Japan Expected to Remain In Siberia

(By United Press)
LONDON, July 20. (By mail)—Foreign office officials and diplomatic officials here are filled with curiosity over Japan's next declaration of policy regarding Siberia, which is due shortly after the last Czech-Slovak contingent sails from Vladivostok.

That Japan will fulfill her former pledges to evacuate Siberia upon the departure of the Czechs, Poles, Rumanians and other war prisoners, is regarded as highly improbable. In fact, foreign office officials do not consider such an action debatable.

What interests them more is the substance of Japan's new alibi, by which she will seek to justify the continuation of her occupation of Russian territory.

Earlier official statements emanating from the foreign office at Tokio indicated positively that Japan's only purpose of maintaining forces in Siberia was to "protect" the Czechs. Later declarations referred to the necessity of protecting Japanese subjects and covering the Korean frontier against the intrigues of the Koreans domiciled in adjacent Russian territory. The latest declaration promises evacuation when a stable government has been established.

Recently, according to foreign office reports, Japan sent 10,000 additional troops into Russia, presumably as relief forces for the soldiers there whose enlistments had expired. However, none of the time-expired men have been withdrawn, which makes the status of the newly arrived contingents more of the nature of reinforcements.

The general opinion in official quarters here is that Japan has made herself the dominant factor in the Far East and expects to retain her hold and position in Siberia until action by the Russian government renders such position untenable.

Unless combined European and American pressure forces Japan to loosen her hold upon Russia's eastern territories, or the policy of the Japanese government changes radically, there is nothing to prevent her "peaceful occupation" from becoming permanent. The present Russian government will require years to become strong enough to wage successful war against so powerful an enemy.

Japanese diplomacy, however, has already got itself into an incongruous position by admitting that the present Siberian government was entitled to recognition.

Ostensibly the Verkhne Udinsk government was purposely set up to comply with Japan's demand for a stable government. The Japanese, realizing the power of the new coalition, negotiation, negotiated with them regarding an armistice, thereby tacitly admitting their right to recognition.

Japan, however, is expected to charge that the Verkhne Udinsk regime is a tool of Moscow, unless by favorable concessions it proves its friendliness to Japan and hostility to the Bolsheviks.

DECISION REVERSED

The Supreme court yesterday reversed the decision rendered by the Esmeralda county district court in favor of Marie A. Nichols versus the Western Union Telegraph company.

The action was brought to recover damages for mental anguish caused by the alleged failure of the telegraph company to deliver promptly a message conveying the news of a death. The lower court awarded damages to the extent of $2,900 to the plaintiff, but the defendant company appealed the case.

Chief Justice Coleman wrote the decision and upheld the company's contention that the message was interstate in nature and there could be no recovery of damages sustained for mental anguish when unaccompanied by physical injury. All testimony supported the claim that the message was interstate and the decision was rendered that the federal statute overruled the state law.

The decision was concurred in by Justices Sanders and Ducker.

TO BEGIN WORK ON EXPERIMENT STATION

Charles Davis, member of the staff of the mining experiment station, the removal of which from Golden, Colo., to this city was recently authorized by the government, will arrive here on August 7th, to begin the work of the station. Davis will be the first of the staff to arrive.

"University authorities and the architects are now working on the plans of the new building which will house the station in an effort to make the structure conform to the funds at hand," E. C. Lincoln, director of the Mackay School of Mines, said this morning. "It is believed that the new building will be separate from the present mining building with enough space between the two buildings to allow plenty of light to enter the School of Mines. The staff will work in the laboratory of the Mackay building until their own is completed."

Davis is particularly engaged in working platinum investigations. It is not known at the university how soon the other members of the staff will arrive. Davis was expected here today, but word that he would not be able to arrive until the 7th.—Gazette.

CANADA IS BIG BOOZE IMPORTER

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 3.—The seriousness of the business in bootlegging whiskey between Canada and the United States is disturbing the provincial and Federal authorities.

The Royal Northwest Mounted Police are taking a hand in the suppression of the bootlegging, but so far without much success. In Quebec and New Brunswick, all along the border, there is a well organized bootlegging business, and apparently little effort is being made to cope with it. That there is an enormous profit in rum running is evident from the prices paid. Whiskey has jumped 100 per cent. within the last six months. A bottle sells now for $5 to $8 in Canada, and fancy prices are said to prevail in the states.

That the great increase in imports in whiskey into Canada is due to the bootlegging is the general belief. For the year ended March, 1920, the imports of alcoholic liquors were $9,152,339, and for the same twelve months of 1919 only $1,860,963. In 1918 there was imported $4,065,728. The first three months of this year shows the same increase.
