MYSTERY OF LOST FENCE WORRIES BOWLING GREEN

Business Men Send Out Hurry Call for Sherlock Holmes to Find Historic Iron Grating.

The business men in the neighborhood of Bowling Green to-day are all heated up over the fate of the Bowling Green fence.

Half of the historic iron grating that was brought from England in 1771, and whose knobs legend says were knocked off to make ammunition to fire at the British five years later, is missing.

It is either lost, strayed or stolen, and the committee of business men which recently was formed to see to it that Bowling Green was restored after the subway contractors got through musing it up have been asking Sherlock Holmes for two days.

When it was found necessary to remove the north half of the fence for the subway work, it was cut in sections near the scene of the job. Some months ago officials of the Seaboard National Bank observed the fence being taken away—nobody seems to know where.

When he was asked by some business friends at the Bankers' Club whether he would put the fence again in place as soon as he could find it, to-day Mr. O'Rourke is in West Virginia, and the business men of Bowling Green are wondering if the fence is as spirited there.

The fence, which was said to have originated in the city's 2,500 sterling, was constructed to inclose the equine station of George III. On the evening of May 1, 1775, after the Declaration of Independence had been read from the City Hall in Wall Street, the station was burned and the fence demolished. It was reconstructed later.

BOY ROLLS OUT OF WINDOW AND FALLS FOUR STORIES

Son of Police Sergeant Heffernan Has Skull Fractured, Jaw and Five Ribs Broken.

Clarence, the nine-year-old son of Police Sergeant John J. Heffernan of the Traffic Squad, rolled out of bed through an open window at No. 221 West 114th Street at 12:30 A. M. to-day and fell four stories to the yard.

Sergeant Heffernan had arrived home only a few minutes before and found the boy asleep. He had not a bed near the window to get more fresh air. It is believed he turned over in his sleep and fell. He was taken to Harlem Hospital suffering from a fractured skull, five broken ribs, a broken jaw and internal injuries.

Reports from Rochester said that he had conferred with some of the Republican leaders in Monroe county and was to take the matter under advisement.

ACTORS AND AUTHORS' LEAGUE PRESENTS FOUR INTERESTING PLAYLETS

The best of the four playlets, constituting the new Actors and Authors' League bill, which opened last night at the Fulton Theatre, is a musical fantasy called "The Boat Sellers," by Kenneth and Roy Webb. In it modern fiction is burlesqued in a refreshing manner.

"Nocturne," a drama by A. P. Wharton, gave Minnie Dupree a chance to do some fine work and she did it. As the tired little old maid, who dreams of a man she once loved and loved at a distance, Miss Dupree possibly carried off the acting honors of the evening. She was assisted by Aurist Lee, Marian Kerby, Eric Snowden and Courtney Foote.

The new bill opens with "Maggies," a comedy of the Lanchester type, acted by Whitford Kane, Mrs. Thomas A. Wise and Elizabeth Radwin. It is amusing. "Act's Rejuvenation," by the Messrs. W. G. is an opera in which several good voices, notably that of Edward Martinelli, are heard. Harrison Brockman appears as Art, who is dying. Hal Ford, as Wisdom, begins in and saves Harrison's life after Harold Fowler, Gertrude Dallas, Harold DeLaur, Betty Dantry and Jean Wells have spent fifty minutes trying to persuade Mr. Martinelli, as Wisdom, to quit getting old. Art is a govt. "Act's Rejuvenation" is the least interesting of the four playlets.

ELSIE FERGUSON IN "A DOLL'S HOUSE" IS A RIALTO SUCCESS

Elsie Ferguson has added another to her screen successes with the production of Ibsen's "A Doll's House," which is the feature picture of the Rialto this week. As Nora, Miss Ferguson pictures surprisingly well the psychological phases of the revolutionary drama. To give atmosphere to the picture the Rialto Orchestra renders John Svendsen's "Norwegian Rhapsody."

Annie Rosner gives an excellent rendition of Ibsen's "Solweig's Song" while Carlos Mejia, a tenor, renders "A Furtive Tear" from "L'Elisir d'Amore." Felix Arndt's "Operatic Nightmare" is given as an overture.

"SOLDIERS OF THE SEA" AND GEORGE M. COHAN ON THE RIVOLI SCREEN

George M. Cohan in his inimitable production of his own play, "The Trail Holiday," at the Rivoli Theatre, has to take second place on the bill this week to the marines who headed it in France last week.

Richard of the marines, and incidentally director of the Rivoli, arranged for this special introduction of the "soldiers of the sea" into an animated picture. Following the appearance of the husky soldiers, Gladys Rice and Greek Evans sing Fay Foster's new patriotic song, "The American Come."

The feature picture is one of the most satisfactory that has been released this year. As an overture, the Rivoli Orchestra plays Nicola's "The Merry Widow at Windsor," while Gladys Rice, in addition to her duet with Mr. Evans, sings Ethelbert Nevin's famous lullaby, "Mighty Lak a Tone."

WHAT'S THE CAUSE OF GOUT, RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO?

Prof. H. Strauss, M. D., of the Royal Charity Hospital, Berlin, says:

"The cause for an attack of gout, rheumatism, lumbago, is supplied by the presence of uric acid in the blood serum, the result of various causes, the most frequent of which is renal. Before an attack, one suffers sometimes from headache, neuralgia, twinges of pain here and there or confined to a single locality." Dr. Levison and Dr. Strauss both hold that a long continued disturbance of the kidney function, resulting in an accumulation of uric acid in the blood serum, causes these painful afflictions.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, when the back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief for or three times during the night; when you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomachs; or you have the rheumatic pains or lumbago, gout, sciatica, when the weather is bad, do not neglect the warning but try simple means.

As Dr. Strauss says, the amount of fluid should be regular and distributed thru the day. Take six or eight glasses of water thru the day, a glass of lukewarm water at night just before going to bed, or a pint of hot water a half hour before meals (with one-half teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda).

Then obtain at your nearest drug store Auric, double strength, for 60c. This to flush the kidneys and to act as a tonic so that the kidneys will filter out the uric acid poison. Auric, double strength, is more potent than lithia, and in most cases it will dissolve the uric acid as hot water does sugar.—Adv.
