

LOCAL AND LITERARY.

Cash Up-Important to Everybody. Hereafter, no advertisement will be admitted into the Journal until it is paid for, except where there is a special agreement to the contrary; and in all cases, the person presenting an advertisement for insertion, will be held responsible for the same.

Our young friend H. E. Pack has returned from the eastern cities, and lots of nice goods are beginning to arrive at F. R. Miller & Co's.

Blinn & Barstow could merely state a moment from their customers to announce their fresh arrivals. They have stacks of fine goods and are selling rapidly.

Hall is prepared to sell goods, wholesale or retail, at the right figures. Read his column and then dream about mountains of fine things and you will have a faint conception of his stock.

The original articles, on our first page by E. S. S. Rouse and Mrs. C. H. Parlin, are among the best productions of these talented writers. We have received a package of gems from our valued contributor, Kate Carroll, which shall appear in due time.

Governor Chase has appointed Wm. Denton, Jr., of Franklin co., Asher Cook, of Wood co., and Norton S. Townsend, of Lorain co., to be Trustees of the State School for Idiots and Imbeciles.

We learn that the contractors in this section of the state, have secured James Murray, Esq., of this place, and M. R. Waite, Esq., of Toledo for counsel. A strong team, and if they fall as we think they will, it will not be for want of able counsel.

R. A. Cross, of Maumee City, will commence selling his large assortment of clocks, watches, and jewelry, at auction, on Wednesday next. The sale will be continued from day to day until the entire stock is disposed of.

Militia Law.—We commence to-day the publication of the Militia Law. The repealing clause annuls the law exempting Ministers of the Gospel, so our preachers must prepare to "shoulder arms."

We have been making extensive additions to our office during the past week, and are necessarily a little behind time in issuing the Journal. Hereafter we shall be "on time" again, and shall publish a sheet that will look just as well as any other paper of no greater pretensions. We have just as well an office as can be found outside of the city, and can do just as nice jobs as "the common run" of printers.

On Saturday last, Sheriff Norton arrested a young man named Peter B. Brown, in Toledo, charged with breaking into the Yacht Challenge, last fall and stealing a portion of her canvas. On Monday he was brought before Justice Chapman, who committed him to jail to await a final hearing before the Common Pleas Court. He has been suspected of other offences, and has lately escaped the penitentiary once or twice before. His accomplice is now in the penitentiary.

Two more papers will close the present volume. We wish we could safely say as much of our books. Many have done the fair thing, and many have allowed their accounts to run unsettled. We should like to settle up with as many of our patrons as possible before entering upon our new volume. If you can't pay, give us a clever word of promise and we shall like you all the better for it. Don't forget to notify our proposition to take two dollars and fifty cents for two copies of the Journal one year—one to be sent to a present subscriber and one to some new friend. We hope to greatly facilitate our rapidly increasing circulation in this manner.

How to Talk.—A New Pocket Manual of Speaking, Conversation, and Debating; with Directions for acquiring a Grammatical, Easy, and graceful style. This is the second number of our new Hand-Books for Home Improvement, and should be emphatically "books for the million," and should be found in every family. Its principle points may be briefly stated as follows:

1. "How to Talk" furnishes in a condensed form such an exposition of the whole subject of language as will enable any person of common intelligence, by a little application to study, and a moderate degree of perseverance in practice, to avoid most of the gross errors which mar the speech of a majority of our people, and to use the noble English tongue with correctness and elegance.

2. It notes and corrects in accordance with rules previously given, a large number of the most common errors in speaking.

3. It gives useful and practical rules and hints on delivery in general, and on the kindred topics of conversation, reading, and public speaking in particular, illustrated by examples and accompanied by suitable exercises.

Price in paper, 30 cents; in mass, 50 cents. Fowler and Wells, 308 Broadway, New York.

This interesting and instructive little work has been received from the publishers, and like all of their publications possesses much to recommend it to the public favor. The student will find it an invaluable companion.

The Elmira Advertiser in speaking of the fashions says: "Strip all the men and women of our village of their fine clothes, and what a change would be apparent." Of course there would!

Judge Goodnow, the oldest member of the Supreme Bench of Maine, has given an opinion in answer to the State Senate, that colored persons are still voters in Maine, in spite of the Dred Scott decision of the United States Judges.

From the Ohio Cultivator. Wood County Clover Crop Again. S. D. HANSEN.—My friend Whitaker of Clinton, don't like to take a banter, and I don't like to be beat. I see in the Cultivator of the 1st of April, an account of Mr. Whitaker's crop of clover and seed which was good. The statement in the Perryburg Journal of my crop, which you published, was given without my knowledge. I would have included 200 bushels of apples that grew on the same ground I raised my clover from, which at 75 cts. per bushel would make $75, which added to $225, would make the total yield $300. Yield per acre, 862. Friend Whitaker must knock under, and try again. H. SURVEY.

Bowling Green, April, 1857. Just as we predicted, Wood county is competent to head the agricultural column.

MANAGER.—On the 16th inst. by D. Ross, Esq., John S. HARRISON, of Henry Co., Ohio, and Mary Ann WATTS of Perryburg.
