Still Doing Business.

Last Saturday night William Ball, who worked here last December, assaulted the editor of the Elko Independent and also threatened his life. On the latter charge he was placed under $500 bonds to keep the peace and is to be tried on the other charge Monday. Ball was here during the lot-jumping episode, and when the building was moved off the lot claimed by Gayhart he was an agitator in favor of the lot jumper. The BONANZA commented upon his ravings and since then he has told parties that he was going to kill the editor of this paper on sight. We are still doing business at the old stand. Subscription price, $5 per year.

Power and Light.

It is stated on good authority that ex-Governor Jewitt Adams has associated himself with a wealthy company just organized to build an electric power and light plant on Twin river about sixty miles north of Tonopah to supply this place with power add light. It is to be hoped that the plant will be built.

Pneumonia in Austin.

The dread disease, pneumonia, is prevalent in Austin in a severe form. Many of the residents of that camp are very low with the sickness, two having already died.

A man that does his advertising on a blackboard in front of his place of business can be put down as a dealer in "shoddy" goods. He is too cheap to have good goods.

There are not enough teams now on the road between here and the railroad to handle the ore that the Company is desirous of sending to the smelters.

George Ladd of Los Angeles intends putting on a stage line between Tonopah and Sodaville.

Denny Shine, a well-known citizen of Sonora, died there last week.
