

Poetical.
TAKE YOUR COUNTY PAPER.
"Twas night—and Saigle to his wife
Lay talking as they were in bed,
Of all the ills and care and strain,
That fell upon his Blowsome head.
"Have you been to school, my dear,
"And still we find both ends don't meet?
I've worked as busy as a bee,
And you can barely live on eat!
Our children have no schooling yet!
I'm glad I am ashamed of you!
"For follows, I am so much in debt—
He's had no chance, though now past ten."
"But stop, how is it!" said his spouse,
"Our neighbors get along so well,
Have you not marked that farmer Blowsome
What'er he has can always sell?
His boys, he says, know far much more
Than those who've been to school a year,
And then he always knows the law,
When goods are low and when they're dear,
His farm though not as large as ours,
Is fast improving every day—
I'd like to know what magic powers
He has to help him in this way."
And I would too poor Saigle thought,
So next morning he took his horse,
To find where Blowsome his bargains bought,
And how he had so little stock,
Said Blowsome—"Dear sir, the thing is plain:
The question, no matter how you take her,
Is answered by the simple words—
I always take my county paper."

THE PHARISES.—Bryant has written a delightful poem—second only to his "Thanatopsis"—on these "garden of the desert." A poetical contributor to the Burlington (Vt.) Free Press has also apostrophized them, but in a more practical and familiar style. He says:
Great vesters' waste of bottom land,
Flat as a pancake, rich as grease!
Where gulls are full as big as toads,
And "sheepers are as big as geese!
O, how many windy prairie places,
Where lads and ladies never fail!
The first with dreadful looking face,
The last with dreadful looking tail!
I'd rather live on Canada's rump,
And live a Yankee dandy beggar,
Than where they never see a stump,
And shake to death with fever-ager!

A CAUSE ANATOMICAL.
No symptoms of disease, the body was diseased,
No warning of disease was any way directed,
Until they reached the heart—which they were unable
But in the place they found a Compound Interest Table.
HEROIC.—It is certainly very gratifying to see even the fair and delicate woman of our land emulating the stirring deeds of heroism practiced by our generals in the tented field.—The Boston Atlas has the following:
"It is said that a young lady, who is a great admirer of Gen. Taylor's epistolary style, received a letter the other day from a sweet-heart, inquiring if she would have him. She immediately sent in reply, Gen. Taylor's answer to Santa Anna—'Come and take me.'"
We imagine the principle of the gentleman's subsequent action to have been, "immediately if not sooner," and not like Santa Anna by running away.

Not far from $5,000,000 are yearly earned in Massachusetts, by females employed in the various factories and manufacturing of straw, hats, stocks, &c. About 40,000 females, and thus annually employed.
"Pa, isn't that man in what is called the spring-time of life?"
"Why, my son!"
"Cause he looks so very green."
"A For may excel in dress, but address is the characteristic of a gentleman."

Whether hauling and boiling be the order of the day or not, it matters little to us and much less to the public, provided the latter can be supplied with Cheap Goods.
We would then say to all who wish to replenish their Wardrobes for the Spring and Summer, and in so doing, consult their own interest, to call at the Checkered Store, opposite the Bank, where the motto "Eternal hostility against high prices," will be made perceptible on each and every article in our line of business.
It would be vain for us to attempt giving a descriptive catalogue of Goods and Prices, as in the prevailing custom and as we prefer dealing in facts, we would therefore respectfully invite our friends and the public in general to come and examine our Stock of Goods, and we assure them that we will take pleasure in showing our Goods, for we feel confident that a look at our stock will soon tell the story so forcibly that none can leave without relieving their wants.

A GREAT BATTLE!
Santa Anna's Wooden Leg taken Prisoner!
ROBERT FIELDING.
WOULD respectfully inform his friends and the public generally that he has received at their hands, and would inform them that he has now on hand ready to be disposed of at very low prices for CASH, a complete assortment of HATS, manufactured according to the latest Style.
His stock comprises HATS of all QUALITIES. Fur, Beavers, Nutcr, Silk, Plush, Mohair, Cashmere, Coarse & Fine, Blue, Brown and common Hats.
CLOTH and OIL-CLOTH CAPS of every variety.
Having employed the services of EXPERIENCED WORKMEN in the manufacture of his HATS and CAPS, and desiring to make his sales correspond with the times, he feels safe to affirm that while they will compare with the work of any other establishment in the country as to quality—they are also unsurpassed as to cheapness. He particularly invites his friends and all who may wish to obtain an excellent article, upon the most reasonable terms, to call and examine his stock of HATS and CAPS.
He feels to disposition to boast about quality or price through an advertisement, but acting on the old and well established rule, that "proof of an assertion consists in a trial," he asks that he be tried by the same rule, and that the lovers of good Hats will make the examination for their selves.
He offers nothing but a good article and being determined to sell low for CASH, he respectfully invites the patronage of the public.
ROBERT FIELDING.
