

GOVERNOR BLASDEL AT SANTA CRUZ. From the Santa Cruz Sentinel of the 28th ult. we make the following extract:

Among the notable arrivals at the Pacific Ocean House, the past week, was that of the Hon. H. G. Blasdel, Governor of the State of Nevada, who seeks this genial and pleasant climate for the benefit of his health. We are happy to know that he is rapidly regaining health and strength since his arrival. Governor Blasdel was formerly a resident of this county, and in early days "branched it" near the Bay, below Soquel, where he established a reputation for industry and perseverance. On his arrival he was warmly welcomed by pioneer friends, who congratulated him on his success in Sageland, while tendering the hospitalities of our little "kingdom by the sea."

The above item was written for last week's paper, but was crowded out by a press of advertisements. During the present week we were honored by a visit, to the sanatorium, of the worthy Governor, and we must really say, while congratulating him on recovered health, that he looks like anything but a sick man, standing, as he does, six feet five inches in his slippers, and weighing over 214 pounds, live weight. He is the healthiest looking invalid we have seen, among the many who have visited Santa Cruz for their health. The Governor attributes it all to the soothing influences of this equitable and salubrious climate. In a conversation, he expressed astonishment that so few of the outside world appeared to realize or take advantage of this favorite resort. He spoke in the highest terms, from experience, of the sanitary influence of our sea-baths, and the health restoring effects of the atmosphere, as enjoyed amidst the grand scenery of our mountains, or driving along the charming terraces, which look down in their quiet beauty on the smooth surface of our magnificent bay. He feels grateful for the many kindnesses and congenial attentions bestowed on him by his old friends and neighbors, and remembered the hospitalities of mine host, of the Pacific Ocean House. He was particularly pleased to notice the great change which had taken place in Santa Cruz town, and throughout the county, since the former days—in 1851 and '52—when he cultivated "spuds" and "frjolles," near Watsonville.

THE FAMOUS MRS. COBB.—The New York Citizen does up the famous Mrs. Cobb, the pardon brokeress and particular friend of the President, as follows:

She is a woman of good guise, about five feet four inches high, and between the years of twenty-eight and thirty-two. She is slender and delicate looking, though there are fine curves in her body. She has a wistful, dark blue eye, a Roman nose, a pretty mouth, generally well compressed, but when disparted you can see that the teeth are like pearls. Her skin is clear as a peach rind; she has brown hair, and weighs about one hundred and forty-five pounds. Her dress is commonly tasteful, and meant to show to advantage the shapefulness of her figure; thus, in warm weather, she wears a light linen wrapper, very white and tidy and plump. Mrs. Cobb formerly kept a cigar store on the avenue; married a treasury clerk, left him, traveled, returned, and lives by her check at present.

THE OREGON CONGRESSMAN.—The Nevada Gazette, which politically is neither fish, fowl nor flesh, claims Mallory, Congressman elect from Oregon, as for A. Johnson. We are not disposed to bandy words with the Gazette and will call on the Oregonian to give the member's status.—Vermont Appeal.

The Nevada Gazette (meanin' C. O. H. M.) is not "for A. Johnson." He made the canvass which resulted in his election, on the principles that A. Johnson advocated before he apostatized; on the doctrine that it is the province of Congress to supervise the work of reconstruction; on the proposition that the Civil Rights law was just, expedient and necessary, and on the principle that traitors who have served the rebellion must be forever kept out of Congress. Furthermore, he is in favor of the new amendment to the Constitution, which A. Johnson opposes. Mr. Mallory was not elected to support "my policy," but to represent the loyal people of Oregon.—Portland Oregonian.

DOWN TO AN ALLIANCE.—That was not an empty remark of the old woman from the country, who, while on a visit to her city daughter, saw a waterfall for the first time. "What do you call that great stuffed ball, Mary?" "That's a waterfall, ma." "A waterfall! It looks more like a land slide."

GENERAL GRANT ON THE AMENDMENTS. General Grant has freely expressed himself as unqualifiedly in favor of the constitutional amendments adopted by Congress, declaring that the best interests of the country demand their adoption.

A REVOLUTION IN ENGLAND—PARTIAL SUFFRAGE DEMANDED.

While the popular mind in the United States is agitated by the restlessness of a great question which must be affirmatively answered sooner or later, the liberty-seeking people of England, moving by thousands, are pushing forward their claims to be recognized as freemen entitled to the right of self government; and with a magnitude of movement which refuses to be ignored, they demand that reform which has so long been denied them and which, in its struggle for a just recognition overthrew the late ministry of that Kingdom. It is because the long licensed privileges and long seated prejudices of the British aristocracy have taught them to regard the popular demand for the ballot as something preposterous and absurd, that nothing better than a tyrannical and oppressive property qualification has barred from the elective franchise the great bulk of the native born men of the British empire. And just so long as laws which recognize inequality in the rights of men blot the statute books of Great Britain, just so long will there be "riots in Hyde Park," protestations, murmurings, and stern, threatening demands for justice and impartial laws, before which ministries must topple and administrations fail. There could be no better sign of health in the British body politic than is evinced by this earnest, irrepressible determination of the English people to be admitted to an enjoyment of the rights which they inherently feel to be their own. The very sentiment which prompts the demand for an extended elective franchise, is, in itself, a sufficient intelligence to warrant its bestowal. Its gratification may possibly imperil the future prospects of the Prince of Wales; its denial will almost certainly procure the violent dethronement of the next King of England. The same blood which dared to risk an encounter with British bayonets at Lexington and Bunker Hill, flows in the veins of the three hundred thousand Englishmen who only the other day marched in solemn, stern procession through the streets of London. These Englishmen will vote or they will hold Parliaments and ministers to an account for the denial. For while the area of liberty is being enlarged and while manhood is being elevated, expanded and enlightened, the inalienable rights of a just and Christian-like Freedom are making themselves more intelligently manifest to mankind, all over the world. And this is the true and infallible spirit of republicanism out of which grows that enlargement of the mind which resents and repudiates the claims and presumptions of a self constituted oligarchy of caste, or privilege of birth and descent. Moreover, this simultaneous uprising of the different classes of laboring men in England is significant of the grand, almost universal impulse in favor of that Progress which is a consequence of the increased means and improved methods of popular education. England's sons of toil are catching the inspiration of the "battle cry of Freedom" which reaches them from across the Atlantic, and the strong and unquenchable voice of Human Justice seeks audience and will be heard.

INDIAN TROUBLES.—The Nye County News of July 28th contains the following allusion to Indian troubles near Silver Peak:

Some three weeks ago, Thomas Shaw, M. G. Rhodes and George Ayres, left here on a prospecting tour, intending to go down below Silver Peak, but upon arriving in that section they found the Indians so troublesome they were unable to proceed. We learn that one of their horses was shot, but they escaped with whole scalps. We presume they owe their safety to the fact of their hair being cut so short. They changed their course to the Philadelphia District, and will probably return in a day or two, when we will learn more of the trouble.

BY STATE TELEGRAPHS

NEW ORLEANS, August 1.—The Convention meets again to-morrow, and it is believed martial law will be speedily rescinded by order of the President.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The Post's money article says the loan market is unchanged. Government stocks are firm. The Commercial's money article says there are no quotations by the Atlantic cable to-day, which has kept transactions in great suspense.

An offer was made to-day by private parties to supply the Stock Exchange and Gold Room with London quotations at one thousand dollars per month. It would seem impossible that information of such importance could be a matter of private monopoly, and doubtless arrangements will be made to have information accessible to all.

Fifteen cases of cholera and six deaths, in this city, and eighteen cases and five deaths, in Brooklyn, occurred to-day. There were three deaths from cholera among the troops on Governor's Island last night, including Lieutenant Smith.

Although the announcement that the Atlantic Cable was open for business was only made yesterday, there were twenty messages filed on that day, and the cash receipts at the New York office were $3,024 in gold.

HEART'S CONTENT, July 29th.—The steamer Bloody Island is alongside the Great Eastern taking in 12 miles of cable to repair the Gulf of St Lawrence cable, which we expect to accomplish this week. The Atlantic Cable is working splendidly.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1. To all Agents of the Associated Press: For the present, and until we learn all the peculiar traits of the cable so as to fix upon a just tariff for the burdens it imposes, the rule will be to assess the expenses upon the papers publishing the news.

At a meeting of our Association it was ordered that all European news, by telegraph, whether addressed to the association's agents or to individual editors, should be delivered directly from the telegraph office to the General Agent of the Associated Press to be treated as news of the Association. This will probably be an end to a growing evil here, and I hope it will be approved and enforced among local associations.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The Herald has the following, dated London, July 30th: A great meeting was held to-day in the city. Three hundred thousand people were present: resolutions were adopted declaring that they had no faith in the government. Petitions were read, which will be presented to Parliament, demanding inquiry into the conduct of Sir Richard Mayne, Chief of Police. The procession was immense. Several bands of music were in attendance, and everything passed off quietly.

The Tribune has a special dispatch which says that peace was believed to be certain at Berlin on Saturday. Bismarck and the King will return this week. Prussia carries all her points. The Liberals support Bismarck's foreign policy.

The Austrian naval victory is much over-estimated. The Hyde Park riots, and the movements to form an exclusive reform league, have imperilled the Derby Government.

STUCK BY LIGHTNING.—Four men who had committed some crimes and were being pursued by officers of the law near Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, recently took shelter under a tree during a thunder storm, when all four were struck by lightning and instantly killed. Strange to say, the tree was untouched by the electric fluid, at any rate exhibited no traces of it, while the ground was torn up for several feet around.
