RECTAL DISEASES!

Dr. A. E. Elliott's Method of RECTAL Treatment PERMANENTLY CURES

Piles, Fistula in Ano, Fissure in Ano, Pruritis, or itching piles and Rectal Ulcer without the Knife, Ligature or Caution.

Rectal Ulceration is the most dangerous of all rectal maladies owing to its undermining the system before its victims realize their danger, the absence of pain being due to the scarcity of nerves in that portion of the rectum mostly afflicted.

Symptoms of Rectal Ulcer. Pain or weakness across lower portion of back, often referred to kidney troubles, burning in rectum after stool, itching about anus, attended with a moisture caused by discharge from ulcer, constipation sometimes attended with spells of diarrhoea, finally resulting in chronic diarrhoea, when the disease is almost beyond cure, but if not too long neglected may yet be cured; mucous and bloody discharge from rectum, soreness through bowels extending to stomach causing dyspepsia; in females frequently vaginal and uterine inflammation resulting in leucorrhoea and ulceration. Send to LOUI, O., for descriptive pamphlet.
