SULZER BILL VOTED DOWN BY SENATORS

The Assembly Passes the Blauvelt Bill, Which Governor Twice Vetoed.

TALK OF COMPROMISE.
Sulzer's Representatives and Several Republicans Propose New Plan for Convention.

ALBANY, June 25.—Gov. Sulzer's direct primary bill was defeated in the Senate to-day by a vote of 10 ayes to 35 noes. The vote on the bill at the regular session was 8 ayes to 42 noes.
The two Senators who changed from the negative to the affirmative were Peckham and Thomas. Senator Ormrod was excused.
The Blauvelt primary bill, which was passed twice at the regular session and vetoed each time by the Governor as a "make-shift" and a "fraud," was passed by the Assembly to-day by a vote of seventy-seven ayes to fifty-nine noes.
HOW EACH SENATOR VOTED ON THE BILL.
The Senate vote in detail follows: Ayes—McKintch, O'Keefe, Peckman, Seely, Wende, Wheeler (Democrats); Duhamel (Democrat and Independence League); Thomas, Whitney (Republicans); Palmer (Republican-Progressive). Noes—Blauvelt, Boylan, Carroll, Carwell, Cullen, Fitzgerald, Foley, Fowler, Griffin, Healy, Hiesterman, Harrick, McClelland, Malone, Murtagh, Patten, Pollock, Ramseperger, Banner, Simpson, Sullivan, Torborg, Vette, Wagner, White (Democrats); Argentsinger, Brown, Bussey, Coats, Emerson, Godfrey, Heacock, Hewitt, Sage, Silvers, Thompson, Walters, Wilson (Republicans).
A motion by Minority Leader Brown to reconsider the vote by which the measure was defeated was lost by a vote of twenty ayes to twenty-five noes. In moving to reconsider Senator Brown said he did so "for the purpose of seeing if this Senate cannot unite on a proposition to lick into shape some direct primary bill retaining the State convention."
Majority Leader Wagner asked for the defeat of the motion on the ground that "the matter has been disposed of." Assemblymen Eisner, Gibbs, Grimme, Bovie and Hinman, as a self-appointed committee, later conferred with Gov. Sulzer concerning a compromise. They told the Governor they could get support for a measure which would contain all the provisions of his bill except the abolition of the State convention.

ELNAR, WINNER AT HUNT CLUB MEET, IS DISQUALIFIED

Judges of the Race Give Fourth Event to Sickie.
A $15,000 apartment house for cats with janitor service, hot and cold shower in every bedroom, a catnip bed on each fire escape, and ample fence room for nocturnal promenade—this is the latest building note to come from Greenwich, Conn. Mrs. Clifford Harmon, wife of the wealthy amateur aviator, and daughter of Commodore E. C. Benedict, broke ground to-day on the Benedict estate outside of the Connecticut suburb, and before the summer is past Mrs. Harmon's twenty-eight cats and twenty-five blooded kittens will be enjoying the finest high cat life in America.
Each of the nineteen rooms in the new establishment will be assigned to one cat family and only the heads of the various households will be provided with latch keys. Hardwood floors, hot-water heat, vacuum cleaners with wall socket attachments and built-in cradles for kittens will be among the appointments provided by the careful architect. No leases will be exacted of any cat family tenant. Mrs. Harmon says; consequently no occasional cat-pesticidal exterminating at night will be construed as a "lease breaking party."
Quite modest in contrast with the $15,000 catery will be the adjoining cottages erected to accommodate Mrs. F. Y. Mathias, the cat expert, who is to be employed as a permanent chaperone for Mrs. Harmon's cats. Among Mrs. Mathias's many duties will be settling quarrels between the tenants and teaching the kittens to say "thank you" when they receive their sterilized milk.

RUMORS OF DISAGREEMENT LONG PREVALENT.
Rumors of a disagreement between Mr. Mackay and his wife, who was Mrs. Katherine Duer, have been heard in the financial district and where the very rich converge for several months. On Feb. 20 a deed was filed at Mineola, the county seat of Nassau County, putting the great Mackay estate there into a trust. It was arranged that Mrs. Mackay should have a right to any interest she had in it, that Mr. Mackay should have the right to occupy it at his pleasure, and that John W. Mackay, first, and his sisters afterward were to inherit the property in event of their father's death.
At that time Mrs. Mackay, who was ill at the Plaza Hotel, where her husband also had apartments, limited her discussion to saying to inquirers: "I simply signed a paper giving the property to Mr. Mackay outright. I did not sell, nor was any settlement made. It was a gift from me to him."
Immediately after the filing of the trust agreement Mr. Mackay took the three children to Georgetown, Md.

Many men, believed to be private detectives, were busy about the pier and the deck of the Imperator when the dew of the imperial suite, which was understood to be occupied by Mr. Mackay and his children, Ella, Katherine and John William. They were vigilant in preventing anybody from approaching the suite who looked as though he might intend to serve legal papers on Mr. Mackay or any other occupant of the suite.
So far as observers could see no papers were served nor was there any attempt to serve any. The police were given to understand that the presence of the detectives was merely a precaution taken by Mr. Mackay and was not due to any definite threat that an injunction would be sought to prevent his sailing with the children or that steps in any other action were being taken.
A reporter for The Evening World informed Mrs. Mackay at Roslyn that this afternoon that her husband had believed to have called for "papers" with their children under circumstances suggesting that he feared the service of legal papers of some sort.
Mrs. Mackay says she was given a word of truth in any statement which I have authorized anybody to make or any papers on Mr. Mackay in any suit or of an action. I know nothing of the matter further than that.
According to the police who questioned Mrs. Mackay, Mr. Mackay took his children from Spring Lake, where they have been staying for some time, to Hoboken in a fast automobile with other machines full of detectives from a private agency in front and behind. They were hurried to the ship and the suite which they occupied was closed until sailing time.
