RELY ON "THE SUN" FUND

Efforts on This Side to Supply Them Will Not Be Relaxed.

Victory! Unconditional surrender! These were the words—right or wrong—that set the pulse of New York beating as it never beat before in a perfect fever of joy and delirium. American soldiers had won it, and far away as they were, in Lorraine, in rewon Sedan, within sight of Metz, their spirit was here, in Broadway, in Nassau street, in every street and place of this great city.

On the sound of feet victorious. Oh, the flags and banners glorious!

"Sun" Fund Not to Relax.

It was all that was wanting—the troops' return. For that we will try to school ourselves to wait. Mean while this Sun Tobacco Fund will not relax its effort to send over to them our congratulations of a proud people in the visible shape of a gift.

Meanwhile the holidays are upon us, with the duties of love and admiration we owe to our soldiers still to be fulfilled. This Sun Tobacco Fund is undertaking to supply them with holiday tobacco.

Everybody will welcome the opportunity to give to the soldiers. Everybody who has always meant to send money to the fund to buy a soldier tobacco will hasten to help supply the demand.

The soldiers themselves ask for these tobacco gifts. They ask openly, as one asks of a trusted friend a favor he cannot refuse, or they ask indirectly by returning thanks for what they have received in the shape of a gift.

These "victory" days ought to be great days for the farmers and growers of United States tobacco and the fund hopes that all contributed certificates are put in this Sun Fund boxes to be changed into smokes for the soldiers.

How the Fund Stands to-day.

Table with columns: THE SUN AND THE EVENING SUN, THE SUN AND THE EVENING SUN, THE SUN AND THE EVENING SUN, THE SUN AND THE EVENING SUN.

His Message is Between the Lines.

Another young officer sends a Christmas card to the Sun. The card says: "Christmas, 1918. With kindest thoughts and all good wishes for Xmas and the coming year." He mails it without comment, but the Sun is able to read between its lines.

FEW 16c. QUARTS; LOTS OF 10c. PINTS

Public Pays More for Alleged Shortage.

Complaints came from milk consumers in widely different sections of the city yesterday that it was impossible to purchase quart bottles which sell for 15 cents each, whereas there appeared to be an abundant supply of pints which retail for 10 cents each, thus netting a profit of 4 cents more on each quart.

Swift & Company, Chicago, Plan for 1918 One of Our 22 Packing Plans in U.S.A. Unlike Topsy—Swift & Company Has Not "Jest Grown" Swift & Company, in fifty years of well ordered growth, has become one of the great national services because it has learned to do something for the American people which they needed to have done for them, in the way in which they preferred to have it done. It has met each successive demand, in the changing conditions of national life, by getting good meat to increasing millions effectively, efficiently, economically, and expeditiously. The Swift & Company packing plants, refrigerator cars, car routes, branch houses, organization, and personnel of today are the practical solutions, born of practical experience, to the food problems of a half a century. Because of all these elements working in correlation and union, Swift & Company is able to supply more and better meat to more people than would have been possible otherwise, at a net profit per pound of meat so low (a fraction of a cent) that the consumer price is practically unaffected. Strip away any portion of this vast, smooth-running human machine, and you make a large part of the meat supply uncertain, lose the benefit of half a century of fruitful experience, and scatter the intelligent energies of men who have devoted a life work toward meeting the needs of a nation in one vital field. The booklet of preceding chapters in the history of the packing industry will be mailed on request to Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Illinois. Swift & Company U. S. A.
