TO DATE AND HIS DEMONS.

To Traitors all, how can it be,

With all your noble soldiers,

That you will back the traitor's side,

When you could whip old Sam as sick?

Said you'd move down the North like men,

And leave the Wilderness all to mourn;

Take Lincoln's scalp in thirty days,

And leave his throne all in a blaze!

You thought to score our noble men,

To yield unto a traitorous band;

But when you see our Union strong,

Try northern friends have done no wrong.

When you feed on Sumner's walls

With bun and shot and iron balls,

Tras that you struck the fatal blow,

That'll prove death to King cotton's crew.

Eighty-three thousand cotton men,

Have offered now their aid to lead,

Old Dixie and his squad of men,

Unto the Devil's side to send!

And if old Dixie do take heed,

And tell his men right quick to stand—

With Stars and Stripes upon their staff—

We'll make them like a calf!

Now Dixie hat you really loved,

That you have kindled such a flame,

And raised your self so nobly? (T' hieb,

Your name I'm sure will never die?)

Now you and all your followers

Are trians of the meanest bid;

To keep in peace with your bad clan,

We're compromised now all we can.

And if old Dixie don't shut you live,

The Union will you smacking pop!

And feed you cotton while you live,

From cannon mouth, it'll receive.

Bowling Green. Dr. E. G. D.

OUR FLAG.

Where has it shone? At Lexington,

Where fell the first blood of the free,

Where, from each rock, every stone, was won

A chain that gave us victory;

It floated next on Bunker Hill,

Where our old sires the freedom won;

His welcome was the bullet's hiss,

And in his heart the bayonet.

Its folds were clooged with fire and snow

Upon the frozen Delaware;

But Trenton's victory gave it a glow

Its long strips glittered in the sun,

On Saratoga's green plain;

And when the battle of Perry was won,

Saw England's flag pale and wan.

On Palo Alto's bloody plain

The dear old banner still was there,

They guarded it from spot or stain

And bore it through the smoke of war;

Though pierced by balls, and cursed by foes,

It still remained above the fray,

And showed the brave eyes of those men

Who fought and fell at Monterey.

God guard our flag, and keep each star

As bright as bright as now they were,

Still may it lead our ranks in war

Still float above our nation's grave;

Death to the traitor that would dare

To tread it through the dust of shame.

All honest hearts its will shall share

And follow it to Death or Fame.

ODE.

BY REV. SAMUEL CHAMAS.

Hail! our country's natal morn!

Hail! our banner's first outburst!

Waving o'er the tree!

While this day, in a forest strong

Millions swelled the patriot song;

Shall not our robes be tinged

Hallowed jubilee!

Who would sever Freedom's shrine?

Who would dare the inviolate line?

Thou art, by high one sign, be mine.

Dear is as the South's first friend,

Dear the centurion's sword, and shield,

Dear, our England's rocky strand,

Dear the patriot's sword!

By our altars pure and free;

By our laws' good rooted tree;

By our Past's great memory;

By our common present tongue;

By our hopes, bright, brilliant, young;

By the tie of union strong,

We will still be one.

Fathers! have ye led in vain?

Ages! have ye yoked in vain?

Makers! shall we really stain

Bleeding with our own blood?

No! receive our solemn vow,

While before Thy throne we bow,

Ever, to maintain, as we,

Our Union strong.

—Intelligence from Maryland continues to be highly encouraging, and to give grounds for the belief that the Union secession is repudiated, but all among the people.

It is not probable that any serious trouble will again be had in getting troops and supplies through that State.

The total expenditures of the British Government for the ensuing year, are estimated at three hundred and forty five million five hundred thousand dollars.

The total receipts it is thought will reach three hundred and fifty nine million, one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars.

Receipts over expenditures nine millions, six hundred and fifteen thousand dollars.

—General Harney has prepared an address to the people of Missouri, urging them to stay in the Union, and has secession will prove the ruin of their State, and that, for himself, he is ready to stand to the last by the flag which he entered the service.

—The Brig John Bell, a slaver which sailed from Charleston about six months ago, was captured on the south coast of Cuba, on the 1st of April by a Spanish steamer. She had on board, when taken, about 400 negroes.

—A Secession Convention for North Carolina has been called for the 20th inst. It is thought that the State will be voted out of the Union by acclamation.

—A plot to burn the cities of Boston, New York and Philadelphia has just been discovered by the authorities.
