TIME TABLES—Dayton & Michigan R. Co. Night Exp.—11:30 P. M. Night Exp.—11:30 A. M.

Camp Correspondence. CAMP CARRINGTON, Ohio, July 7th, 1861.

FRIEND BARRY—Inasmuch as there are many of our friends who are anxious to hear from us, and we cannot write to all of them, I am requested to write a statement of our condition and conduct for the last week.

proach and left. The Col., however, gave us a little advice as we were entering the town, using the only advice I ever heard him use: "Now boys, by the way, do you get your arms fixed."

Patrol Affray at Freeport. The following particulars, relative to the terrible affray at Freeport, is furnished by one of the attorneys for the defense; which includes Dr. Carman and others, arrested as aiders and abettors in the murder of Ensminger. This, of course presents the side of the story favorable to the defendants, but we think the evidence will establish some facts the writer has omitted to mention:

On the evening of the 6th, 50 men from company F, 50 from company C, and 50 from company G, and 25 from Capt. George's company of Dragoon, under command of Col. Norton went to capture a small camp said to be on the farm of the notorious Capt. Jenkins, about sixteen miles from Gallipolis.

Letter from Virginia. 7th Regiment, O. V. M., Lewis Co., Va., Westport, July 4th, 1861.

EDITOR JOURNAL—I know of no other way of giving vent to the patriotic feelings which inspire the heart of every true American citizen on the "Glorious 4th" even though he be on a session sick; so I write to the ever remembered JOURNAL.

Dr. Richardson's Sundry Wise Bitters. In 1858, Dr. Nathan Richardson, a physician residing in South Reading, Mass., directed his attention to his extensive practice in that place and neighboring towns, the beneficial effects of the medicine now given to the world as the Sundry Wise Bitters.

Mexican Mustang Liment. Its wonderful effects and consequent popularity, is attested by the following testimonial, which was acquired the same partnership, was subject to the same ailment of severe and different kinds, and met with a few failures as the Mustang Liment.
