ASHES OF AEGE

Were Rekindled by the Tender Touch of Old Time Love.

Special to the Leader.

Anderson, Ind., July 20.—Joseph Bradford, aged 80, and Mary J. Houk, aged 35, were married today and went to Cincinnati to enjoy their honeymoon, after which they will go to Marion, Ind., for residence. The couple eloped to this city from Marion. Mr. Bradford is the owner of 650 acres of land in Grant County. He is the father of several children who were very much opposed to his marriage. Several weeks ago they thwarted the attempt of their father to get away from home to be married the second time, but today he succeeded in leaving Marion on an electric car and was joined at the next station by his bride. They were married in a law office here. Lawyers and a stenographer were the only witnesses. Before she would allow the wedding ceremony to proceed Miss Houk had the lawyers prepare the deed and Mr. Bradford signed it, giving to his bride $0 of his best acres of land. The aged bridegroom is very feeble, and was assisted in walking by his bride, who was supposed by most people to be a daughter of the man she helped along. Mr. Bradford had it understood that he was well aware of what he was doing and that his deed to the bride was promised to her as a present.

DAMAGE SUIT

Of Peculiar Character Filed in Franklin County Court.

Special to the Leader.

Columbus, O., July 22.—The limit is reached in suits against railway companies and other corporations in a suit filed today against the Columbus Railway Company by Jennie Parkhurst. The plaintiff asks that she be allowed $5,000 for injuries received at the hands of the conductor by his rude as he headed towards the show grounds on the evening of May 3, 1901. Mrs. Parkhurst says that she got on a crowded car at the corner of Elm Alley and High street. There was no seat near the rear of the car and the conductor asked her to go up front. While she was making an effort to move the conductor is charged with grabbing her by the arm and pulling her forward in such a manner as to sprain her right side and injuring the abdominal muscles of the right side. Later the conductor was compelled to knock down two men in order to keep peace in the car, which added to the nervous strain endured by the plaintiff and severely injured her.

The plaintiff asks that she be awarded $5,000 for her injuries received at the hands of the conductor by his rude actions and for the shock to her nervous system from attacking the two men.

Mrs. Grant to Mrs. McKinley.

By Associated Press.

Rochester, N. Y., July 20.—A box marked "Mrs. McKinley, Canton, Ohio," was brought into Charlotte harbor last night on the North King from Coburg, Ont. It contained a knitted woolen shoulder cape for Mrs. McKinley. The cape was knit by Mrs. U. S. Grant, widow of General U. S. Grant, now at Coburg.

SPLENDID SPECTACLE.

Extraordinary Brilliance of the Pageant
Soon to be Seen Here.

Superb, supreme, spectacular splendors is that which is promised when the great free street parade of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' 20th Century Colossus will pass through the principal streets of this city on the morning of the exhibition day. The circus parade is a great institution. It appeals with especial force to children who see in everything only the real. To children of advanced age, for childhood never ceases with the most of us, it is equally entertaining. It is said that this parade is one of extraordinary attractiveness. An especial feature this year will be a large number of open dens of wild beasts with their trainers seated among them and they are drawn by such animals as elephants, camels, zebras, and other animals than horses. This is a novelty in itself. Everything is spick and span new this year, the owners claim, and the tableaux cars, open dens, golden chariots, and all the various vehicles are resplendent and gorgeous in all the prismatic colors. In any event it is certain to be a most magnificent spectacle and there are few persons living in this city and vicinity that will miss seeing it. The claim is made also that it is intended as only a suggestion of the greater glories to be seen in the great tented city; that the best of the show is by no means to be seen on the streets, as is the case with so many shows.

The date of these splendors is Friday, July 26th.

Pepsin Syrup Co.,
Dear Sirs:—For the past ten years I was troubled with my stomach. About 4 years ago was taken down with rheumatism; was not able to do a day's work for 3 years. All medicine seemed of no benefit to me. A year ago I was advised to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I truly believe I would have died but for this medicine. My rheumatism is entirely gone and my stomach is in good condition. It has saved my life and I cannot recommend it too highly.

Yours Respectfully,
ELWOOD McCracken.

HYSTERICAL WOMAN

Prayed for Deliverance From a Big Storm, in Portsmouth.

Special to the Leader.

Portsmouth, O., July 22.—An electric car got stalled on the Damarian Hill during the big storm last evening. There were a number of passengers on board and many of them became greatly frightened. One good woman nearly went into hysterics and imagined that the end had come for her. She dropped on her knees and raised her voice in piteous prayers and lamentations, while the lightning flashed and the thunder roared. She shrieked out that if the Lord would only spare her life and bring her home again she would be good the rest of her life and never, never get on a street car again. She reiterated this again and again and the Lord evidently took pity on her, for the storm finally let up and the car came to town.

A NOBLE AMBITION.

A small Chicago boy named Irwin Taylor won half of a $10 prize the other day for the following reason: "Why I don't smoke cigarettes? I know a young lady who would not marry a man because he smoked cigarettes. I'll not smoke them because I do not want any young lady to refuse me on that account." Mightn't it be better for Irwin to go on enjoying them until some girl asks him?—New York Press.

No! It would not be well for Irwin Taylor to wait until some girl asks him.

If he wants to be fit for a worthy girl he can not begin keeping himself clean any too soon.

This boy's answer is a wise one; purer that any thought he might be able to evolve after five years' subjection to the morality-deadening poison of the cigarette.

It is a wileless that too often has at its heels a vile brood—licentious companions, foul speech, strong drink and deadly drugs.

He who goes on "enjoying" vicious habits "until some girl asks him" to marry her is apt to mate in the congenial atmosphere of the bagnio and even then be unworthy of the wife.

That boy who resolves to keep pure that he may deserve and win some noble girl as a wife has the highest and truest conception of what is best in life.

EASILY MADE HAPPY.

A New York Woman Who Finds Four Dollars a Year Is Enough for Her Needs.

There is one woman in New York who is rich on four dollars a year and is an object lesson of contentment in her daily life. She is Miss Emily B. Elwell, ward No. 57, almshouse, Blackwell's Island. The simple needs of her existence are provided for. She has a roof over her head, food enough to eat, and garments sufficient for the society in which she moves.

Three years ago, when she had to go to the almshouse, she had but one haunting fear—that she would fill a pauper's grave. That fear has been removed. The money from which her moderate income springs will be ample to bury her.

Miss Elwell was a teacher in the New York public schools for 13 years. Her life was exemplary, her manner was gentle and ladylike, nobody disliked her, but she was unfortunate. She had no influential friends, and when anybody had to be dropped from the list of school-teachers, she was the one selected. At last the time came when no place was open for her to teach in, and she was compelled to become an inmate of the poorhouse.

The story of Miss Elwell's life became known to a sympathetic woman, whose name is a secret to Miss Elwell, and this nightmare of her existence was removed.

This unknown friend put into the hands of the officers of the International Sunshine society $100, to be deposited to the credit of Miss Elwell in a savings bank. The former teacher was to have the interest on that amount each year, and she was the principal was to be used to defray the expense of her burial.

AMERICANS HONORED.

Five of Our Countrymen Get Medals
from Royal Geographical Society at London.

Dr. A. Donaldson Smith has returned from London, where he attended the annual meeting and dinner of the Royal Geographical society, of which he is a fellow. The meeting was held at the Hotel Metropolitan on May 29, and Dr. Smith shared with Duke d'Abruzzi, of the Italian royal family, the honor of receiving a gold medal conferred by the society for geographical research. Gold medals are usually awarded at the annual meetings, but never more than two a year.

Dr. Smith is the fifth American upon whom this honor has been conferred, says the Philadelphia Press. The others who received the decoration were Elisha Kent Kane, Lieut. Greely, Lieut. Peary and Commissioner Rockhill, who is now in China.

The two medals presented by the Royal society this year possess additional value from the fact that they are the last to be struck bearing Queen Victoria's head. In the future the medals will bear the head of the king, who has become the patron and honorary president of the society.

Frankfort Rothschilds Extinct.

The Jewish Chronicle announces the extinction of the Frankfort branch of the Rothschilds, which has for over a century ranked as the parent house. The employes are to be pensioned off and the whole business closed. This is the sequence of the death of Baron Willy Rothschild a few months ago. His brother partner, who founded and endowed the delightful public library near the river in what was formerly his own house—in fact, the seats are his own dining-room chairs, and most comfortable they are—died some years ago. Baron Willy was intensely devout, and his reputation for devotion and charity brought so many Semite parasites to Frankfort at one time that the municipality remonstrated. He had a large house in the city, but lived chiefly at a beautiful villa near by.

Cuts Husband Off with Five Dollars.

Mrs. Harriett B. Cooper, who died April 8 at her home, 291 Fifty-seventh street, Brooklyn, practically cut her husband out of her will because he is able to care for himself, and left her estate, valued at $8,000, to her mother, Mrs. Susan Pepper. Mrs. Cooper did not cut her husband out on account of any disagreement between them, says the New York Herald. On the contrary, she says he has been the best of men.

Mrs. Cooper's will is very short. It reads as follows:

"I leave and bequeath to mother this house at 291 Fifty-seventh street and everything else, except five dollars, which I leave to my darling husband, who has been the very best of men. I know he can make a living for himself."

"Something New Under The Sun."

All Doctors have tried to cure CATARRH of the use of powders, acid gases, inhalers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucous membranes causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of CATARRH, has at last perfected a treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures CATARRH, by removing the cause, stopping the discharges, and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the afflicted parts. This wonderful remedy is known as "SNUFFLES," the GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE, and is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use. "SNUFFLES" is the only perfect CATARRH CURE ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and positive cure for that annoying and disgusting disease. It cures all inflammation quickly and permanently and is also wonderfully quick to relieve HAY FEVER or COLD in the HEAD.

CATARRH when neglected often leads to CONSUMPTION—"SNUFFLES" will save you if you use it at once. It is no ordinary remedy, but a complete treatment which is positively guaranteed to cure CATARRH in any form or stage if used according to directions which accompany each package. Don't delay but send for it at once, and write full particulars as to your condition, and you will receive special advice from the discoverer of this wonderful remedy regarding your case without cost to you beyond the regular price of "SNUFFLES" the "GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE."
