Anderson, Ind., June 29.—The National Tin Plate Company today posted notice for a shut down on Thursday morning a per contract for the readjustment of the wage scale. At the same time all the united tin plate factories in the country will close. The conferences of manufacturers and workmen wage committees will be held in Pittsburg next Saturday.

The Union Window Glass Factories are preparing to close down Wednesday for a readjustment of the wage scale On account of the factional fight between the blowers and gatherers on one side and the cutters and flatteners on the other, some delay in the settlement is anticipated

Among the union flint bottle manufacturers there will be no shut down, as usual. The union men will sacrifice their vacation in order to fight the non-union plants which do not close.

The window glass shut down will cause 15,000 men to lie idle, while the tin plate closing lays off about 12,000 men.

The Indianapolis Journal says: "It is not an uncommon thing to hear a man say of some favorite article of food that he never had enough of it. John Southwick, an Illinois man, felt that way about strawberry shortcake, and the fruit being cheap this year he resolved to gratify himself. To that end he procured five quarts of strawberries, made an immense cake with his own hands, spread the berries over it, ate it all—and died. The account of the affair ascribes the unfortunate result to the quantity of berries, but it must not be forgotten that he made the pastry himself." The same paper is far from a dreamy state when it asserts that plenty of people will be ready to testify that if the fruit came in five "quart" boxes there were not enough of them to kill any man.

They have a "Clan" McLaurin in Mississippi which is a hard formation to throw down politically. One is the Governor of the State and he has seven brothers and they may be said to be strictly in it. A. J. is an ex-United States Senator and is now Governor; H. J. is a State Senator; R. S. is District Attorney for nine counties. W. K. is Circuit Judge in the Vicksburg district; Walter is Warden of the State prison. The other three have been in office and expect to be again

At the Princess of Wales' dinner to the poor, beer was served, and now a howl is going up from every pulpit in Christendom. Whenever a dinner is given to the upper ten, wine is served and no rash comments are made. The poor man should be as much entitled to his beer as the rich is to his champagne.—Bee

This is the way the Times Review reports a horse race:

A race between a couple of nags led quite a crowd to the top of the Silver Prize ridge last evening. The "yaller hoss" owned by a stranger, proved to be to speedy for the inky hued local steed. And our home talent got twenty dollars worth of the "rinky-dink."

A contemporary cites the old boyish story of the merchant who found a ten-dollar gold piece, paid a ten dollar debt with it, which in turn paid a dozen other debts and then came back into the merchant's hands, who on taking it to the bank found it was counterfeit, and asks us if those debts were paid.

This seems to be a hard nut to crack. If all hands in the transaction are satisfied the debts may be considered square.

Mark Twain has wisely declined the fund started by the New York papers for his relief. He says that he is physically and mentally able to work and declines to be an object of charity.

That shrinking, timid creature, the ex-mistress of lawyer Delmas, and Baroness Van Turkheim, is back in San Francisco, getting full length pictures of herself and putting in columns of talk in order to convince the reporters that she doesn't court notoriety. She is considered quite a warm article by the interviewers.

The last move on the part of the Turks is to secure Thessaly with the support of Germany but the other nations have filed a protest.

A rich strike is reported on Minera Hill about three or four miles from Buckeye.

Mrs Henderson of Elko, and Mrs. Brown of Chicago, are visiting Warden Henderson and family. The one is Mr. Henderson's mother and the second his sister. Both ladies will remain about a week.
