

ULTIMATUM TO HUERTA IS REPORTED

MUST ABDICATE AT ONCE AND NOT TURN REINS OVER TO ANY OF HIS FRIENDS, SAYS REPORT--OFFICIAL CIRCLES WILL NOT TALK ON SUBJECT.

NO REPLY HAS BEEN RECEIVED FROM MEXICO

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—President Wilson left the Mexican situation simmer a few hours today while he went to Princeton, N. J., to vote. The tension over this government's ultimatum to Huerta was not relieved by the president's absence, however, and just before Mr. Wilson left the White House he conferred with Secretary Bryan.

All officials here were silent over the notice to Huerta to vacate the Provisional Presidency of Mexico and seat no partisan.

The understanding was that the attitude here is to make no announcements just now and await the next step.

The greatest interest centered at Huerta's conferences with the Mexico City diplomatic corps. As soon as Charge D'Saughnessy had delivered the latest note, Huerta called in the diplomats but no announcement was made of their conference.

President Wilson planned to be in touch with the situation practically every hour he is away today and to return to Washington tonight. The president left here at 10 o'clock this morning, expecting to arrive in Princeton at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, east his ballot, leave Princeton at 4:30 o'clock and arrive back in the capital at 9:25 tonight.

Administration officials directly connected with the Mexican negotiations have adopted a policy of absolute silence, considering it inexpedient at this time to define the course of action being pursued and declining to comment one way or the other on the reports from Mexico City regarding the presentation of a summary note to Huerta requiring his immediate resignation.

That this ultimatum of Huerta is a sine qua non, is admitted by the fundamental principle of the administration policy, but beyond this the successive steps taken or contemplated are not disclosed.

An air of confidence in official circles is taken to indicate that the U. S. is satisfied that practically all the great powers have agreed to support the administration's policy at least to the extent of observing a strictly neutral attitude and allowing the U. S. to test its own plan for restoring peace in Mexico of any official statement, but on the basis of expressions of opinions by competent observers, it is believed that practically all the powers diplomatically represented in the Mexican capital are disposed to defer to the United States in the task of establishing constitutional government.

Secretary Bryan flatly refused to discuss the situation when inquiries were made concerning the demand for the immediate retirement of Huerta. Senator Bacon, chairman of the foreign relations committee, after a conference with Secretary Bryan said: "I consider the situation to be nearer a conclusion. We are very hopeful that things will turn out well."

Secretary Daniels reiterated today that the three battleships of the second division of the Atlantic fleet will remain in Mexican Gulf waters until further orders, notwithstanding that four battleships of the third division are due at Vera Cruz and Tampico tomorrow.

Rear Admiral Fletcher, commanding the second division, will take command of the entire squadron. The New Hampshire and Nebraska will keep station at Tampico, while the Louisiana, Michigan, Rhode Island, Virginia and New Jersey will await developments of Vera Cruz. In addition to these seven dreadnoughts, the gunboat Wheeling and the cruiser Tacoma are off Vera Cruz, while the gunboats Petrel and Nashville are in Dominican waters not far away.

On the west coast, the armored cruisers California and Maryland are at Guaymas and Mazatlan, respectively. The gunboat Annapolis also is at Guaymas and the armored cruiser Pittsburg is enroute to that port.

Later today Secretary Bryan issued a statement. He declined to discuss the use of the word "ultimatum," "note" or "advice" saying he had no more to say than the statement itself conveyed. It was as follows: "I have made it a rule not to discuss newspaper reports concerning international matters; but the nature of the dispatch from Mexico this morning suggests a departure from the rule at this time. No ultimatum has been sent to Mexico and it is unfortunate that the press should give credence to such a report. The harm done by speculation or even inaccuracies in regard to domestic questions is limited because the people are acquainted with the subject and can make allowances; but as misstatements in regard to international matters may lead to serious consequences I feel justified in making the above denial." Discussion of the possibility that President Wilson must again take the situation to congress in a political address was revived in administration circles again today.

Sixty French colonists near Santa Rosalia on the west coast of Mexico, reported in danger, now are gathered safely at the seaport where they may be protected by the American warships patrolling the coast.

Wilson Not Worried.

On Board President Wilson's Train, Baltimore, Md., Nov. 3.—No word of comment was available from President Wilson today on the ultimatum demanding Huerta's resignation. The president gave no evidence of being worried over the situation and is calmly awaiting Huerta's reply. The president was accompanied on his trip to Princeton, N. J., by Miss Eleanor Wilson, his youngest daughter and the Misses Lucy and May Smith, of New Orleans, relatives, who have been guests at the White House for several days. The president was to be in Princeton only two hours, planning to vote for James F. Pender, the Democratic candidate for governor. He expected, however, to take a stroll through the university campus with the women members of the party.

Four Troops to El Paso.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Acting under orders issued by the war department at Washington several days ago, four troops of the Fifteenth United States Cavalry are preparing to leave Fort Sheridan, Illinois, for El Paso, Texas, Friday, November 7. The troops and equipment will travel in special trains over the Chicago and Northwestern railroad from Fort Sheridan to Chicago, and over the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific line from Chicago to El Paso.

Fifteenth Cavalry in Arizona.

Leavenworth, Kans., Nov. 4.—Preparations were under way today at Fort Leavenworth for the departure of the second squadron, Fifteenth United States Cavalry for Fort Huachuca, Arizona, November 7. The action is in accordance with an order received from the war department, October 29, providing that the squadron relieve a squadron of the Fifth Cavalry now at Fort Huachuca and that the latter proceed to this post.

Not Blamed in Germany.

Berlin, Nov. 4.—The communication made to Provisional President Huerta by the United States government caused a decided flurry on the Berlin stock exchange as well as in newspaper circles, but less impression in the foreign office, where the belief was expressed that Washington would scarcely have taken such a step without

COLORADO MILITIA ARE INOCULATED

HUNT FOR ARMS IN THE COAL CAMPS HALTED LONG ENOUGH TO VACCINATE THE SOLDIERS AGAINST TYPHOID.

Trinidad, Colo., Nov. 4.—The general order to inoculate every member of the Colorado national guard to render them immune to typhoid fever was put into effect today. Several companies have been exposed to the disease at Ludlow, where five cases have developed within the past few days. No soldiers have been stricken. The task of inoculating the soldiers began at noon and the remainder of the day will be occupied in the work. No typhoid exists in the tent colonies and sanitary conditions are good, is the declaration of Dr. B. B. Beshoar, chief physician for the strikers. Four cases he says have developed recently at Ludlow, but not in the tents.

The sanitary measures have caused a temporary cessation in the work of disarming the strikers and deputies of the district.

It is stated that more rifles have been placed in possession of John R. Lawson to be turned over to the troops.

Lewis King, a striker, was placed under arrest charged with the shooting of the two children of Frank C. Wooten, near Tabasco, on October 25. King is also charged with having exploded a bomb near the camp the day following.

C. E. Seehorn, of Denver, representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, conferred here today with J. D. Welch, general superintendent of the Colorado and Southern, and J. H. Abrams, division superintendent, over the recent discharge of the train crew that refused charge to leave here for Berwind and Tabasco with a special train carrying mine deputies. The train was finally taken out alone by the guards, but was stopped by strikers near Ludlow.

It is understood that the trainmen contend that they refused to go because of the danger, while the railroad officials declare that no protest as is required was made and that it was a plain case of insubordination. Late this afternoon the conference was still in session and efforts to secure statements were unsuccessful.

Daring Escape.

Boulder, Colo., Nov. 4.—Two striking coal miners who represented themselves as strikebreakers rode from Denver almost to Louisville last night in the automobile operated by the company owning the Hecla mine. When near the Hecla mine they held up the automobile and robbed three genuine strikebreakers, who had been their fellow passengers. Then they attacked the mine guard at the Hecla mine and escaped.

HARVESTER TRUST HAS A FRIEND AT COURT

JUDGE M'HUGH TELLS OF THE BENEFICENT AND EDUCATIONAL INFLUENCE OF THE GREAT CONCERN--WAS A PRODUCT OF PERKINS BRAIN.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE WAS PRIZE SOUGHT FOR

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 4.—Judge William D. McHugh, of Omaha, fighting the federal suit for dissolution of the International Harvester company, today in the United States district court pictured the Harvester concern as one of the greatest educational and beneficial forces ever created in this country. Counsel for the defense, then assigned to George W. Perkins, of New York, credit for this achievement and asserted that without Mr. Perkins' mind to direct the organization and expansion of the business, the International Harvester company of today would be an impossibility.

"When Mr. McCormick went to New York in 1902 to enlist the services of the house of J. P. Morgan and company, to aid him in getting capital to extend the foreign trade of the McCormick company, he met Mr. Perkins, a man who was invaluable for exactly the sort of thing Mr. McCormick desired," he said.

"Mr. Perkins' training and experience as a western man with his headquarters at Denver for many years, had made him thoroughly familiar with the great agricultural situation in this country.

Then, later, Mr. Perkins' experiences in Europe had given him a comparative knowledge of the agricultural conditions there.

"In discussing with Mr. McCormick the European situation, he declared no one of the existing companies was strong enough in capital, credits and men to properly and adequately realize the possibilities of the vast foreign field. Then he started out to get interests to form this concern, strong enough and big enough to go into this field. When he started he had in mind no particular companies, aside, perhaps, from the McCormick company. Now he went to many different companies in seeking the material he desired, his mind was perfectly open on that point."

Judge McHugh then attacked the government's charge that the subject of foreign trade was an afterthought by the officials of the Harvester company, which began to loom large about the time the federal suit was filed. He declared that the name of the company was done particularly with a view to the matter of foreign trade. He said, and referred to evidence, to show that Mr. Perkins named the company "International" over the wishes of Mr. Morgan, who, he asserted, wanted to call the company the "United States Harvester company."

COAL DUST WAS THE CAUSE OF EXPLOSION

SO SAYS STATE MINE INSPECTOR R. H. BEDDOW REGARDING THE CATASTROPHE AT DAWSON RECENTLY--GAS HAD LITTLE PART IN IT SAYS REPORT.

BEDDOW MAKES FORMAL STATEMENT

Dawson, N. M., Nov. 4.—Coal dust was the predominant force in the explosion that wrecked mine No. 2 of the Stag Canon Fuel company here October 22, and resulted in the death of 263 men, according to a statement issued today by Rees H. Beddow, state mine inspector. It has not been determined what ignited the dust. The statement declared that gas played very little, if any part in the explosion; that a week before the explosion he had taken samples of air, which were analyzed by the United States bureau of mines at Pittsburgh, and showed only nineteen one hundredths of one per cent of methane. This the inspector points out is very low for a mine of that character. He says that in the last ten days experts have been searching for gas, but have not found enough anywhere in the mine to show in a safety lamp test.

Inspector Beddow's statement follows: "Gas played very little part in the explosion of the Dawson mine. The mine was the best ventilated mine in the state. There was 150,000 to 190,000 cubic feet of air traveling through the mine per minute. This air was divided into many different splits, going into all parts of the mine, thus preventing any accumulation of gas. For the past ten days many of the best gas experts and mining men of the country have been examining the mine and hunting for gas, but not enough has been found anywhere to show up in a safety lamp test. A week previous to the explosion I took samples of the main return air and had it analyzed by the United States bureau of mines at Pittsburgh, Pa. The analysis of the air showed only nineteen one hundredths of one per cent of methane, C. H. 4, which is very low for a mine of this character."

"Coal dust was the predominant force that propagated the explosion throughout all the mine, and is the most serious and difficult problem the coal operators have to contend with in operating their mines. What stirred up and ignited the coal dust has not been determined up to the present time. This may be revealed later on, when some of the rooms and pillars which are now inaccessible have been cleaned out, and in which further investigation will be made."

DAVIS WINS PHOENIX LOS ANGELES RACE

OUT OF 23 STARTERS, OLIN DAVIS FINISHES 574-MILE RACE FIRST, REACHING THE PHOENIX FAIR CROUNDED AT 1:48 THIS AFTERNOON.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 4.—Olin Davis, driving a Locomobile car, won the Los Angeles-Phoenix and San Diego exposition automobile race today, reaching this city at 1:48 p. m. Davis finished the 574 mile drive in 18 hours, and 47 minutes.

Vice President Marshall and Governor Hunt were at the finish line when Davis, who is virtually a novice at race driving, arrived.

Oldfield Not Killed.

A report that Barney Oldfield, one of the leaders in the Los Angeles to Phoenix race, had been killed twelve miles east of Yuma, proved unfounded when Oldfield's car was reported passing Castle Dome, forty miles this side of the scene of the supposed accident.

Yuma, Ariz., Nov. 4.—In the order of their arrival last night, all of the twenty-three motor cars that started the 574-mile race from Los Angeles to Phoenix, were sent away this morning on the last 76 miles of their journey. Olin Davis was first off at 5:35 o'clock, confident that before noon he would have rounded into the finish at the Phoenix fair grounds.

Charles Soules was second. Barney Oldfield lost twenty minutes at the control, but declared he would catch up.

The fourth out was J. C. Rice. The report of Oldfield's death was spread when he "slidewiped" a rancher's buggy on the road east of Yuma. The rancher's horse ran away and the man was injured.

Raining in Mass.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 4.—Rain was falling throughout Massachusetts when the voting began today. Balloting started early in Boston, and several other cities, but as it will continue into the evening in many places, the returns in the contest for governor between Gardner, Republican; Walsh, Democrat; Bird, Progressive, and Foss, Independent, are expected to be very late.

The vote up to noon in the towns as well as in the cities, was heaviest ever cast in a so-called year.

Municipal Officers in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 4.—Election day in Indiana broke clear and brisk. Every city and incorporated town in the state is voting for municipal officers. Gary, Ind., Nov. 4.—There were fears of rioting incident to the election here today. Extra policemen and deputies were on duty and state troops of neighboring towns were in readiness to respond instantly to a call for help. The voting centered largely about councilmen and the county offices, the reform administration under the leadership of Mayor Blankenburg endeavoring to gain, through a fusion movement, control of city councils.

Afternoon reports showed that balloting in many parts of the city was fairly heavy in some election districts, the vote being almost equal to that cast at the last presidential election. The Republicans predicted that 50,000 majority for their city ticket, while the fusion leaders said they were satisfied with the situation.

New Jersey Votes Briskly.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 4.—Voting for governor and members of the general assembly was brisk in some parts of New Jersey for an hour or two after the polls opened but in the greater part of the state it was light. The managers of the three candidates for governor expect there will be heavy voting toward the end of the day.

Heavy voting continued in nearly all parts of the state this afternoon. The balloting is secret and for this reason only predictions could be had as to how the fight is progressing.

Important Issues in Oregon.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 4.—Heavy vote was indicated throughout Oregon today on bills passed by the last legislature and referred to the people. OCEAN FREIGHTER HITS BIG ICE BERG

HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM FOUNDERING BUT FINALLY MANAGES TO REACH PORT BEFORE WATER IN HULL REACHES THE ENGINES.

St. Johns, N. J., Nov. 4.—The Furness line freighter, Manchester Commerce, dragged her way into the harbor here today, her bow a mass of crumpled wreckage and her pumps racing madly to defeat the flood of water which poured in through the shattered hull.

The steamer, which carries no wireless apparatus, crashed head on into a giant ice berg at 2 o'clock Sunday morning out 100 miles east of Belle Isle.

The night was dark and the berg loomed out of the blackness so suddenly that there was no time to change the course of the steamer which drove at full speed into it.

The force of the impact was terrific. The steel prow of the liner was crumpled like a piece of tin as far as the collision bulkhead. The decks were covered with great fragments of ice and wreckage.

Captain Couch hastily headed his ship for St. Johns. He succeeded in notifying his agents at Montreal by means of flag signals.

The sea was swept by a heavy storm and the steamer had a hard struggle making port. The ship reached here in a sinking condition, repairs will require about two months. The steamer carried 6,000 tons of general cargo. Her lower hold, above which the water did not come, was filled with timber, while grain, flour and foodstuffs were on the deck above.

The Manchester Commerce carries a crew of forty officers and men. She is built of iron and registers 3,563 tons gross.

PAY ROAD TAX OR BE SUED IS ORDER

COUNTY ROAD COMMISSIONERS ASK DISTRICT ATTORNEY READ TO BRING INDIVIDUAL SUITS TO COLLECT THE SUM OF $3 FROM ABLE BODIED MEN.

SELIGMAN SAYS MANY PLEAD INFIRMITIES

"Pay your $3 road tax or face a suit costing $12 to $15."

Such is the ultimatum which the county road board sends out today, following a meeting at the court house yesterday afternoon and a consultation with the district attorney, Alexander Read.

The meeting was attended by Chairman Arthur Seligman and T. W. Hanna. Samuel Romero was not present as he has left the county. Mr. Hanna was elected secretary and treasurer to succeed him.

The report of the road overseers was made concerning collections and work in the first district comprising precincts 3, 4, 17, 18, 2 and 5.

District Attorney Alexander Read was asked to investigate the matter of collecting the tax and see that the strong arm of the law is stretched out to aid in the collection of the tax. Mr. Seligman said today that individual suits will be brought against those able bodied men who refuse to pay the tax after notification. Ten days of grace is allowed by law, he said, to comply with the demand of the overseer.

Many Are "Infirm."

Mr. Seligman waxed sarcastic about the excuses given the tax collector and said: "If a war broke out with Mexico I do not see how Santa Fe county would be able to send many soldiers. There seem to be so many men in this county who are infirm. Some are minus a finger, others a toe, some have a deaf ear and others poor vision in one eye. It is astonishing, believe me! Of course a man who has lost a leg or an arm is real able to do his st and therefore ex But I think an be made of man ed in showing

Duran On the Job.

Mr. Seligman stated that Manrieco Duran is the new overseer for this district and those who wish to help him collect the tax will kindly mail him a check or money order for $3 addressing him:

Manrieco Duran, Esq., 216 De Vargas Street, Santa Fe, N. M.

Dr. Duran's phone is 166 J. He will give a receipt for each amount received. This is obligatory so that the tax payer may show it when called upon.

Mr. Duran turns the money over to the county treasurer, Mr. Duran has furnished $1,000 bond, Mr. Seligman stated.

Secretary Hanna has appointed Joseph Black road overseer in the second district, comprising Madrid, Golden, San Pedro, Cerrillos, Cienega, Glorieta, Lamy, Canoncito. His post office address is San Pedro, N. M.

No bills were paid by the commissioners at their meeting yesterday as the statement of collections had not been received from the county treasurer. But the matter will come up again before the commissioners at their adjourned meeting Thursday, November 6.

San Pedro Has $600.

Mr. Seligman stated that San Pedro has collected $600 and that a letter was received asking that the money be spent on the road from San Pedro to Stanley. "But we have plenty of evidence that that road is in good shape," continued Mr. Seligman, "and that the road from Golden to Madrid is in bad condition, especially over Estes Hill. Therefore, the money will go to repairing that Golden-Madrid road. This is but common sense and justice."

MORE INCOME TAX REGULATIONS ISSUED.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—Supplemental regulations governing the payment of the income tax on notes given for interest, rents or for other income accruing after March 1, 1913, were issued today by the commissioner of internal revenue. The regulations provide that when a note given for such purpose, matures on or after November 1, 1913, the maker of the note, the "source" where the income originates is required in paying the note to withhold the normal tax of one per cent where the amount is in excess of $2000 unless a claim for exemption has been made under the law. In case an exemption is made the maker of the note shall withhold only on the amount in excess of the exemption claim.
