MARTY

To Be The Star On The Kenyon Tennis Team

Gambler, O., Jan. 30.—The Kenyon tennis schedule shows that Kenyon will have a splendid list of attractions this year. Marty and Beatty will be the principal members of the team. Inasmuch as Marty is champion of Ohio and Beatty runnerup in the West Virginia tournament, they should have little trouble winning all of their matches. The schedule is as follows:
May 13—Michigan at Gambler.
May 19—Wooster at Gambler.
May 26, Kenyon plays in the Intercollegiate championships at Delaware. Denison and Wesleyan will also probably play at Kenyon. A trip is being arranged which will include Michigan, Chicago, Indiana and Illinois. Marty, state tennis champion, will captain the team.

KENYON

Lost To Otterbein At Basketball Saturday

Gambler, O., Jan. 30.—Otterbein defeated Kenyon here 31 to 27. The first half Kenyon had the game well in hand. Due to the injury of Gafaeas the Kenyon team was broken up and Otterbein went ahead. The game was rough throughout but the refereeing was very impartial. Cook for Otterbein, played a splendid game and it was on account of his good work in the second half that Kenyon lost.

HOGS

Showed The Effect Of Scientific Feeding

Wooster, O., Jan. 30.—The State Agricultural Station at Wooster has apparently proved its theory that if hogs were fed certain foods which would produce bigger brains they would become better mannered, more cleanly and would provide better pork than the ordinary swine. The experiment was started a year ago last fall with 46 selected pigs, which were placed in sanitary, modern pens and reared on special food made from selected grains.
Some months after this treatment and cleanly life, when let loose from the pen, these hogs showed their breeding by not associating at all with the common hogs on the station farm. Unfortunately for the hogs, however, there was no way of telling how much brains the brain food had developed in them without a post-mortem examination. So they were killed as a sacrifice to science.
Their meat has been pronounced by experts to be the most succulent and tender ever seen and their carcasses will be sold at a big advance over the regular market price of pork.

NATIONAL CORN EXHIBITION

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—A salute of twenty-one guns, supplemented by the playing of the national airs on the Trinity church chimes, announced the formal opening this morning of the fourth National Corn Exposition, for which preparations have been going forward for nearly a year. The exposition, which will continue until February 10, is the largest affair of its kind ever held in the United States. Four of the largest buildings on the Ohio State Fair Grounds are used to house the exhibits. The display includes a wide variety of cereals and grains from nearly every state in the union, together with instructive exhibits from the Department of Agriculture at Washington and numerous state agricultural colleges and experiment stations. A number of conferences of wide interest and importance will be held during the exposition period. President Taft will visit the exposition and deliver an address on the closing day.

DODGING THE LAW

By M. QUAD
Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.

Josephus Henderson was a man of forty when a startling event took place in his life. He was also a widower. He was exactly five feet high and weighed 110 pounds. These figures will convince you that Josephus was not numbered among the mighty men of earth. He had tried various ways of making a living, and in pursuing them he had got the reputation of being keen. He had at last turned peddler and was driving a horse and wagon around the country with dry goods, notions, groceries and tinware. That's the way he came to meet the widow Sopher, who lived on a farm.

The widow had passed forty. She was large and bony and strong. She was not handsome. The only thing on earth she feared was the law. She had once been arrested for kicking a man and had spent ten days in jail. The sheriff had made her stay as pleasant as possible, but she had never recovered from the shock.

Peddlers are a jovial lot, and so are widows, and in time these two came to call each other Josh and Sally. "Things would have gone no further for the little man's keenness. He never made a sale to the widow without cheating her, and one day when he heard that she had come into possession of $5,000 in cash through the death of a brother Josephus saw his way clear for the future. That money would set up a store in the village, and he would become a thriving merchant.

Josephus went courting. He found the widow behind the plow in a field. As he courted she plowed. He had no objections, as time was money to both of them. Josephus confessed that he had entertained a sneaking affection for the widow since his first call, and, though she didn't say much, she seemed pleased.

Josephus was told to call two weeks later, but at the end of nine days he was back again. He said it was his beating heart that fetched him. He had cut the time down, but the widow was ready for him. Several days previous she had gone to the village and paid a lawyer $5 to answer the question:

"Can the law trouble a wife who kicks her husband?"

And his answer had been: "Not if you do not kick him too hard. There is neither assault nor battery in what may be called a moderate kicking. Don't break any bones and don't seriously injure his eyes."

"I have been thinking," said the widow to Josephus: "I have been thinking and wondering if you loved me."

"Heavens, can you doubt it?" he exclaimed.

"And you will always love me?"
"Forever and forever!"
"Then we'll say two months hence."
"One month—a week—a day!"

Josephus knew of a store to rent in the village, and he wanted that $5,000. The widow insisted that she must have two weeks at the very shortest, and a date was settled on. The marriage was to be private and be celebrated in her home. In due time the happy day came round—a preacher and two witnesses and the deed was done. An hour later, as the happy couple were left alone, the widow changed her dress, rolled up her sleeves and brought out a new horsewhip bought for the occasion.

"What's up?" asked the wondering Josephus.

"Take off your coat and stand out."
"For what, love? I want to talk with you about opening a store in town."

"Plenty of time for that, Josephus. The first sale you made to me was five yards of roller towel. You beat me on the price and on the measure. I'm going to tan your jacket for it!"

"But, love!"
She took him by the collar and laid on the whip till he hollered. A woman who could twist a plow around in clay soil could handle the little Josephus.

"The second sale," continued the wife as she rested, "was five tin pans. Four of them leaked, and you beat me out of 19 cents beside. Here is licking No. 2."

"But I am your dear husband!" he protested as he squirmed about.

"And that's why I can lick you and dodge the law. Here goes!"
Josephus' hide was tickled again. He attempted to fight, but was taken by the hair and his head banged against the wall till he grew quiet. When the performance was over and the wife had got her breath she said:

"You sold me ten yards of calico for a dress and warranted it to wash. It was three-quarters of a yard short on the measure and the colors ran into each other." Josephus, some more horsewhip!

"I'll have you arrested for this!"
"You can't. That's what I paid $5 to make sure of. Come to time!"

And Josephus was licked for selling short weight groceries, and for charging 50 cents too much for a pair of shoes, and for selling back stockings that crooked, and when he had got his last stroke the wife said:

"Josephus, darling, I was a cousin of mine that got the $5,000, but you've got me, and here we dwell, and you do the farm work and do it well, or you'll get some more of this! The mercantile business is not for us, dear. What we want is the free air of the country, with honest prices and good measure thrown in!"

DOROTHY ARNOLD
Daughter of New York Millionaire Strangely Missing.

ARNOLDS RECEIVE TIP

Unknown Woman Believes Daughter Killed in Central Park.

New York, Jan. 30.—The police will be asked to drag the lakes of Central park for the body of Dorothy Arnold. A telephone message to the Arnold home suggested to the family a plausible explanation for her disappearance—that she had been murdered in the park while walking home after dark on the morning of Dec. 12 and was thrown into one of the lakes. It was a woman who phoned, and she told Mr. Keith that there could be no doubt that Dorothy was in Park & Tilford's store at Fifth avenue and Fifty-ninth street at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of Dec. 12. The family had assumed heretofore that Dorothy bought a box of candy at Park & Tilford's at about 1:20 p. m.

BUSY WEEK BEFORE OHIO LEGISLATORS

Senate May Decide Dean Bill's Fate Tonight.

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—This week promises to be an unusually busy one in both branches of the general assembly. In the senate the Dean bill to modify the county option law is on the calendar and if not taken up tonight will be voted on tomorrow, and in all probability passed.

Effort to get the Stockwell bill, committing Ohio to the Oregon plan of choosing United States senators, out of the committee on elections, which indefinitely postponed it last week, will be made.

It is promised that Senator Yount will introduce the telephone merger bill tonight.

If a bill which is to be presented late today by Senator Dore of Seneca county is placed upon the statute books, Ohio will do away with the Australian ballot. Dore will present the coupon ticket plan, which he claims has merits superior to the ballot that has been in use.

Under this law each party ticket is printed on separate sheets, with each name on a coupon, that is easily torn off. When a voter goes into the booth he is given all the tickets that there are and two envelopes. Into one of these he puts the slips containing names of men for whom he wishes to vote. Into the other he puts what he doesn't want. If he would vote a straight ticket he is saved the bother and inconvenience of tearing. The plan has been tried in Wisconsin.

ON TRAIL OF TREASURE

Officials Hear Captain Kidd Hid Fortune in Capitol Grounds.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The local fortune hunters who are anxious to make money without going through the formality of working for it have been encouraged by a report that Captain Kidd, the noted captain of the pirate industry of years ago, buried some of his surplus wealth in the capitol grounds here. In a letter to Elliott Woods superintendent of the capitol, an anonymous informant says that he knows the exact spot where Captain Kidd placed this money.

Mr. Woods has directed the capitol policemen to arrest all persons entering the grounds with picks, shovels or any other excavating implements.

FOOTBALL
Schedule For Kenyon Has Been Arranged

Gambler, O., Jan. 30.—Dr. Walton has the Kenyon football schedule almost completed and when the Nov. 4 date has been filled his work along that line will be at an end. It is almost certain that Kenyon will not play a Thanksgiving game next year, although a number of good offers have been made.

Oberlin and Kenyon tried to get together on a football date, but nothing came of it. However athletic relations with Oberlin will be kept up in other branches.

Buchtel is trying hard to get on Kenyon's schedule and they may possibly get the Thanksgiving date.

At a meeting of managers held today, it was decided to have more candidates for the coaching position visit here. Watson and Waters of Williams are receiving some consideration but Gray is the one best bet. The football schedule is as follows:

- Sept. 23—Practice game at Gambler.
- Sept. 30—Ohio Wesleyan at Gambler.
- Oct. 7—Reserve at Cleveland.
- Oct. 14—Allegheny at Meadville.
- Oct. 21—Case at Cleveland.
- Oct. 28—Otterbein at Gambler.
- Nov. 4—Open.
- Nov. 11—O. S. U. at Columbus.
- Nov. 18—Denison at Granville.
- Nov. 25—Wooster at Gambler.

SEVERELY INJURED

In A Fall Down The Cellar Steps Was Miss Lina Jacobs

Miss Lina Jacobs sustained a number of very painful injuries at her home on East Burgess street Sunday afternoon. She was starting down a steep flight of steps into the cellar at about three o'clock and stepped on some object on the step which caused her to lose her balance and fall. She alighted at the bottom of the stairs in such a manner that her left arm was severely sprained and her body badly bruised. A deep gash was inflicted in her chin when it came in contact with the corner of one of the steps during the fall. Dr. C. K. Conard was called to render surgical attention.

UMBRELLAS STOLEN

From The Residence Of Judge Waigt On Sunday Evening

Early Sunday evening sneak-thieves stole three valuable silk umbrellas from the porch at the residence of Judge J. B. Waigt, East High street. The police were called. The guilty parties are believed to be known and arrests will probably be avoided if the umbrellas are returned to the home of Judge Waigt.

AMERICAN BREEDERS' ASSOCIATION

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—A large attendance is promised at the annual meeting of the American Breeders' Association of Columbus this week, the sessions beginning Wednesday and continuing three days. The meeting will be held in conjunction with the National Corn Exposition which opened today. A series of lectures, illustrating the various phases of plant and animal breeding will be given. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson is the president of the association and will preside over the annual meeting.

GEORGE H. WATKINS
Stricken With Apoplexy at His Home in Portsmouth.

STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY

George H. Watkins of Board of Public Works Seriously Ill.

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—Dr. Frank L. Watkins, state registrar of vital statistics, was called to Portsmouth by the serious illness of his father, George H. Watkins, president of the Ohio state board of public works, who was stricken with apoplexy at his home in that city.

Watkins' term as president of the board will expire next month and, it is said, he was slated for the position of superintendent of Ohio's canal system. He is 53 years old.

LITTLE WORK LEFT FOR MINERS TO DO

Big Convention Will Probably Adjourn Tonight.

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—The convention of the United Mine Workers of America will, if the unforeseen does not happen, adjourn this evening.

In the discussion that followed as a result of charges of graft made by President Lewis against officers and members of Local 405 of District 5, in Pennsylvania, Vice President Van Bittner of that district asserted that the statements made by Lewis were incorrect and intimated in an address from the floor that Lewis was playing into the hands of the operators of Pennsylvania in making the graft charges. After a discussion lasting several hours the report of the committee on the president's, vice president's and secretary's reports was adopted.

A resolution calling for the division of the U. M. W. of A. into Canadian and United States divisions was promptly voted down. Another resolution condemning the county commissioners for not allowing Emma Goldman to speak in Memorial hall also was voted down.

Upon the report of the committee on constitution, delegates voted to demand every other Saturday as pay day and that no work shall be done on that day.

PRESIDENT TO HIT THE TRAIL

Will Make Two Speaking Trips Covering Many Miles.

PARTIAL ITINERARY ANNOUNCED

Lincoln Memorial Celebration at Springfield, Ill., Occupies Prominent Place on Program—Cincinnati, Columbus and Cleveland on Visiting List—In March He Will Swing Around Southern Circle and Spend Several Days in Queen City.

Washington, Jan. 30.—President Taft's schedule of spring tours is in the hands of White House officials. While the itinerary will not be so long as that of last year, the president has engagements that will take him over thousands of miles of territory and keep him away from Washington for many days at a time.

The first big trip will begin the second week in February. The president will go to Springfield, Ill., to attend the Lincoln memorial celebration. On the way he will drop off for a few hours at Columbus, O., after which he will make a quick trip over some of the trolley lines in central Illinois owned by Representative William B. McKinley. Mr. Taft is expected back in the White House by Feb. 12.

A trip which will be a little longer in point of time will begin March 8, when the president will leave Washington for Atlanta, where he will speak before the Southern Commercial congress. From Atlanta the president will go northward through Tennessee to Cincinnati, his native city. He will stop at Nashville and Chattanooga, and possibly at other southern cities. The president will remain in Cincinnati three or four days and will then make a short trip to Cleveland. From Cleveland he is expected to return to Washington. He will be gone at least one week on this trip.

WILL RE-ELECT SENATORS

West Virginia Democrats and Republicans Reach Agreement.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 30.—The differences between the Democratic and Republican members of the senate have been settled by an agreement which provides that the Republicans are to unite with the Democrats in another election of United States senators to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the term of Senator Nathan B. Scott and the late Senator Stephen B. Elkins. William Chilton and Clarence Watson have already been chosen for these places by the Democrats. There has been some question as to whether Chilton and Watson were legally elected, and the purpose of holding another election is to make certain that there will be no legal objection to the members from this state being seated by the United States senate.

The agreement further provides that the Republicans are to be given the president of the senate, one of the chief questions which they had been holding out for. Dr. H. H. Hildreth of McDowell was chosen for this place. It also provides that Senator Hearne, whose seat is disputed, should be seated until a committee appointed to investigate the merits of the case should make a report.

BATTLE FOR RED FLAG

New York Police Club Anarchists Into Submission.

New York Jan. 30.—In a battle with policemen, more than 1,000 anarchists and sympathizers were put to rout at Broadway and Leonard street. The anarchists, wild with enthusiasm over a turbulent mass meeting, were on their way to the Japanese consulate to protest against the hanging in Japan of Dr. Denjairo Kotoku, his wife and 10 students. The fight reached its climax when, after Police Captain Hodgins and the reserves of two stations had charged, 10 policemen wrestled with the mob for possession of the red flag which had waved at the head of the procession. A score of men and women were felled with clubs and revolvers before the policemen captured the flag and arrested five of the marchers.

GOES AFTER DETRACTOR

King George Causes Arrest of Newspaper Correspondent.

London, Jan. 30.—On Wednesday, before Lord Chief Justice Alverstone and a special jury, the libel suit of King George against Edward F. Mylius, representing the Paris Liberator, growing out of the publication of the rumors that his majesty, when Prince of Wales, was organically married to a daughter of an admiral at Malta, will come up for hearing. Mylius is out on $100,000 bond.

According to a statement in the Liberator, the defendants intend to fight on a plea of justification and to subpoena the king as a witness. The constitutional law, however, makes it impossible for his majesty to give evidence in his own courts, notwithstanding he may be asked to do so.

SEEKING RECALL OF SEATTLE'S MAYOR

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 30.—This city today became the scene of the legal skirmishing in connection with the fight that is being waged by the Seattle reformers to bring about the recall of Mayor Hiram C. Hill of that city. In the United States circuit court of appeals the case of Frank H. Scobey and others against City Comptroller W. J. Brothwell of Seattle, to enjoin the payment of warrants issued to defray the expenses of the special election called for February 7 to vote on the Mayor's recall, came up for argument. The suit was brought to test the legality of the special election. The outcome of the fight is awaited with keen interest, owing largely to the fact that the contest is the only one of its kind in the history of American municipalities, with the exception of that which resulted in the recall of the mayor of Los Angeles several years ago. Los Angeles was the first city to insert the "recall" provision in its charter and the success with which it was employed there has led to its adoption by many other cities during the past few years.

LEGISLATIVE BRIBERY CASES

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 30.—The cases of S. C. Pemberton and Joseph S. Clark, two members of the Illinois legislature who are accused with former State Senator D. W. Holstlaw of conspiracy to commit bribery, were called for trial today in the Sangamon circuit court. The two legislators are charged with having demanded sums varying from $1,000 and $1,500 from firms competing for the contract to install new desks and chairs in the senate and house chambers of the capitol. This is the second trial of the accused. The first trial was held last November and resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

INTERNATIONAL SKATING RACES

Boston, Mass., Jan. 30.—The New England Skating Association has completed arrangements for a notable international race meeting to be pulled off tomorrow night at the Boston Arena. Nearly all the speedy skaters who have been appearing in the circuit meet this winter will take part. Among them will be Edmund Lamy, the American champion, Fred Logan of St. John's, Russell Wheeler of Montreal, Fred Roberson and Lot Roe of Toronto, A. G. Anderson of Chicago, Carl Ahereth of St. Louis and Charles Fisher of Milwaukee.
