THE GRAND RESULT—POLK'S MAJORITY IN THE UNITED STATES.

We have now returns from all the States, and are able to give both the majority James K. Polk has over Clay of the electoral vote, and the popular vote. It is one of the most stupendous victories the Democracy have ever achieved since the formation of the Government.

Table with columns for State, Polk's votes, and Clay's votes. Total: Polk 170,119,812; Clay 105,63,300.

Polk's majority over Clay 66,000 votes. In the above states, when the official votes are counted out it may vary a thousand votes but hardly more.

HAI HAI HAI THAT CLAY CARRIAGE. One of the crazy freaks of federalism was the getting up a subscription and building of a splendid carriage to carry Mr. Clay on to Washington.

Carriage to take Mr. Clay to Washington—Wm. F. Patterson was at Concord, N. H., last week and contracted for as good a coach as Abbott & Downing can make.

That's the funniest piece of coon foolery we have yet seen. But since they have found out that Mr. Clay travels in a Beat up Salt River, instead of to Washington in a carriage, we understand the leaders refuse to pay for the carriage they ordered.

We advise the Federalists to go and pay the mechanics and not cheat them out of their work. The federal leaders are not capable of self Government, and we almost believe that when Hamilton and Adams said "the people were not capable of governing themselves," they made a mistake—they meant their own followers—not the People.

With a majority in the Legislature that represents a minority of the people, they are going it on the devil's own system with a perfect rush. For instance, they say they will overthrow the present law for distilling the State, and make the last Congressional elections a nullity.

We give in another column, Oct. Medbery's prospectus for the session Statesman. You will never begrudge the money it costs.

The way the price of wool is falling. We yesterday had an incident related to us, which shows how much sincerely there is in the whig belief of the fall of prices since the election.

GOVERNOR PORTER, OF PENNSYLVANIA, has officially announced the success of the Democratic Electoral ticket in that State—also, the result of the Congressional election.

HARD TIMES FOR PLUNDERERS AND BANK GAMBLERS.

The Federal papers are trying to raise the old cry of hard times and blue ruin, because a democratic President is elected. Scarcely a week ago we got but what has some pathetic story about the fall of stocks—the stopping of factories, discharge of workmen &c.

COON FOOLERY.

The last Advocate gave circulation to a couple of fool stories that none but a crazy coon could believe. One is that the electoral vote of New Hampshire and Pennsylvania will be given against Polk.

LEGISLATIVE.

Next Monday Congress and the State Legislature meet and we shall soon be busy with their doings. The proceedings of Congress will be unusually interesting this session, and if the coon Legislature does not get shocked at its own measures why we have rich times at Columbus this winter.

LAUGHABLE.

To see a coon editor crying over Clay's defeat. The last Advocate says not only the whigs but many democrats sympathize with Mr. Clay.

MORE BLUE RUIN.

The Ohio Statesman alluding to the panic stories of the swindlers and speculators, about hard times, thus happily burlesques their miserable attempt, is to deceive the people.

The worst of the story is, a young whig was engaged to be married, and the defeat of Clay as disarranged the monetary business of the country, that he went to his love that he feared starvation, and could not marry.

Another—A whig physician was on his way to see a patient—hearing the news of Clay's defeat, he turned back, sending a messenger to the sick man's bed to inform him that as medicine would not take effect now, he declined calling.

And still another.—A whig minister being sent for to see a sick man in his last hours, returned this reply: As brother B'soon's certificate failed to elect Mr. Clay, I have lost all confidence in the efficacy of prayer.

Father Greely of the New York Tribune, gives numerous instances of factories, dwelling houses, &c., that were to be built if Clay was elected, but are now given up.

One pathetic friend of the Whelsing Times gives an account of a widow lady that cried all day over her starving children, on hearing of Mr. Clay's defeat.

THE COLUMBIAN MAGAZINE.

PROSPECTUS FOR THE SECOND YEAR. At the close of his second volume, the magazine having been commenced on the first of January, 1844, the publisher finds himself irresistibly called on to express the satisfaction and gratitude with which he has been favored by the liberal and unflinching support that has attended his endeavor.

The publisher undertakes the work with the firm conviction that the great city of New York was the best and truest source for a magazine of general literature; that notwithstanding the failure of many previous attempts to establish such a work, there could be no impossibility of success with sufficient capital, perseverance, and the right system of management.

It has long ceased to be necessary or reasonable that we should speak of the Columbian as an experiment. At all events it is now an experiment substantially tried. We feel ourselves upon as firm a basis as any similar journal in the world.

We have made arrangements which will enable us to present our friends with embellishments of very superior taste, style and finish. In this respect it is our firm purpose to outvie, if possible, all competitors.

With the aid of three contributors of whom it is needless to say one word in the way of commendation, and of numerous others perhaps equally meritorious if less celebrated, who have promised us their support, we flatter ourselves, that as a literary work, the Columbian need be under no apprehension of being excelled.

Notwithstanding the fact that it is already before the public, who will not fail to judge us with impartiality, and in respect to what we intend to do, it will be both wiser and more becoming (although less fashionable) not to boast.
