

Leaders in the Plans for Next Week's Festivities, When County Bronx Is Put on the State Map

PLANS ALL MADE FOR "COMING OUT" OF COUNTY BRONX

Debut of Pa Knick's Daughter Will Be "the Event" of New Year's. TWO DAYS OF "JOY." More Talcum Than Formality Will Mark the Festivities.

There's a debutante here in New York who is going to "come out" on New Year's Day—and the hours adjacent thereto—and the night shall be filled with music and the cars that infect the day shall find their tents like the Arabs and beat it. It is to be a celebration which will illuminate the sky during the night season and permit a host of her admirers to shine by day through their honored words and arch wit.

The debutante in question is the youngest of Father Knickerbocker's five rich daughters, Miss Bronx. She is also the plumpest of them. For a long, long time she was sorely envious of her sisters because their first names were "County," while she had to content with the derisive "Bronx."

ALL PLANS FOR "DEBUT" CAREFULLY MADE.

Anybody who on an earlier venture into the Bronx country once sees a glimpse, or will soon be made to see, that all the plans have been made, all the committees arranged, everything attended to, so that nothing now remains but the arrival of the happy days.

The Bronx has arranged for one very formal ceremony in honor of the debutante. This is to take place in the County Court House, at One Hundred and Sixty-fourth street and Third avenue, the House Beautiful, which was twice years old before it was born, as it were. It has been practically that length of time under construction, although it's had form to speak of this is the Bronx.

Chancellor Emeritus MacCracken of Trade and the Bronx Bar Association have arranged to have a reception to be held at 9 o'clock Jan. 1 in the largest room in the structure, the Supreme Court chamber. There the beauty and chivalry of the Bronx will gather under the auspices of a joint committee of twenty-five, headed by Edward J. Koch, to listen to all the nice things that a long list of speakers will have to say about the debutante and her lovely qualities.
