Separate Resolution Urges Constitutional Convention—Honley Agains State Central Committee.

Patterson, O. June 12—Morrison at the Democratic state convention quickly settled down into a routine session of business. The first order of business was the adoption of the rules, the reading and spelling of convention registers was in order.

Then came the resolutions of Governor Harmon, which was re-elected by acclamation. Several of the governor's bills were named for special mention at the convention, and the names of the members of the constitutional convention were read out for the benefit of the members.

The Democratic committee, on the other hand, adopted a resolution asking for a return to the old-time convention system, in which the state would be divided into districts and the members of each district would be represented in the convention.

The resolutions were adopted with hardly a murmur, and the convention adjourned to the next day, when the business of the convention will be continued.
