SHORT 5,000,000 HOMES

United States Has 25,000,000 People Living in Temporary Quarters.
Approximately 25,000,000 people in the United States are now living in temporary, crowded and often insanitary quarters, according to officials of the United States Housing Corporation.

"The nation is short more than 5,000,000 dwellings and apartments," said Chief Engineer Chase of the corporation. "All hope of improvement must be deferred until next spring. Building now has virtually stopped. It will take the country five years to catch up."

HOG SWAM 26 MILES

But Kentucky Animal Lost Ten Pounds in Weight as Result.
After a 26-mile swim down the Mississippi river a 250-pound hog belonging to L. Jones, near Island No. 2, at Chickman, Ky., returned home with a record as a long-distance swimmer.
The hog was caught in midstream by two Hickman men while fishing. Jones arrived to get the hog, which he said had been on a mound above Columbus, Ky. He thinks the hog fell into the river and was carried downstream by the current. The hog lost ten pounds in weight as the result of its journey.

Discharged Gun With Yardstick. Placing the muzzle of a shotgun in his mouth, Edward G. Ward of Hagerstown, Md., killed himself by pushing the trigger with a yardstick.

NATIONAL PIGEON RACE

One of the most spectacular sporting events ever arranged in this country will be contested on September 25 next, when thousands of Rexall Homing Pigeons, racing in pairs, will fly from points within a radius of 500 miles of St. Louis back to the home lofts in that city.
In order to make possible this race, which will be officially observed by a detail of Army Officers sent by the Pigeon Section of the Signal Corps, the biggest Pigeon Lofts in the world were constructed by the United Drug Company. The best breeding homing pigeons purchasable were procured, 500 in all, and placed in the breeding lofts. From this nucleus upwards of 8,000 of the speediest, best trained thoroughbred homers have been reared. Each is trained to the hour and many are expected to set a new speed mark and smash old records.

Scores of married men who have visited the great pigeon loft in St. Louis, where more than 5,000 birds are in training for the big Rexall Derby, have had revealed to them by this feathered clan some beautiful examples of domesticity.
The most predominant trait in the character of the homing pigeon, of course, is his love of home. His birthplace, the loft in which he is bred, reared and trained, is home and no other spot on earth, no matter how alluring, has any interest for him.
He may be carried off, miles from home, and tossed off into space. Eventually he will return. It may take days, or it may be only a matter of hours, but no anxiety is felt on the part of his mate, for she knows that he will be back, sooner or later. Devotion to mate and their young, and love of home is so dominant in their natures that they are oblivious to all else.

There are no slackers in these fam-Both male and female do their part towards making a home. The male finds the material of tobacco, leaves and stems, and the female sets herself to the task of actual nest building. Once mated, pigeons remain mated for life. They never waver in their constancy and loyalty to and love of mate. At the age of three months the young pigeon looks about for his wife and once he wins her, and this only after the most ardent wooing, he is hers till death and he slaves for her and their progeny from dawn till dark.

Every day circling over the great loft in St. Louis, training for the race, hundreds of pigeons may be seen, familiarizing themselves with the home surroundings, and always with the idea uppermost, of returning to home and family once the flight is finished.

The care and training of these pigeons has been under the direction of an expert who was in charge of the pigeons used on the American front during the world war. Many of these war pigeons won distinction and were hailed as heroes because of their intrepid and unerring flights through rain of bullets and shrapnel, bringing back to headquarters messages from observers at the front that resulted in saving the lives of hundreds of American boys in the battle line.

Some of these hero birds are to be sent to St. Louis by the U. S. Army and will be exhibited in the Rexall Lofts for the benefit of the thousands of Rexall Delegates to the Convention. Pigeons are going to be sent to Rexall druggists within five hundred miles of St. Louis. At a specified hour a pair of these birds will be released by the mayor, some other high official, or a girl delegated by the mayor, and sent on its way to the St. Louis loft. Each bird will carry a bird message beneath its wing addressed to the Governor of Missouri who personally will be at the Rexall loft to receive it. Handicaps as to time and distance have been worked out and the first bird trapping in at the Rexall Loft will win the golden prize.

The race is to be the crowning feature of the annual convention of the United Drug Company at which upwards of 8,000 Rexall druggists from all parts of the country will meet. At the same time the new $4,000,000 factory erected by the United Drug Company for the manufacture of all Rexall products will be inspected for the first time by the Rexall delegates, all of whom are stockholders in the United Drug Company.
Frank P. Lucke, president of the International Federation of American Homing Pigeon fanciers, is to judge the race and he is keeping up to watch on all details leading up to the actual contest. F. A. Morris, Rexall Store, Canfield—Adv.

Your Child's Eyesight

You are responsible for the sight of your child. Watch out for frowns, for squints, and when they read or look at picture books do they hold it too near or too far? These little things grow faster than the child, and in many cases can be overcome if discovered in time.

Especially insist on You Bringing the Children In.

Defects of vision never disappear of their own accord and in most cases they grow worse. It's a duty you owe your child, and I can prove by the test if I can fit them, which is free, and you don't have to help pay for some worthless instruments in the testing room.

I don't want your money if I can't fit you. Come in.

FARMERS! Read This!

Last February we placed an order with The Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. for 1500 rods of Buckeye Fence to take care of your Spring Fence building. Shipment was promised but the goods never came and many of you waited—some paid a higher price thru jobbers who had fence and extracted a premium for delivery. We did not cancel because that would have meant re-ordering at a higher price. Our order, filled in rotation, shows you how far behind on orders the steel mills are and is certainly a proof that prices will not be any cheaper as long as the demand exceeds the supply.

To come to the point—we have been advised that our order has been shipped and that will give us a quantity of fence on hand in the off-season. We propose selling the bulk of it—all of it if you want it—at last Spring's price which is considerably under the present market.

If you need fence it will pay you to buy and put it up now or even carry it until next Spring.
