SCRAPS FROM ELY.

Latest quotations: Lead, $4.00; copper $16.75.

Riepe's Hotel is the place to go for a good meal, a good bed or a good drink.

The latest estimates place the loss of life in the Galveston flood at 6,000.

Al Enright, the Bodie murderer, has been sentenced to ten years imprisonment.

District Attorney Walker went to Cherry Creek on Tuesday to attend the dance of the Sweet Bye and Bye Club.

The Duck Creek school opened last Monday with Miss Ida Gallagher as teacher.

Mike Cohen came in from Delamar yesterday to look after his property interests here.

Geo. F. Parker and Geo. Cook of Cherry Creek were shaking hands with friends here the first of the week.

Candidates will find a fine assortment of cards and new type at this office. Get your orders in early so we can supply you promptly.

Al Nuckols and family stopped over here last Thursday night on their way from Carson to their home in Cherry Creek.

Mrs. Jackson, a daughter of E. O. Connors of this place, arrived here last Monday from San Francisco and will make her home with her parents.

A popular gentleman from Cherry came up to Ely on Sunday and returned next day with a fair partner for the dance on Wednesday night. You guess.

BORN—to the wife of S. C. Jensen on last Friday evening, a 9-pound girl. Mother and child are both doing nicely.

Miss Siona Bonneville arrived at Lane City last Saturday and on Tuesday opened the school at that place for the winter term.

The following are the members of the Democratic State Central Committee for this county: P. C. Weber, R. A. Riepe, Allan Wakening, Wm. Roberts and A. C. House.

No mail arrived from Eureka yesterday, owing to a wreck the day before on the C. P. near Lovelocks. The E. & P. train was seven hours late in reaching Eureka and the Ely stage laid over until next morning.

Two six-horse teams pulled into Hayes' G. C. Depot last Sunday with 216 sacks of grain from Ruby valley, the first of the new crop, which is reported to be short this season all over the eastern part of the State.

The Silver Party County Central Committee held a meeting at the Courthouse last Saturday evening. No important business was transacted and the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the Chair.

There was a social dance at the Hall last Monday evening under the management of W. J. Peters, and though the attendance was not large owing to sickness in town, everybody had a pleasant time. Music was furnished by F. P. Kott and Jas. Jackson.

The Board of County Commissioners met here last Monday as a Board of Equalization and reviewed the work of Assessor Williamson. No changes of importance were found to be necessary and the Board adjourned to meet again on the 1st of October.

W. W. Wickham, who for several months preceding the shut-down had charge of the cyanide department at the Chairman mill, has accepted a similar position in a custom mill near Gunnison, Colorado, and leaves this morning with his wife for his new field of labor.

Nearly twenty men who had been engaged on the rock work at the new Robust mill were laid off last Saturday, the big retaining walls being completed. The fraying of the timbers for the mill is progressing slowly on account of delays in getting lumber from the saw-mill.

President Kruger has taken refuge at Lorenzo Marquez and is said to have resigned.

Mrs. L. F. Shepherd arrived here last Saturday from Redding, California, to join her husband, who has been here for several weeks on business connected with the sale of the Chairman mine, and expects to remain permanently as Superintendent of the property.

The first Belgian hares to be imported into White Pine arrived here last Friday on the Eureka stage. They are the property of Roy Shepherd and were shipped from his former home at Redding, California. The little animals are very pretty and attracted considerable attention.

At a meeting of the School Board last Tuesday evening it was decided to open school here on October 1st. The application of A. J. Cartwright for the position of teacher of the grammar department was accepted and Miss Cartwright will teach the primary school providing that a suitable building can be obtained.

Ed Gilliland was in from White River valley last Monday with a load of butter and eggs, which found a ready market. Mr. Gilliland owns one of the prettiest little ranches in the county and is now the proud possessor of a bearing orchard. He presented the NEWS with a sample of his apples, which were the finest we have seen this season.

Will Watson and family have been visiting here for several days with Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Scott. Mr. Watson informs us that the company which has been developing the Joanna group of mines at Watsonville under the superintendence of W. B. Lawler has given up its bond and ceased operations. The property therefore reverts to Mr. Watson and his partners, who still retain their faith in the ground and propose to continue development work.

Considerable interest was occasioned here last Monday afternoon by a big cloud of smoke apparently rising from the neighborhood of the old town of Ward. All sorts of guesses were made as to the exact location of the fire and came about as close to the mark as the average weather prophet. Senator Comins informs us that the fire was visible from his ranch and was located on the mountain south of Willow creek. It was probably started by Indians after deer or pine nuts.

THE CANDIDATES.
Six New Aspirants for Office in the Field.
The political pot in this county has been simmering for a long time, but has at last struck a boil. Candidates for the various county offices have been waiting to see whether county conventions would be held by any of the parties, and when it became evident last week that the time had passed for calling primaries, petitions began to float around thicker than blackbirds in a corn field. Six new announcements appear in this issue, and the end is not yet.

For the office of Assemblyman, three aspirants have entered the field. Of these Frank Paul represented us in the Legislature two years ago and served his constituents faithfully. Mr. Paul has the interests of the county thoroughly at heart and, if elected, will enter with zeal upon the duties of the office.

No less can be said of the other two contestants. C. A. Walker has served the county for two years as District Attorney and his record is familiar to all. In seeking for the wider field of usefulness he has the support of many friends.

Col. Jos. Grandelmeier, the third candidate, is an old and well known resident of the county. He was defeated by Mr. Paul two years ago but was not in the least discouraged thereby and hopes for a more favorable verdict from the voters this time. It is a three cornered fight and will be warmly contested.

The contest for the Sheriff's office also is further complicated by the entrance of W. R. Bassett into the race. Mr. Bassett served the county as Sheriff for four years from 1888 to 1892, since which time he has been out of politics. He has a wide circle of friends and will make a hard fight for the position.

M. B. Garaghan, who has announced himself as a candidate for Auditor and Recorder, has already served the county in that capacity for a number of years and has proven himself to be a most efficient public servant. As yet no opposing candidate has appeared in the field.

Richard A. Riepe has started the ball to rolling for Long Term Commissioner. Dick is a rustler and if he don't get there, it won't be for lack of work. The position has always been much sought after in the past but since the salary was reduced, the number of aspirants are few. As yet Mr. Riepe has the field to himself.

TWO NARROW ESCAPES.

Benj. Strandman Nearly Killed in a Runaway.

A runaway occurred on Main street last Tuesday afternoon which nearly cost Benj. Strandman his life. In company with several other gentlemen, he had driven up to Graham's store and alighted, settling the brake and wrapping the lines about the lever, as he was in the habit of doing. He had hardly turned away from the wagon, however, when the horse made a lunge and started to run up the street. Being unable to reach the lines, Mr. Strandman jumped into the back end of the wagon and started to climb over the seat to where they were fastened. The seat gave away and while he was still scrambling to get over it the horse dashed into the alleyway between the Ely Hotel and the old Davis building. The wagon collided with the corner of Munro's corral and was completely overturned, throwing its occupant at least 20 feet.

Help arrived on the scene almost immediately and the injured man was found lying on his face and apparently lifeless. The doctor was among the first arrivals and applied restoratives, but it was several minutes before any sign of life appeared and he remained unconscious for a couple of hours, tossing and groaning with pain. His injuries are confined to a badly strained shoulder and side and while very painful, they are not as serious as was at first feared. He was resting easily yesterday and will probably be on his feet again within a few days.

Jas. Ostergard Suffers Severe Injuries.

Hardly had the excitement from the Strandman accident subsided, when another runaway occurred which also barely missed a fatal termination. As Jas. Ostergard and Al Marshall were driving home from their work up the canyon, the front axle of their buggy broke just as they were passing Bird's lumber yard. The horse started to kick and run and Mr. Marshall jumped out safely, but Mr. Ostergard was thrown headlong. He sustained two bad scalp wounds which required several stitches to close up and yesterday was nursing a very sore head.

The horse continued to run down the street, dragging the broken buggy, and was caught in front of Graham's store, where it narrowly missed jumping through one of the show-windows.

A REPUBLICAN MEETING.

Farrington and Coffin Make Speeches.

Messrs. E. S. Farrington and Tremop Coffin, the Republican nominees for Congressman and Supreme Judge, arrived here quite unexpectedly last Friday evening from Cherry Creek. They remained over the next day, investigating the local political situation and in the evening addressed a public meeting at Hill's Hall. The room was comfortably filled with an audience in which all parties were represented and also a number of ladies. W. W. Wickham presided and about a dozen prominent Republicans, besides the speakers occupied seats about the Chair.

Mr. Coffin was the first speaker and touched lightly on the various issues of the campaign. He declared his belief in the free coinage of silver, and also of holding on to the advantages which have come to the country through the Spanish war and the protective tariff. He claimed that Bryan and the Democrats had given silver a back seat and for that reason he believed that the interests of Nevada would be best promoted through the Republican party. Mr. Coffin paid a generous tribute to the character of his opponent, Judge Fitzgerald, and ended with a graceful introduction of the Congressional candidate, Mr. Farrington, whose address lasted for an hour.

Mr. Farrington first gave his attention to the motto adopted in the Republican platform, "Nevadans for Nevada," and discoursed thereon at some length. He declared that Nevada should be held sacred to Nevadans and that the Democrats ought to declare for "Home Rule" in Nevada as well as in the Philippines. He said that the time had come to put a stop to the name of "Rotten Borough" and the policy that has shut the door in the face of Nevada's ambitious young men.

He then turned his attention to the record of Mr. Nowlands, his opponent, and made use of a good deal of sarcasm at that gentleman's expense. The most of the facts produced, however, were familiar to the audience, having been used by Mr. Wron two years ago. Mr. Farrington dismissed the charges that have been made by the press that he is a tool of C. C. Wallace with the statement that he had been paid by the railroad for all services that he rendered that corporation and that he is not seeking office to degrade himself, but for the honor there is in it. He then accused his opponent of having been allied with the railroad forces prior to the Senatorial contest of two years ago. Mr. Farrington declared himself to be in favor of the remonetization of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 and pledged
