

with pay with a liberal Christmas box, but they went out just as the strike.

The strike leaders are making active steps to offset the invasion of New York by negro waiters as strike-breakers.

COLLEGE BOYS GO TO HOTELS FOR WAITERS' JOBS.

Notification has been sent to all the big universities of the East that jobs as waiters in New York hotels at good pay are open.

A mass meeting of strikers held at Bryant Hall, in Sixth avenue, near Fifth-street, this morning, was addressed by J. K. Brown, president of the union.

It is reported that 1,000 negro waiters from Florida and other resort hotels are on their way to New York.

A new angle of the strike became apparent at the Manhattan Hotel at 1 o'clock this afternoon, when twenty of the twenty-five cooks walked out of the kitchen on strike.

About a hundred waiters and cooks walked out of the Hotel Marie Antoinette, Sixty-seventh street and Broadway during the breakfast hour.

Over 2,500 waiters and about 800 cooks are on strike in fourteen leading New York hotels, one big restaurant and a club according to figures furnished by the International Hotel Workers' Union.

More strikes are to be called to-night according to the union leaders. The Hotel Men's Association held a meeting today to discuss the situation.

The union leaders threaten to call strikes in every hotel and restaurant of any prominence in New York, even to the "Ham-and" places.

Following is a list of places against which notice has been declared, and the number of men on strike:

Table listing hotels and the number of men on strike. Includes Hotel Astor (200), Hotel Plaza (200), Hotel St. Regis (200), etc.

Manager Fred Sterry of the Plaza has promised to furnish the hotel men from 5,000 to 10,000 skilled negro waiters if they are needed.

Mr. Sterry has installed fifty negro waiters in the Plaza. They are engaged in room service and do not appear in the dining rooms.

The declared programme of the hotel men to import negro waiters for the purpose of breaking the strike undoubtedly hastened action on the part of the union today.

Frederick A. Reed, president of the Hotel Men's Association, said this afternoon that while his waiters have not struck, he is prepared for trouble.

East Coast Railway has arranged to ship negro waiters to New York from southern resorts as rapidly as they are required.

In the larger hotels where the kitchen is manned by high priced chefs and the under cooks are skilled in their profession the strikers have been confined to waiters and their assistants.

Employment agencies are recruiting waiters from Philadelphia, Boston and other large cities in the East. Union pickets are watching the railway stations for arrivals from these cities.

In anticipation of violence as the strike spreads, the hotel owners are preparing to house their strike breakers. The Plaza waiters are not compelled to leave the house unless they want to.

According to the hotel men a majority of the strikers are not members of the union. Proprietor Muschenheim of the Hotel Astor, although the strike has put him to a great deal of inconvenience, says he does not blame his old man.

"Those who are not members of the union," Mr. Muschenheim explains, "are bulldozed most effectively by the union men. Usually threats of physical violence bring them around."

Mr. Reed declared that the union had not advised the strikes at the Great Northern, the Marie Antoinette or the Calumet Club. "We don't have to order them out now," said the organizer.

The men are striking on their own look and as the news spreads the strike will spread.

"I wish just the issue clearly made. We stand for the right of the people to choose their own candidates and to have the delegates carry out their will."
