"NOT SO LONG AGO" NEW COMEDY AT THE BOOTH

Miss Mary Kennedy and Miss Eva Le Gallienne in "Not So Long Ago."

THE BOOTH THEATRE—"NOT SO LONG AGO," romantic comedy, by Arthur Richman.

Giving the glad hand to the young playwright being one of the pleasant duties of the commentator on theatrical affairs, it becomes our task to salute Arthur Richman, hitherto unknown to the fame of Longacre Square.

The piece has the further advantage of having a story to tell, though this sometimes crowds itself into the foreground and makes the picture stand back and give it air.

Atmosphere of Old New York. When the skeleton is familiar at sight there is only the device of draping the atmosphere, as it were, decoratively about the frame.

The Fate of Cinderella. In the house of a social climber, who may be the first of his kind in this city, we doubt it. She is interested, mentally in the son of this house.
