A CALIFORNIA STORY.
In the early mining days of California there stood at the foot of the hill, not many miles from Nevada, one of those rough-built rambling houses, common throughout the mountain sections of the territory. A description of this structure and its surroundings will convey to the reader a better idea of the incident I am about to relate. The building contained but one room, the entrance to which was at one end, with a door which opened directly on the other end, nearly opposite to the entrance. On the large stone hearth burned a wood fire, giving to the room a cheerful appearance. On the front, at the right of the hearth, was a well-filled bar, around which were congregated representatives of different nations, some speculating on the success of various mining operations, while others were discussing the general topics of the day. Along the rear side table, around each of which was seated a company of miners playing poker and staking large sums of gold with as much coolness and apparent success as if they were putting in their evening meal. A few rude seats occupied the space around the fireplace, and in the front portion of the room beyond the bar. The cabin of the settlers extended some distance from the main building, while the unsettled portion of the country lay in the rear.

breakfast or dinner table, the same content should prevail as if guests were present. Reproof, complaint, unpleasant discussion and scandal, no less than moody silence, should be banished. Let the conversation be genial, and suited to the little folks, as far as possible. Interesting incidents of the day's experience may be mentioned at the evening meal, thus raising the social element. If resources fail, sometimes little bits read aloud from the morning or evening paper will kindle the fire.

HAYING TAKEN THIS DAY PURCHASED THE Walker House, we are now in possession of the two best Hotels in Salt Lake City. Of the Walker House we deem it unnecessary to say anything in its behalf, its splendid design and clean and elegant furniture being so well known to the public.
THE CLIFT HOUSE, though not so well known as the Walker House—having been open but a few weeks—is first-class in all its appointments—the building being new and the furniture of the most fashionable and elegant style. The location of this house is central and commands a splendid view of the lake and ever snow-capped mountains and surrounding scenery.
Its local reputation is superior to that of any other house in the city.
With the above facilities at our command we feel assured in guaranteeing satisfaction to all.
Respectfully, etc.

Seminal Weakness.
Seminal emission is consequence of self-abuse. This malady, in consequence of self-abuse, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with increasing certainty the following train of diseases, unless combated by accurate medical measures, viz: salivary contamination, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves or rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, pimples and various eruptions about the face, hectic flushes, hurried gait, fortid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, neurasthenia and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained you should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have care effectuated by his new and scientific mode of treating disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure.
