharged, and when he went to the foreman for his money, was told that he had nothing coming.

According to the men, they receive $1.40 a day and board themselves. The company conducts a commissary and issues goods to the laborers on credit, the charges being deducted from their wages. In the case, which caused the walkout, the laborer, according to the books of the commissary, had purchased goods equal to the amount of his labor. There were thirty-five men in the gang and twenty-five of them quit.

FAST HORSES FOR TERRITORIAL FAIR

B. L. Davis, of the firm of Schlyer & Davis, locating engineers, with offices at Denver and Los Angeles, who has charge of the surveying the Bluewater Land & Development company is doing along the Santa Fe coast lines west of this city, was an Albuquerque visitor yesterday. Mr. Davis is the owner of several of the fastest running horses on the turf of the country. Two of them—Theodore Chase and Chester—who have been racing at Denver, have just been brought to New Mexico, to await the territorial fair. Mr. Davis is of the opinion that there will be a larger number of horses at the approaching fair than at the fair of last year.

PROF. ARCHER MAY BE RETURNED TO 'FRISCO

Officer Expected to Take Him Back For Alleged Offense.

The lot of genius has ever been a hard one and the case of Professor Harry Archer, the exhibition roller skater, who performed at the local skating rink last week, is no exception to the rule. The talented Archer came from San Francisco where he followed the calling of giving skating lessons and performing fancy roller stunts before admiring spectators. But though popular he became tangled in the meshes of difficulty in that city.

Last Thursday Chief of Police McMillin received a telegram from the authorities of San Francisco asking him to arrest Professor Archer and hold him until called for. This was done and a special officer is expected from California any minute to take charge of the prisoner. The charge made against Archer is embezzlement, but as the prisoner explains it the trouble hinges on a diamond ring. He claims a lady patron gave him a valuable diamond ring as security for money owed him for skating lessons and that he pawned the ring to realize on the debt. By the courtesy of the police the professor was permitted to give his thrilling skating exhibition at the local skating rink under guard of a police officer. It was not made public until yesterday that Archer was a prisoner and nothing in the personal demeanor of the man showed that he chafed in confinement.

It was noticeable, however, that the skating expert went through his stunts with unusual sprightliness and that he seemed to enjoy himself to the utmost. Laughing all day in the city jail with nothing to do but eat and read novels, he welcomed the opportunity every evening to stretch his limbs.

The performance given by Professor Archer last week was of no mean order. It is safe to state that he is the most expert roller skater that ever came to Albuquerque. His performance and never yet has come to grief thereby. Dressed as a hobo he mingles grotesque comedy with his performance, exciting laughter at his pantomime jokes fully as often as admiration for his expert roller skating stunts. In fancy skating of all kinds on special skates constructed for the purpose, he excels. One of the most difficult feats he performs is coming to a dead stop on one skate on which there is but one roller, and then starting up again without the aid of his other foot. In fancy figures and spinning, his work approaches the marvelous. During the exhibition Archer takes numerous tumbles and before the performance is over his garments are completely besmeared with the blackish preparation which covers the floor to facilitate skating.
