The Only Way.

The greatest and strongest argument in favor of the newspaper as a medium for advertisers, is the hold a good paper gets on its readers. Through long association in which the subscriber finds his paper always battling for the right, he comes to lean on it for ideas and opinions as well as the news of the day. What a man reads in his favorite newspaper he believes, advertisements and all. Instances of consistent advertisers becoming rich through the proper use of publicity are numerous in every town and city. When a village gets beyond the thousand or two thousand limit in that stage where everybody does not know everybody else's business, the time for merchants to advertise has arrived. Reno has long since passed that stage and the merchant who clings to the belief that because he has been in business here for thirty years everybody knows him, will wake up some morning, if he has not already done so, to find that the new man who is a rustler and believes in letting the people know who he is, where his store is and what he has to sell, together with the price of his goods, has crowded the old-timer to the wall. Reno is growing rapidly, and in order to get the trade of her new people as well as retain that of her old, you must use the progressive methods of publicity offered by the home newspaper.—Reno Gazette.

The Wells Herald says Senator Bell of Nye county will be a candidate for Governor.

Hawthorne is to have a bottling establishment.
