SOUTHERN PACIFIC MEN TO STRIKE THIS EVENING
 Houston, Tex., Nov. 13.—Preparations for a strike at 7 o'clock tonight were being made today by the more than 2,500 operating employees of the Sunset Central lines of the Southern Pacific railroad. The men at 1 o'clock this afternoon had received no reply to their ultimatum of last night demanding joint adjustment of their grievances. Even an offer of mediation from the federal board of mediation and conciliation might not prevent the strike, it was said, the union leaders contending that nothing in the Newlands act would prevent a walkout before mediation is begun.

DON'T WANT EULOGY OF BREWER IN RECORDS.
 Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—Speaker Clark received today and dropped into the bill hopper of the house a protest from the National Woman's Christian Temperance union, "against placing in the permanent congressional record the funeral oration pronounced over the remains of the late Adolphus Busch, a brewer of St. Louis."
 The protest set forth that a resolution to that effect was passed at a convention of the organization at Asbury Park, N. J., representing 300,000 women.

ARCHBISHOP PITAVAL WILL DEDICATE ALAMEDA'S CHURCH
 His Grace, the Most Rev. J. B. Pitaval, archbishop of Santa Fe leaves this afternoon for Bernalillo where he will celebrate a requiem high mass for the late Dean Splinters tomorrow. This service is known as "the month's mind" and will be attended by priests from neighboring towns and missions.
 On Sunday the archbishop will be the central figure at an imposing ceremony: the dedication of the new Catholic church at Alameda, 7 or 8 miles from Albuquerque. This mission of Alameda has long been supplied by the Jesuit fathers and it was due to the indefatigable zeal of Father F. Troy, S. J., that the fine church now ready for dedication was erected. The church is to be dedicated in honor of the Blessed Virgin.
 Several priests from Albuquerque will be present at the ceremonies and one of the prominent visitors from outside the state will be the Very Rev. J. J. Brown, S. J., president of the Sacred Heart college in Denver, and superior of the Jesuit missions in New Mexico and Colorado. Father Brown is the new superior of the province.
 His Grace the archbishop, will return to Santa Fe Monday afternoon to attend to correspondence which has accumulated during his visit to Boston where he attended the great missionary congress at which sixty or more bishops and several archbishops, the cardinal of Boston and the papal delegate, were present.

OFFICIAL.
TAX SUIT IS TO BE FILED BY ATTY FOR ASS'N

SANTA FE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS NOT INCLINED TO ASK BLANKET INJUNCTION, SO COMMITTEE OF MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION WILL BRING ACTION.

LAW AFFORDS RELIEF WITHOUT COST, SAYS READ

A tax suit growing out of the meeting of the Merchants' association last week, will probably be filed late this afternoon or tomorrow, according to members of the committee named at that meeting. This action was taken after it became evident that the county commissioners did not favor the idea of filing a blanket suit as was done by the commissioners in Eddy county.

The commissioners were probably influenced in this decision by a letter from District Attorney Alex Read to the chairman, Jose Ortiz y Pino, who had requested legal advice on the subject. Mr. Read upholds the state board of equalization, but states that a method of relief is afforded the taxpayer who is honestly injured by the raise.

In discussing the taxation matter today, a point was brought out, by a man familiar with the situation, which is also prominently mentioned in Mr. Read's letter. That is, that to the taxpayer who has made an honest return of his property, a means of relief is offered, if he is unjustly affected by a blanket raise, such as was complained of at the meeting last week. This relief is also without cost to him, if he is unjustly injured, but it is not a safe remedy for a man who has not made an honest return, for it is certain to develop a perjury charge, either growing out of his original sworn statement, or his petition to the court for relief. If his original return was just and fair, a raise is unfair and he is entitled to relief, but if he turned in his property for less than its taxable value, (when the law requires a sworn statement), and then applies for relief, he is liable for punishment for perjury. See Sec. 19, Chap. 84, Laws of 1913.

Mr. Read's letter to the chairman of the county commissioners is as follows:
 Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 12, 1913.
 Hon. Jose Ortiz y Pino,
 Chairman of the Board of County

Commissioners of Santa Fe County, Santa Fe, N. M.
 Dear Sir:

In reply to your inquiry as to whether or not the board of county commissioners of Santa Fe county should be made a party to enjoin the county assessor upon the assessment rolls for the year 1913, I will say that I believe that the state board had the right to make the raise under the provisions of Sec. 13, of Chapter 84, of the Laws of 1913.

If the state board did not have the right to make the raise, or if they abused their power, the county commissioners are not the real party in interest to bring suit to determine whether the state board abused their power or not, if any tax payer is hurt by the action of the state board he can bring an individual suit for himself, and in the name of all other taxpayers of the county to ascertain the right of the state board in making the raise, and if on account of the raise any injustice has been done to any tax payer the law provides an ample remedy for the correction of the same; it may be said that the poor tax payer has no remedy for the reason that he can not employ an attorney. To this I will say that if any injustice is done to any tax payer, he does not have to bring suit to correct the error or injustice, as by a simple petition he can bring the matter before the district court.

Tax Suits Filed.

Suits were filed in the district court today against the First National and the State National banks to compel payment of taxes levied against these institutions for the year 1912, says the Albuquerque Herald. The banks claim that their taxes are excessive and for this reason have resisted payment. Some months ago suits were filed against the banks for the taxes for the first half of 1912, and these actions were today dismissed on motion of the district attorney.
