NEW BROWN TEAM MAKES GOOD SHOWING

Players Were Out for Practice Last Night and Exhibited All Kinds of Talent.
About a dozen players congregated at Traction Park yesterday afternoon for the first try-out for positions on the new Albuquerque Brown's team and some fast practice work was witnessed by the few spectators who came out to see the boys play. Mr. Medler was on the field and was very well pleased with the showing made by the players. He is fully convinced that Albuquerque will soon have one of the best ball teams that ever represented this city. Some good fielders as well as base men and pitchers were discovered among the applicants for positions but they were not permitted to work too hard last evening and will be given a little practice every day until such time as they are fully limbered up. They will immediately begin practice work for their first game with Belen which takes place at Traction park the 5th of July.
As an inducement for the boys to do extra good work with the bat, Leon B. Hertzog offers a fine pair of shoes for the one making the first home run during the coming season and other merchants are also pledging their support to the boys if they will only get together and do some good playing.

VAGRANT CARRIED ROCK IN HIS POCKET

His Reason for Carrying the Weapon Can't Be Determined Until the Officer Arresting Him Appears in Court.
Because Alfred Lopez could not give any plausible reason for having a stone in his pocket yesterday when arrested on the charge of vagrancy the court this morning refused to pass upon his case without the testimony of the officer making the arrest, and Alfred was returned to the jail this morning to wait until such evidence is available. The officer is a member of the night force.
F. A. Garcia, arrested on the charge of leaving his horse untied, appeared in police court this morning accompanied by an attorney and requested that his case be postponed. He said that he wished to summon witnesses from the country.
H. L. Patker, drunk and disorderly, was sentenced to work five days on the chain gang.

TAUNTED A SOLDIER WITH HANDFUL OF MONEY

Mechanic Had Money to Burn Yesterday and Even Had Some Left When in Police Court to Answer to Drunkenness Charge.
Feeling strangely prosperous with $2,000 given him by the Santa Fe for an eye, John Barnett, a mechanic, got drunk yesterday afternoon and created a disturbance in a South Second street rooming house, which resulted in his arrest and spending the night in the city jail. This morning in police court Barnett was relieved of $10 of his money by Police Judge Craig, but was returned $82, part of which he did not know he had.
"You are charged with being drunk and disorderly," said Judge Craig to Barnett as the latter was led from the cell and seated with a number of other prisoners, any one of whom could not purchase a 5-cent package of tobacco.
"I'm guilty," was the answer.
The court looked at the report made by the arresting officer. It said that the prisoner had a gold watch and $92.
"Ten dollars or ten days," was the quick decision of the court, as his eye came across the money item.
"I have about $85 here some place," said Barnett, apparently willing to pay his fine. He did not know just how much there really was coming to him.
"One of the many stunts pulled off by Barnett yesterday was that of tickling a $13 a month soldier under the chin with a $100 bill.
"Anything like a general atheism is not a possibility in the present state of development. The awakening of a commanding interest in, and use of, the Bible, is a matter of strategic importance in this generation. Effort at this point is a direct contribution to the speedy evangelization of the world. As to morality and character, every life must begin at the beginning. Our essential need is redemption. In the last analysis the authority of Christ is the authority of complete human salvation. Christ is the only solution of sin, character and destiny. It is eminently fitting that the whole Christian world unite in the movement for placing the book of the great message on the brain and heart of the present and coming generations."

SANDOVAL WILL HAVE PRELIMINARY MONDAY

He Has Retained Counsel and Will Have Many Witnesses and Children of Valdez to Testify.
The preliminary hearing of Emilio Sandoval, who was arrested here yesterday for the murder of Juan Valdez, will be held before Judge Abbott next Monday at 10 o'clock at the Bernalillo county court house. Mr. Sandoval has employed the law firm of Klock & Owen as counsel, and it is understood has a very substantial defense to make, despite newspaper stories published to the contrary.
The preliminary hearing was set for Monday of next week, to give ample time for the summoning of a large number of witnesses, many of whom will come from the Nascelemento country, in the western part of the territory. While it has been stated that the killing of Valdez was the result of political differences, it is also said that the charging of the crime against Sandoval also smacks with politics, not from the point of view taken by the authorities, but from the source of information.
The two little sons of Valdez, who are said to have witnessed the killing, are stopping in this city with relatives and will remain here until after the trial.
Sandoval has been advised by his attorneys to make no statement for publication, but it is understood that he said immediately after his arrest that he knew nothing of the crime until he was told of it the day following the killing.

THREE SMALL FIRES KEEP FIREMEN BUSY

Some of the Blazes Were Serious and All Were Extinguished Easily.
The fire department was kept busy yesterday. Three fires were recorded, none of which, however, amounted to anything. Late last evening the Santa Fe fire department was called out to extinguish a small blaze originating in a coal car. The fire started near Abajo and the car was brought to the local yards while still burning by a switch engine. Yesterday afternoon a blaze in the yards of the Beaven coal company called the fire forces out and the fire, which consisted of some fine shavings supposed to have been ignited by a spark of a passing engine, was speedily extinguished by the use of chemicals. The department also made a hurried run to the residence of L. T. Delaney, manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co., at 502 Colcher street. The fence on one side of the house had caught fire, presumably through the carelessness of some passer-by who is supposed to have thrown a match near the fence. Luckily plenty of water was handy and painters working on the Delaney residence formed a bucket brigade and the fire was extinguished before the department arrived.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL ARGUES FOR PEACE

It is the Greatest Congress Ever Convened, Canadian Pastor Tells Convention.
Louisville, Ky., June 24.—Rev. Robert Johnson, pastor of the American Presbyterian church of Montreal, in an address to the International Sunday school convention last night on "The Sabbath School in Relation to National Ideals," said:
"The Sabbath school rightly appreciated is the mightiest peace congress ever convened. Silently but surely it is building the one true temple of peace to hang upon its walls the war trumpet and the sword. So to build, in teaching that true greatness for a nation, as for an individual, is in service, not in conquest, in service of the oppressed, is the high privilege of the Sabbath school today, and how better, and where better, can the cause of Him who is the Prince of Peace be served? How more truly can he be advanced that kingdom whose scepter is love, and whose throne is sacrifice?"
Bishop William M. Bell, of Berkeley, Calif., speaking on "The Bible School and the Pastor," said:
"Anything like a general atheism is not a possibility in the present state of development. The awakening of a commanding interest in, and use of, the Bible, is a matter of strategic importance in this generation. Effort at this point is a direct contribution to the speedy evangelization of the world. As to morality and character, every life must begin at the beginning. Our essential need is redemption. In the last analysis the authority of Christ is the authority of complete human salvation. Christ is the only solution of sin, character and destiny. It is eminently fitting that the whole Christian world unite in the movement for placing the book of the great message on the brain and heart of the present and coming generations."

SWARMS OF BATS INHABIT CHURCH

Residents Around Lead Avenue and Third Street Have to Dodge Them.
For months past people living in the vicinity of Lead Avenue and South Third street have been annoyed by myriads of bats, which make their appearance in the air just at sundown but not until last evening was it discovered that the little winged animals had their rendezvous in the cornice work of the west porch of the First Methodist church.
Yesterday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock a man walking west on Lead Avenue was startled by a cloud of bats which swept out from the west side of the church. It is needless to say that the man dodged. A moment later another swarm swept past and then a third. An investigation proved that the bats were coming from between the cornice and the stone wall of the church and they came out in bunches. Several hundred came through the crevice within a few minutes.
Several other buildings in the same neighborhood are said to be infested by bats, and while they do no particular damage they are a great annoyance. They have crept in between the walls of one residence and can be heard there at all hours of the day. The number has been growing lately and some fear is felt that they may become a pest.

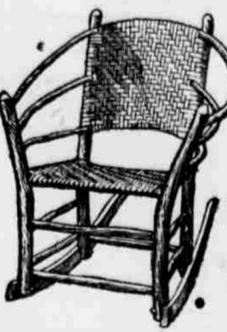

MORE IMPROVEMENTS FOR THE UNIVERSITY

Substantial Additions Will be Made With Fund As Result of Attorney General's Ruling.
According to an opinion of the attorney general of New Mexico, the regents of the University of New Mexico can use none of the $30,000 to be raised by the bond issue, sanctioned by the last legislature and recently validated by the Congress of the United States, in the payment of debts of the institution. The money must be used in making permanent improvements.
The bond issue referred to was ordered by a bill passed at the last New Mexico legislature. The amount of bonds to be issued is $125,000 to be divided among the various educational institutions of the territory. The University's share is $30,000.
At the time it became a certainty that the money would be forthcoming, the regents of the institution borrowed $15,000 believing that it could be paid back when the bonds were sold. Laboring under this impression the regents had to turn down bids for improvements because it was feared that there would not be sufficient money to pay the bills. The first specifications were withdrawn and the contractors were asked to bid upon cheaper buildings. These improvements are now in course of construction. After the contracts had been made the opinion of the attorney general was sought as to whether the board could lawfully use any of the money raised by the sale of bonds in the payment of debts. The opinion of the attorney general is to the effect that all the money raised by the bond issue must be used in permanent improvements.
"Acting on this advice the regents, it is believed, will carry out many of their original plans in the making of improvements."
WALTER BLAMES WEATHER FOR LACK OF BIG TIPS
Now that the electric fans have been put in motion and men have stored their overcoats with the usual moth balls, and donned their straw bonnets, the waiters in the restaurants are beginning to note the change, or rather the shortness of change, in their pocket-books. As a reason for this "stringency in the money market," a waiter in a well known cafe lays all the blame on the temporarily forsaken overcoat.
"The good old winter time is the time with us for tips," he says. "That's the time when the swell comes in with his overcoat. Of course we are always 'Johnny on the spot' when the time comes to help him on or off with it, before or after he has eaten a hearty meal, and a good healthy tip can usually be looked for. But the summer season is here and with it has come the straw hat and skeleton coat and the ordinary patron of our restaurant thinks that it is hardly necessary to give us anything. As a whole, our tips amount to twice as much during the winter season as in the summer, the increase caused only by the overcoat. This is not a new condition of affairs. I have noticed this for several years and 'for a cold wave' is our constant prayer. So far the only cold wave that has struck our cafe in the last two or more months comes from our electric fans which are constantly in motion. Here's your straw hat, sir: come in again."
