All About the Happenings and Special Events in their Immediate Vicinity.

SULLIVAN.

Oct. 8, 1889.

C. E. Johnson and wife, of Elyria, are visiting in town.

Miss Ella Chamberlain has gone to Oberlin to assist E. W. Chamberlain in the insurance business.

Ed Frink, of Elyria, is visiting friends in this place.

The hotel and billiard hall, which has been a disgrace to Sullivan for two years, and especially so to the young men who visited, has come to a crisis and an end.
It seems that Mrs. Woods, the proprietor's wife, is in the habit of getting heavily intoxicated. Last Wednesday Edward Swift, one of the boarders, furnished her with a bottle of whiskey and she became so intoxicated that she lay on the dining room floor or any place else where she chanced to go, exposing herself to the public.
Woods became very much enraged at her conduct, said he had lived in hades for six years and that this was the end. He packed his traps, took his little boy, about six years old, and started he said for Chicago, while the people said "so much so good."

Swift left for Ashland Thursday, so it fell upon the next best man to act as proprietor and Will Hubler accepted the situation for a time, but he could not last always; so Friday Bart Coats, of Huntington, became successor to Hubler and continued so until Saturday night, when the authorities took the matter in hand and were about to arrest them, when Coats was fold by some parties that he had just five minutes to leave town. He said it was a mighty short time, but he guessed he could make it. In the meantime his horse had been taken from the stable and hitched north of town where he could get it. By the time he had reached his horse rotten eggs were flying at him from every direction; and when he had run the gauntlet, which he did as fast as his horse could run, he was completely plastered with eggs. The subject might feel thankful that he escaped so easily, for it is likely he'd be delayed longer he would

HUNTINGTON.

Oct. 7, '89.

The last pastor Rev. Joseph Lang, preached in the M. E. church Sunday morning. The church is still about seventy dollars back on last year's salary caused by his making political speeches last fall. Rev. John McNab a superannuated minister from Ashland County, will preach here till the Presiding Elder thinks best to send some one.

The ice-cream party at Mr. Fenwick's on last Tuesday evening was a very pleasant affair, though the evening was dark and rainy and so cold that hot coffee and oysters would have been pleasant to take.

The box social at the Baptist parsonage was a great success. The house was crowded and everybody had a good time.
One young lady's box sold for over ninety cents, though most of them sold for a quarter. They were sold at auction.

Mrs. Geo. Sumner and her little girl are visiting her parents.

is visiting at Mr. Wm. Breijleys.

Washington Letter.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4, 1889.

The President has not yet appointed a successor to Commissioner Tanner. Early this week it was thought that Mr. Campbell, of Kansas would get the place, but some one suggested to the President the name of Ex-Gov. Hartranft, of Pennsylvania, and it is now believed that Gen.
Hartranft can have the position if he wishes it, but his friends here say it is not likely that he will accept it and he has forbidden the use of his name as a candidate. Secretary Noble is understood to be doing his best to get the appointment for Mr. Campbell.

Republicans here are greatly pleased with the result of the elections in the four new States, although it is nothing more than was generally expected.

The members of the Three America's Congress left here yesterday on a special vestibule train for a tour of our principal cities as the guests of the United States.
The congress met Wednesday and organized by electing Secretary Blaine President and Ex-Senator Henderson, of Missouri, President pro tempore. Mr. Blaine's speech of welcome was in his best vein.
It is commended on all sides. A Democratic Senator said to your correspondent, "If Blaine had always spoken like that he would have been President long ago.
Every American should feel proud to know we have a man at the head of the State department capable of delivering such an address." Mr. Blaine is very deeply interested in this Congress, and he hopes it will be followed by grand results in a business way.

A long list of Presidential postmasters were appointed this week.

The public debt was reduced $13,985,004 during September. Lucky public. It is doubtful if our (your correspondents) private debts will get reduced that much in a life time.

Democrats are trying to make a sensation out of the fact that the U. S. S. Kearse, which carried Minister Fred Douglass to Hayti from New York, was in charge of a new commander. Secretary Tracy sees nothing sensational in the matter at all. One naval officer was relieved and another put in command, as is constantly being done with other vessels.

Senator Hampton is an outspoken advocate of Washington as the only fit place for holding the great American exposition in 1892.

The nearer the assembling of Congress gets the harder it is to get a representative to say who he will support for Speaker.
They all seem to be waiting for a chance to make combinations, and after all its only natural, for the supporters of the winning candidate always gets the best places on the committees. The members and the humble gatherer of Washington news are just now in the same boat, trying to find out who is to be the winning candidate.
It's a question that will not be decided until the Republican House caucus meets.

The President will hold a special reception next Wednesday night to the Knight Templars attending the convolve here and their ladies. Later in the week Mrs. Gen.
Logan has tendered them a reception at her residence here.

The Cabinet resumed its regular semi-weekly meetings to-day with all the members present for the first time since July.
The meeting was mostly given up to a discussion of matters relating to the President's message to Congress, although something was also said about pension matters.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Girl, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
