CAMPANA WILL START IN BUSINESS ON HIS WALKING MATCH MONEY.

Byams Will Be in Good Shape for His Meeting with Jack McAuliffe, Dec. 15.

Old Sport Campana was around town yesterday in high glee, declaring that Littlewood was going to take him back to England with him about Dec. 15.

Ed Plummer has become very much interested in little Charlie Smith, the English lad who won so many friends in the race at the Garden.

Manager William O'Brien is inclined to favor London for the next six days' go-as-you-please race.

George Littlewood, the champion six-day rider, does not care much whether the next race is in this city or London.

Half the walking match receipts, or something over $9,000, was yesterday divided as follows among the ten contestants who cov-ered the race here last night.

DID WILL HEARST MARRY?

Remember that the Senator's Young Son Went to Europe With a Bride.

A story reached here from Boston to the effect that Will R. Hearst, son of United States Senator Hearst, of California, and editor of the San Francisco Examiner, was married in Boston recently and went to Europe with his bride.

While in New York Hearst stopped at the Hoffman House. He left there Nov. 23, and it is said, ordered his baggage to be taken to the French line pier.

It is a foregone conclusion that the report will be adverse to O'Brien and the leaders of his machine in the Eight Assembly District, and will favor a reorganization.

JOHN J. O'BRIEN'S FATE.

'Twill Be Decided To-Night by the G. O. P.'s Executive Committee.

John J. O'Brien's fate will be decided to-night by the Republican County Executive Committee, which will meet at 15 Clinton place and determine on its report to the County General Com-mittee at its meeting to-morrow night.

It is a foregone conclusion that the report will be adverse to O'Brien and the leaders of his machine in the Eight Assembly District, and will favor a reorganization.

President French, of the Police Board, said this morning that O'Brien is not a member of the General Committee and therefore cannot be turned out.

JUST LIKE OUR JOHNNY'S CASE.

The Disciplining of John Y. McKane by the Kings County Democrats.

John Y. McKane, the Boss of Coney Island, is undergoing an experience something like our own John J. O'Brien.

He rebelled against Boss McLaughlin, of the Kings County Democratic Organization, last year, was disciplined and his rotten borough Government was reorganized.

The Kings County Democratic Committee on Discipline was last evening given the case of the Gravesend rebellion to consider.

A TALKING NEWSPAPER.

The Latest Idea of the Brains Man at Menlo Park.

The latest scheme of Wizard Edison, of Menlo Park, is published in full in this morning's World.

It is nothing more or less than to furnish a talking newspaper by means of his phonograph. Subscribers, to whom are rented machines, can have left at their door every morning the way tablets, known as phonograms, which can be wrapped about a cylinder and used in the phonograph.

PLAYS AND THE PLAYERS.

WHY THERE IS AN ALTERATION IN "LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY."

Johnny Wild Has Got the Star Theatre for His New Piece—The "Washington Life" Company Has Met an Early Reverse—Miss Harrison Is Not Yet Married to Mr. Carson—"He Wife" and the Grand.

Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett is so "taken" with Elsie Leslie, the youthful exponent of the rôle of little Lord Fauntleroy, that she has taken the child and the family belongings to live with her at her flat in Fifty-first street.

Although it is now said that the reason French is to play one of the two children and Sanger may take one of the two children who have played the rôle in New York, the part is a very important one, and of town managers will demand the New York original. Consequently the Broadway Theatre management are making two originals, in case of anything happening to one.

"Johnny" Wild, and his play, "Running Wild," have at last found a theatre in this city. It is the Star.

Miss Isabelle Gresson closed her contract with Messrs. French & Sanger, at the Broadway Theatre, Saturday night. She will remain in this city, it is said, preferring to take such engagements as may offer themselves here, to the temptations of London.

MRS. EVANS'S PLAN. I was a warm day in Summer and Chauncey Elmsmere, reclining on a sofa in the library, looked as luxuriously lazy as it was possible to be.

country house Chauncey was spending the Summer. "Can't you postpone it till the weather gets cooler?" was the drowsy reply.

became prejudiced in advance, and I will place high hopes on May's beautiful eyes and bewitching smile. "The promise was given and Clara left Chauncey to his own reflections, which, as regarded her little plan, did not occupy his mind long, for he had an idea that it was one chance in ten thousand that it would ever be consummated.

ing him growing more interested in his fair companion. "Mr. Elmsmere," she said to him one day, "do you know that some people call me a flirt?"

arrival, during which time she and Chauncey had been constantly in each other's society. They were standing at the library window one evening when May abruptly announced her intention of taking her departure two weeks from that night.

"She knew him too well to believe that he would plead any more after that," he walked sadly away, and long she stood there, wondering at the pain at her heart. It all rose at her last words, "I do not love you."

detonously. "I will not be the one to drive you from here. I will go myself." "It is not necessary for you to go yet," he said, quietly. "I shall go any way, so Miss Johnson, pray remain."
